CALCUTTA THE 10TH FEBRUARY 1920.

RESOLUTION—No. 588P.J.

On the 3rd July 1918 a resolution was moved in the Bengal Legislative Council by the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri, recommending that a committee should be appointed to consider the desirability of legislative action to discourage professional beggary in the different provincial municipalities. The resolution was withdrawn on the assurance that a preliminary enquiry would be made from those interested in the subject with a view to ascertaining some more definite data as to whether professional beggary was assuming serious proportions, and as to the best lines of "grappling" with it. It was added that, if the results showed that there was room for further enquiry, it would be undertaken.

A general reference was accordingly made to those most likely to have knowledge of the question, and replies have now been received. Since their receipt some time has been lost in ascertaining whether it would be practicable to take a census, through the police, of the mendicant population of Calcutta, but it appears unlikely that, without an elaborate organisation, any sufficiently accurate results would be forthcoming, and with the regular census of 1921 impending it would seem sufficient to await the enumeration which will then be effected.

2. The general trend of opinion in the mufassil municipalities is to the effect that professional mendicancy has not increased in recent years, or as yet attained such dimensions as to justify any special remedial measures, and that view the local Government would be prepared to accept. The whole problem of effective organised effort to cope with the prevalence of begging is still novel in this country, as there is common agreement that the enforcement of such legal penal provisions as obtain has achieved but little. There is also general recognition of the difficulties which surround the question. Hence it will facilitate a solution to concentrate attention upon that area in which the matter has assumed most prominence and in which there are the greatest facilities for dealing with it. That area is, of course, Calcutta.

3. With few exceptions (though noticeably among them are the British Indian Association and the Commissioner of the Presidency Division), the weight of opinion is clearly to the effect that professional begging in Calcutta is on the increase, though a wish for more exact figures is expressed in more than one quarter. The difficulty of obtaining these at the moment has been already mentioned, but whatever the precise numerical total, the majority are agreed that it is sufficiently large to justify the taking of special action. Among the majority are to be found the Calcutta Corporation (which, in its turn made a fairly extended enquiry), the District Charitable Society, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, the Social Study Society, the Chief Presidency Magistrate and Commissioner Booth Tucker.

4. In the suggestion of remedies opinion has apparently been largely influenced by action taken recently in Bombay and Ceylon. A succinct account of this is given in a report of a special committee of the Corporation, from which the following quotation is made :

* The proposals which have been adopted by the Corporation of Bombay and have been submitted to Government are—

- (i) To establish a refuge, an infirmary and a work-house.
- (ii) To pass a Vagrancy Act applicable to particular areas in the first instance, but liable to extension to any area in the Presidency at the discretion of Government, and containing provisions—
 - (a) enabling the Magistrate to send a vagrant on second conviction to a work-house if he is able-bodied, or to an alms-house or an infirmary, if he is disabled ;
 - (b) exempting religious mendicants ;
 - (c) allotting a portion of the expenses of working the Act to the Bombay Corporation and other municipalities, the contribution of the former being determined on the same principles on which other municipalities are called upon to contribute towards poor relief from local rates. It is proposed that the cost of maintenance of foreign beggars should be borne by the district from which they hail.

* Under the Ceylon Vagrancy Ordinance, beggars are arrested by the police by whom they are brought before a Magistrate. If the Magistrate declares them to be vagrants, they are taken by the police to the house of detention which is under police control. The vagrants are here sorted and medically examined. Those who are feeble, sick and aged are passed on to the home for vagrants which is in charge of the Salvation Army. Those who are able-bodied are either sent to the tea estates and other places of employment (persons refusing to work being liable to imprisonment), or are made to sign an agreement to leave Ceylon and not to return for five years, and are removed from the island, if they fail to do so. The cost of the upkeep of the home for vagrants is borne equally between the Colombo Municipal Council and the Ceylon Government. Other towns which send vagrants to the home pay the cost of their vagrants. Priests and pilgrims who are required to gather alms, or who are prohibited from working for their livelihood, by their religion or order or in the performance of any religious vow or obligation, are exempted from the operation of the Ordinance."

5. Following these lines there is practical unanimity (and to this extent only the British Indian Association also concurs) that an infirmary, home or refuge should be established for the disabled poor—the halt, the maimed and the blind, who are prevented by physical disability from earning a living and who are without friends or relatives to support them. Lepers would come within this category (though in their case there are additional reasons for preventing their association with the general community), but their treatment is under separate consideration and is best regarded as a special case.

There is also, seemingly, a general consensus of opinion (though some have dealt with the point in greater detail than others) that arrangements on the lines of industrial schools (either combined with or separate from the infirmary) are required for the reclaiming of beggar children, so that they can be taught some form of labour likely to enable them hereafter to maintain themselves.

As regards the able-bodied loafer who can work but will not work, there is agreement that he deserves more drastic treatment than he now gets, and the majority would give this in a house of detention or workhouse. The Corporation, looking to the many demands for labour that are available, thinks that (at any rate at first) it would suffice to penalise such men by enhancing the maximum term of imprisonment which may be awarded to them to six months, the theory being, presumably, that in the face of a deterrent punishment they would seek work of their own accord (with such assistance as the prison authorities may be able to give them).

For the aged, respectable poor, the Trades Association would favour an alms-house, but others, though referring, in some instances, to the case of bhadralok poverty, have not suggested any specific provision therefor.

6. To meet the cost of any such institution, three sources of revenue are mentioned, namely, grants from the State, contributions from the Corporation and private generosity, and to these recourse is suggested in varying degrees. Thus the British Indian Association would build a refuge by private effort, supplemented by Government, and have it maintained by the Government and the Corporation in equal proportions: the Trades Association regards the construction and up-keep of a refuge and workhouse as an obligation of the State, the Corporation maintaining an alms-house out of the proceeds of a poor rate. The Chamber of Commerce, though not finally committing themselves, seems to favour the Bombay scheme of dividing the cost between Government and the different municipalities concerned; the District Charitable Society advocates the division of the cost between Government and the Corporation, and the latter body, while accepting one-third of the expenditure, would leave the balance to the State, basing their recommendation on the relative proportion of strictly Calcutta poor and those who drift into the city from outside.

7. Such, in brief, is the upshot of the definite proposals which have reached the local Government, and in the opinion of the Governor in Council they point to the conclusion that some action in Calcutta is required; that developments should be effected gradually, making a beginning with the institutions most urgently required and being guided by the experience gained: and that, preferably, whatever the incidence of cost, the agency of management (other than of a workhouse, which seems to be primarily the affair of the police) should not be Governmental. (The Chamber of Commerce would entrust control to the Salvation Army.)

In this view, the Governor in Council would like to see a beginning made with a scheme for (1) an infirmary, and (2) an industrial school (either separately or in conjunction) leaving the rest to wait, and he proposes to appoint a committee to work out practical details on these lines. An appropriate constitution of such a committee would be three members nominated by the Corporation, one member (three in all) nominated each by the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association and the British Indian Association, and three members selected by Government from those interested in philanthropic work. Government might also conveniently nominate a chairman, and the public bodies concerned will now be addressed on these lines.

The recent correspondence will afford a nucleus for the committee's deliberations, although in their further procedure they will be left a free hand.

The terms of reference to them would embrace the elaboration of practical proposals for dealing with the problem of professional mendicancy in Calcutta. While the present resolution may afford them some assistance in their proceedings, they need not consider themselves bound by it or confined within its prima facie conclusions. But in any report submitted the Governor in Council would like to find specific recommendations formulating—

- (a) the nature of any institutions to be started ;
- (b) their location, size and probable cost (capital and recurring) ;
- (c) the incidence of the expenditure involved (including in particular the question of contributions by outside local bodies) ;
- (d) the agency of control ;
- (e) the lines of legislation which may be required (if any). (A useful suggestion of the Calcutta Corporation contemplates the punishment of those who employ children to beg and live upon their earnings) ;
- (f) the treatment of religious mendicants (though there seems to be general agreement that these should be exempted, notwithstanding the risk of the unscrupulous falsely assuming this garb. The Corporation, on the other hand, think that as the religious mendicant ordinarily begs from house to house, he need not be exempted from any measures aimed at the suppression of street begging).

ORDER.—Ordered that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information, and that the different public bodies indicated above be addressed regarding the nomination of members to the committee suggested.

By Order of the Governor in Council,

H. L. STEPHENSON,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1919.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Land Revenue.

CALCUTTA, THE 13TH FEBRUARY, 1920.

RESOLUTION—No. 1719L.R.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending the 30th September, 1919.

DURING the year under review no new district was brought under survey, but settlement operations were commenced in the district of Nadia. Both the Survey and Settlement Departments continued to work with three parties in accordance with the curtailed programme temporarily adopted as a measure of economy during the war. Steps have, however, been already taken to revert to the full programme with four survey parties in the current year and consequently four settlement parties in the ensuing year.

2. The main programme of the Survey Department lay in the traverse survey of an area of 2,611 square miles in the districts of Bankura, Nadia and Jessore including the riverain areas of the district of Nadia and of the neighbouring portions of Hooghly, Burdwan, Murshidabad and the 24-Parganas down to the Jubilee Bridge at Naihati. One survey party dealt with an area of 777 square miles falling in thanas Gangajalghati, Bankura and Onda in the district of Bankura. Another survey party completed the traverse of 1,185 square miles in Nadia and the diara areas on the river Bhagirathi mentioned above. The third survey party traversed an area of 649 square miles in thanas Maheshpur, Bongaon, Gaihatta and Sarsa in the district of Jessore.

3. Eight hundred and thirty-two thousand one hundred and twenty-six copies of maps were prepared during the year. Satisfactory progress was made in the production of large scale (4") jurisdiction maps in the districts of Noakhali, Tippora and Rajshahi, but the production of small scale jurisdiction maps generally requires acceleration. Progress was also made in the preparation of comparative maps in diara areas. The Survey Department had in hand a substantial programme of miscellaneous surveys and mapping comprising the survey of the Howrah Municipality and of scattered areas in various parts of the Presidency. A special demarcation of the Nadia rivers has been undertaken in connection with recent proposals for watching these rivers and their effect on the river Hooghly.

4. No district kanungoes were sent for training to the Government Survey School, near Comilla; but three candidates for such posts received their training in the school. The number of students admitted into the school was 51 against 28 in the preceding year.

5. Major settlement operations were in progress in the districts of Midnapore, Mymensingh, Rajshahi, Tippora, Noakhali, Jessore, Bankura and Nadia. Two settlement parties were fully employed in the districts of Jessore and Bankura; one settlement party was divided between the joint operations in the districts of Tippora and Noakhali and the operations in Nadia; in the remaining districts only the staff necessary for the concluding stages of a settlement was employed. Altogether 2,375 square miles were cadastrally surveyed as against 2,517 in the previous year. Records for 2,024 square miles were attested and final records for 2,098 square miles were prepared, against 1,676 and 3,142 square miles, respectively, in the previous year. Minor operations were continued in the districts of Howrah, Hooghly, the 34 Parganas, Khulna, Mymensingh, Faridpur and Dinajpur; altogether records for about 31 square miles were finally published in these operations. The total area for which a record-of-rights has now been completed in this Presidency amounts to 32,132 square miles out of an area of about 55,960 square miles to which the Bengal Tenancy Act applies, that is to say, nearly one-half of that area.

6. In Midnapore the arrears of statistics, preparation of 16-inch maps and printing of records were all completed. Good progress was made in the main item of the year's programme which is the last stage of the operations, viz., the disposal of cases; only a comparatively small number of cases is now pending for disposal. The proceedings for the settlement of rents under section 112 of the Bengal Tenancy Act in pargana Silda were confirmed by the Government of India, and the new rents came into effect from the Amli year commencing on the 7th September, 1919. The settlement proceedings in this district are almost complete.

7. The principal items of work remaining in Mymensingh consisted of a few arrears of printing, computation and recovery and case-work. The programme of diara resumption proceedings covered nearly 418 new estates, of which 50 with a total land revenue demand of Rs. 13,082 were completed. With the exception of the balance of this programme the settlement work is practically finished in this district.

8. In the district of Rajshahi, progress in all stages, except that of case-work, was in advance of the programme. In the final stage of case-work the total number of tenancies dealt with under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was 40,730; the result was an increase of the rent of raiyats by 18 per cent. and of tenure-holders by 34 per cent. A heavy programme of diara resumption proceedings has protracted the final stages into the current settlement year.

9. Performance was well ahead of the programme in Tippera and Noakhali in all the stages subsequent to and including attestation, except in respect of recovery and case-work. The arrears in these two stages are due to the postponement of recovery in Brahmanbaria thana twice on account of floods and economic distress in that subdivision. The total area under resettlement of land revenue was 318 square miles.

10. In Jessore and Bankura, only the intermediate stages of the operations have been reached. The main items of the programme in Bankura were 968 square miles of attestation in the first block and 797 square miles of cadastral survey and field bujharat (field-to-field verification of the map and record) in the second block. Attestation was easily completed, but the programme in the second block, which also includes the industrial subdivision of Asansol in the district of Burdwan, was finished only after a severe struggle which told heavily upon the health and energy of the staff. The settlement staff were faced with both difficulties caused by outbreaks of fever and influenza and difficulties in securing labour. Steps were taken to resume all unresumed ghatwali lands in the district of Bankura.

11. In Jessore the programme comprised 656 square miles of cadastral survey and preliminary record-writing, 936 square miles of field bujharat and 812 square miles of attestation. This included arrears from the previous year. Apart from the notoriously unhealthy climate of the district the main difficulty of the work lay in its bulk; 16½ lakhs of plots were dealt with during field bujharat and 6½ lakhs of interests during attestation. In spite of these difficulties the whole programme was completed.

* 12. Settlement operations were commenced in the district of Nadia and the adjoining riverain areas. In this area too the staff had to combat with sickness. Altogether 953 square miles were surveyed in the year, of which 94 square miles lay on the west bank of the Bhagirathi. The area is remarkable for the large number of tenancies described in the landlords' records as utbandi. Preliminary enquiries were made into the incidents of these tenancies, and it was found that they comprised many different grades and classes, all of which could not be real utbandi. The nature of these tenancies will be recorded during attestation in the current year. Government have recently had occasion to deal again with the principles on which such tenancies should be recorded, but they have found no justification for departing from the principles which were adopted in 1917 after much deliberation and consultation with the legal advisers of Government, including the then Advocate-General. The rules based on these principles, it may be observed, inflict no hardship on the landlord who is content to accept along with the conveniences of the utbandi system its attendant inconveniences.

13. In Mymensingh, Bankura and Nadia the expenditure was kept well within the sanctioned estimates, but the expenditure exceeded the estimates in other districts. In Midnapore the excess, which is due to the institution of a large number of cases, is more than compensated for by the excess in receipts. In Rajshahi the increase in expenditure was accounted for by the fact that performance was ahead of the programme. In Tippera-Noakhali the work done was also largely in excess of the sanctioned programme; on the total estimate a considerable saving is expected. On the other hand, in Jessore, the numbers of plots and interests were found to be so much in excess of what was anticipated that in this district it is expected that the original estimate for the whole operations will be largely exceeded. A fresh estimate has been called for.

14. Two schemes for the maintenance of records are in operation, viz., one in the Fatehsingh estate belonging to the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad and the other introduced during the year in the 10-annas share of the Mathurapur estate in the district of Malda. In both estates the proprietors have been granted the privilege of collecting rents through the medium of the certificate procedure. The expenditure in these operations was within the sanctioned estimates; and the work, except for the unsatisfactory attendance of parties, proceeded smoothly and quickly.

15. The report of the Director of Land Records contains a gratifying account of the steady increase in the popularity of the settlement records and maps. No less than 14 lakhs of copies of khatians and nearly 17,000 copies of maps were sold to the public.

16. Mr. C. A. O'Donel held charge of the Bengal Survey Department until Major F. C. Hirst, I.A., returned from military duty and resumed charge of the Department on the 31st March, 1919. Mr. W. H. Nelson, I.C.S., officiated as Director of Land Records till the 5th November, 1918 and Mr. F. A. Sachse, I.C.S., was in charge of the Department for the rest of the year. The Governor in Council has much pleasure in acknowledging the services rendered by these officers. The good work of these officers and of those mentioned in the last two paragraphs of the survey and settlement reports will be noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy of it, together with copies of the two reports, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council,

M. C. McALPIN,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Third and Final Report on the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1919-20.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1917-18, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 19·1 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—The second forecast issued in December last included a review of weather conditions up to the end of October 1919. The rainfall in the middle of November, though somewhat retarding the harvesting of the early crop, proved beneficial to the late transplanted paddy. The subsequent dry weather has been favourable for harvesting.

Acresage.—The area figures are now returned at 15,606,100 acres, as against 15,551,400 in the second, and 15,895,800 in the final, forecast of last year. The increase of 54,700 acres over the figures of the second forecast is due mainly to the revision of estimates in Midnapore.

Outturn.—From the district returns appended, it will be seen that Bankura, Malda and Bakarganj report more than a normal crop, and Darjeeling a normal one. Sixteen districts report a crop between 92 and 80 per cent., and six between 75 and 67 per cent., while Chittagong Hill Tracts reports as low as 56 per cent. In Murshidabad, Jessore, Darjeeling, Rajshahi, Bogra, Bakarganj, Chittagong, Noakhali and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, a better crop has been harvested than was expected, when the second forecast was issued; but in Khulna, Hooghly, Howrah, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Pabna and Faridpur the outturn falls below the previous estimates. There has been no change in the remaining districts. On the basis of the above figures, the provincial outturn works out to 89 per cent. of the normal, against 72 per cent. in the final report for the last year.

Accepting 90 per cent. as a fair estimate for the province, the gross yield of cleaned grain from the winter rice crop, on the basis of a normal yield of $12\frac{1}{2}$ mds. per acre, amounts to 128,989,200 cwts., against 105,106,900 cwts. reported in the final forecast of last year. This is equivalent to an increase of about 23 per cent.

Third and Final Report on the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1919-20.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	Estimated area under winter rice.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year (1918-19).	This year (1919-20).	Last year.	This year.
	Acre ^s .	Acre ^s .	Acre ^s .
24-Parganas ...	1,041,500	898,200	825,100	83	92	November. Normal.	Slight damage was done to the crop owing to excessive rainfall in the Sadir and Diamond Harbour subdivisions. Want of timely rainfall damaged the crop on high lands in Baraset subdivision. Unusual heavy rainfall in the Basirhat subdivision damaged to some extent the plants in the Sunderbans tracts owing to breaches in the embankments. Hence the outturn is below normal.
Nadia ...	138,600	135,600	130,100	88	67	November to December. Normal.	The increase in area sown is due to the favourable weather at the sowing time. The outturn is much below the normal owing to damage done by drought.
Murshidabad ...	351,400*	326,300	318,700	58	83	November. Normal.	Drought adversely affected the crop. The rainfall in November last, however, improved the situation somewhat.
Jessore ...	568,100	462,300	455,500	67	88	Doitto ...	The cyclone of September caused much damage to the crop in the Narail subdivision. Insect-pests affected the crop in Bongong and Magura subdivisions.
Khulna ...	826,200	784,100	703,900*	85	83	Doitto ...	The outturn has fallen below normal owing to the damage caused by the cyclone.
Burdwan ...	874,800	700,000	736,000	66	75	Middle of November to the beginning of December. Normal.	Insufficient rainfall in the latter part of September and in October considerably reduced the outturn of the late transplanted crop. The weather was not favourable except in Asansol and in parts of the Katwa subdivisions. The rainfall in November did some harm.
Birbhum ...	604,600	601,500	601,500	67	92	Beginning of December. Normal.	The weather was fairly good.
Bankura ...	510,800	520,000	525,000	62½	125	Second week of November. Normal.	Insufficient rainfall in the latter part of September and in October affected the crop on high lands in parts of the district. Abundant and seasonable rainfall in the earlier months did great good to the crop.
Midnapore ...	1,537,100	1,848,000	1,549,200*	60	83	First week of December. Normal.	Want of rainfall in October adversely affected the growth of crops.
Hooghly ...	276,700	198,800	206,400	73	70	Scrampur and Arambag—End of November. Early Sagar—December. Normal.	Insufficient rainfall affected the crop seriously. The outturn is much below the normal owing to long continued drought.

Dinajpur ...	1,120,300	1,019,100	1,029,000	57½	80	Middle of November. Normal.	Owing to the weather being not favourable the outturn is below the normal.
Jalpaiguri ...	554,300*	497,400	* 417,500	65	75	First week of December. Normal.	The outturn is below the normal owing to unfavourable weather and want of sufficient rainfall at the time of transplantation. Some damage was done to the crop by drought.
Darjeeling ...	65,200	25,900	25,600*	92	100	Doitto ...	The weather was good on the whole.
Haugpur ...	222,300	674,000	600,000	69	75	End of November. Normal.	The outturn is much below normal owing to drought in August.
Bogra ...	303,000	450,000	447,000	44	90	Doitto ...	The weather was favourable up to the third week of October, but continued absence of rain since then has done injury to the late transplanted paddy. URGENT ORDERS.

The Board of Trade, Import and Export Section, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Export Licence Department the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, care of Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from Territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments, the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1-3) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller-General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W.-1.

No. 1363-J.—The following extract from the "Board of Trade Journal," dated the 15th January 1920, is published for general information :—

GOVERNMENT NOTICES AFFECTING TRADE.

EXPORT SECTION.

CONDITION UNDER WHICH TRADING IS PERMISSIBLE WITH CERTAIN COUNTRIES.

The Board of Trade have issued the following instructions (Cmd. 512, price 1d.), dealing with trading conditions with certain countries as a result of the ratification of the Peace Treaty :—

The following notes on trading conditions as affected by the raising of the blockade, the authorisation of the resumption of trade with Germany and other countries, and the removal of United Kingdom import restrictions, are published for the information of British traders. These notes supersede those published in July and September last as Parliamentary Returns "Cmd. 274" and "Cmd. 350."

During the war it was necessary to prohibit all trading with the enemy, but the necessity for this prohibition has now ceased. It is no part of the policy of His Majesty's Government to discourage British traders from competing in the markets of the late enemy countries, and it is desirable that British traders should make every effort to secure a proper footing in Central Europe.

I.—GERMANY.

Exports.—Any goods may be sent to Germany without licence, except goods on Lists "A" and "B" of prohibited exports. Applications for export licences in respect of goods included in those Lists should be addressed to the Imports and Exports Licensing Section, 22, Carlisle Place, Westminster, S. W. 1.

Imports.—Any goods may be imported from Germany, and paid for, without licence except goods whose importation from all foreign countries is prohibited. The import prohibitions established during the war by means of Royal Proclamations issued under Section 43 of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, a list of which, so far as they remained in force after 1st September 1919, was published in Parliamentary Paper Cmd. 454, have been temporarily suspended pending either reversal of Mr. Justice Sankey's judgment or legislative action to secure powers to impose a limited number of restrictions. Importers, however, should clearly understand that, in the event of these powers being conferred by Parliament, or in the event of the judgment being reversed on appeal, licences to import restricted goods will not be granted merely on the ground that the goods had been ordered between the date of the judgment and that of the re-establishment of the restrictions, but will be based solely on consideration of the reasonable requirements of the country.

Other transactions.—Other transactions of a commercial or financial nature with firms in Germany are permissible without further licence, provided they do not involve any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) The payment or receipt of money arising out of pre-war transactions;
- (b) The delivery of or dealing with property held in this country for persons in Germany since before the outbreak of war;
- (c) The transfer of securities by or on behalf of a person in Germany;
- (d) The allotment or transfer of securities issued by a Company to or for the benefit of a German subject;
- (e) The transfer of any debt or other obligation due to a person in Germany, arising out of pre-war transactions.

It should, of course, be understood that, as regards the financing of transactions, traders must make the best arrangements they can, and, in the case of uncertainty as to the best mode of procedure, they should consult their bankers.

Money due to or property acquired by German nationals as a result of transactions entered into since the resumption of trade with Germany was authorised are not liable to sequestration in this country.

II.—TURKEY, BULGARIA AND THE TERRITORIES PREVIOUSLY INCLUDED IN THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN DOMINIONS.

The British regulations are the same as those set out above in the case of Germany except that the collection of debts owed by persons or firms in these territories is allowed.

III.—NORWAY, SWEDEN, DENMARK, HOLLAND AND SWITZERLAND.

It is no longer necessary to obtain certificates from Importing Associations in these countries, or to procure other forms of guarantee, or to consign goods to such Associations Export licences, for which application should be made to the Imports and Exports Licensing Section at the address given above, are required only for goods on Lists "A" and "B" of prohibited exports.

IV.—POLAND, FINLAND, ESTHONIA, LETTLAND, LITHUANIA.

So far as British regulations are concerned, there are no special restrictions on trade with these countries, but as in the case of other foreign countries, export licences are required for goods on Lists "A" and "B" and general prohibitions of import apply to these as to other countries.

Consular Certificates of Origin and Interest.—These certificates are no longer required for goods imported into this country.

Declarations of Ultimate Destination and Disclosure of Names of Consignees.—These declarations will no longer be required to be made in respect of exports from the United Kingdom, and disclosure of the name of the consignee on Bills of Lading or Shipping Manifests is unnecessary, except in a limited number of cases where the Imports and Exports Licensing Section may continue to specify on an export licence the name of the consignee.

NOTE.—The above statements deal only with such regulations as are in force in the United Kingdom. Traders should also have regard to the restrictions on imports and exports in operation in foreign countries. Information on this subject may be obtained from the Department of Overseas Trade, 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S.W.1. and 73, Basinghall Street, London, E.C.2, and is published from time to time, as received, in the "Board of Trade Journal."

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF INSPECTOR OF FACTORIES, BENGAL.
Prosecution under the Indian Factories Act.

BEFORE the Subdivisional Officer at Barrackpore, the proprietors of several Rice Mills within the 24-Parganas were prosecuted under the Indian Factories Act and fines ranging from Rs. 20 to Rs. 50 were imposed for non-compliance with section 33 of the Act.

To whom it may concern.

In accordance with this Government, Commerce Department, notification No. 3233Com., dated the 25th August 1916, the provisions of the Indian Factories Act, 1911, will apply to every factory situated within the town of Calcutta and the districts of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, wherein not less than 20 persons are, on any day, simultaneously employed. It has been brought to the notice of this Department that, although the notification was issued in 1916, a large number of factories within the areas have not yet submitted their notices as required by section 33 of the Indian Factories Act.

In most cases, when called upon to explain why particular factories have not been registered, the occupier or manager has invariably pleaded ignorance of the requirements of the Indian Factories Act and of the notification quoted above.

It is notified for general information that if any factory be found unregistered which would, in accordance with notification No. 3233Com., dated 25th August 1916, be registered as a factory, the occupier and manager may be jointly and severally prosecuted for breach of section 33 of the Act.

welfare of the country depends on It may be that there will be an the present Act gives us before, but that will not be unusual—be not unreasonable. My Lord, ho sea and say unto them 'Thus far shalt thou go and no further and here shalt thy proud waves be staid.' A new spirit has dawned upon the country—why, it has dawned upon the world. The new idea of Nationality has caught hold of the educated mind in this country and has convulsed society here and in the Continent of Europe. Phenomenal rise of Japan in the Far East and the destruction of the military autocracies—even of the Holy Roman Empire in the west like a house of cards—have given an electric shock to the old-world ideas and beliefs. It is not necessary for me to point out or to reiterate that the new Act is a step towards responsible government. The trusted leaders of the people, sincere friends and well-wishers of India, are unanimous in that opinion. Captain Ormsby-Gore, one of the members of the Joint Committee of Parliament, says, 'There is a new conception of Empire, and India's march towards the status of a self-governing dominion, away from the status of a Dependency, has begun.' We, therefore, welcome the measure and convey to His Imperial Majesty our heartfelt gratitude for having given his Royal assent to it.

The Proclamation gives amnesty to political prisoners and His Majesty's words cannot fail to give rise to sincere feelings of gratitude, not only to the public but to the political prisoners themselves. It is needless to say that the Reforms Act without the amnesty would have fallen flat on the country. His Majesty says, 'It is my earnest desire at this time that so far as possible any trace of bitterness between my people and those who are responsible for my government should be obliterated. Let those who in their eagerness for political progress have broken the law in the past respect it in the future. Let it become possible for those who are charged with the maintenance of peaceful and orderly government to forget extravagances they have had to curb. A new era is opening. Let it begin with a common determination among my people and my officers to work together for a common purpose.' We hope and trust that those to whom these words have been addressed will carry them out in the spirit in which they are intended.

By the Proclamation, His Imperial Majesty has given assent to the establishment of a Chamber of Princes. Though we on this side of India are not very much interested in these Indian States, still the establishment of a Chamber of Princes has a political significance for the whole of India. To me personally it is highly gratifying as I advocated the establishment of such a chamber so far back as the year 1888 in my 'History of the Native States of India'. On the 1st January 1877 on the historic plain of Delhi a 'Council of the Empire' was created. It was stated on that memorable occasion that the object of establishing this Imperial Council was to associate the Indian Princes with the government of the Empire in a manner honourable to themselves and advantageous to the public interests. The Council has remained a paper Council ever since. A Council of this nature is urgently needed to place the relations between the Paramount Power and its great feudatories on an altogether new, superior and better footing. By their loyal and devoted services during the war they have established their claims to have a chamber of their own, and His Imperial Majesty has in justice to their services given them a chamber to which they were entitled."

The Hon'ble Dr. Suhrawardy said:—

"My Lord, I rise to give my wholehearted support to the resolution moved by my friend the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.

Resolutions.Dr. Suhrawardy.

My Lord, any Royal Proclamation issued at any time by any sovereign for the welfare of his people is bound to fire their imagination and enthusiasm and awaken in their breasts sentiments of the deepest loyalty and of profound gratitude, and, my Lord, former rulers of this historic country in ages gone by have signified on historic and memorable occasions by the promulgation of Charters and Proclamations their sentiments of love and affection for their people. But the Proclamation of His Imperial Majesty George V stands pre-eminent, by the circumstances and occasion of its promulgation and the character of its contents, above all the Charters and Proclamations of the world. It stands unique amongst the literature of its kind. I venture to say that one will seek in vain in the archives of the world for a royal document which can bear comparison with the Proclamation of the King-Emperor in the nobility of its sentiments, the loftiness of its ideals and the generous policy of government foreshadowed for the future. When I say this, I do not forget the edicts of Asoka, the firmans of Firoze Shah and the institutes of Jehangir, edicts, charters, and institutes issued by sovereigns imbued with high and humane ideals for the welfare of their subjects. Nor do I forget the great Charters of English History. The Proclamation, my Lord, has been described as the Magna Charta of India. But we should remember that it is not a charter wrung from a sovereign in a moment of panic or under pressure of adverse circumstances. It is a Proclamation promulgated after careful consideration and due deliberation by the mightiest Emperor of the world—the only Emperor in the West to-day—to his subjects in the East, in the plenitude of his power, in the height of his glory, by the Head of an Empire which has emerged victorious and triumphant from a world-wide war which has foundered empires and overturned the thrones of Tsars and Kaisers and of lesser kings. As to its character and contents, the Proclamation embodies the loftiest ideals of statesmanship and kingship expressed in noble language. My Lord, the Proclamation is characterised as a message of hope and inspiration. It is undoubtedly a message of hope, but it is much more. Let us pause for a moment and analyse its contents. It recounts the measures passed by Parliament for the better government of India culminating with the Act which has now become law. It reminds us of the sentiments of affection and devotion towards India of His Majesty and his predecessors and of the Royal Proclamations issued by them. It tells us how the desire after political responsibility has resulted from the British contact with India and how the beginnings of responsible government were laid many years ago and how the scope has been extended stage by stage till now there lies before us a definite step on the road to responsible government. It points out the need of mutual forbearance between all sections and races of the people of India and for co-operation for the common good in sinking unessential differences. It further announces the exercise of the Royal clemency to political offenders.

Now, My Lord, the announcement of the 20th August has been vindicated. The Reforms are an accomplished fact. The Royal clemency has been exercised by the Viceroy on behalf of His Majesty in the fullest measure. Thus the Proclamation is not merely a pledge, a promise, a pious hope, it is the fulfilment of a promise, the redemption of a pledge, the realisation of our hopes. The Sovereign has demonstrated his sovereignty in a just and generous manner. It is now for the subjects to give proofs of their allegiance. A solemn and sacred obligation is laid on our shoulders. Let not our gratitude and loyalty end with the mere effervescence of words. Let us prove by deeds the depth and intensity of our loyalty. My Lord, I frankly confess that I was amongst those who were not in love with many features of the Reforms Scheme. In this very Council Chamber I voiced the dissatisfaction of the Moslem community at the place accorded to them under the Montagu-Chelmsford Report. But now that the Act is passed and the Sovereign bids us to observe mutual forbearance for the success of this great experiment, let the voice of dissatisfaction and discontent be hushed in silence. Time was when difference of race and religion might have been urged as an obstacle in the way of cordial co-operation. The greatest and mightiest of Moslem monarchs dreamt the dream of building up an Indian nation, and strove hard both by example and precept for the realization of his dream. He lived to see his dream shattered and died of a broken heart. The hapless Prince Dara, who dared dream the dream of his illustrious grandfather, had to pay with his blood the penalty of his boldness and broadminded sympathy with the Hindus.

But now, despite the holocausts of Arrah and Katarnpur the air resounds with the cry of Hindu-Moslem unity. The unrest and ferment born of the impact of Britain and India is seeking to find rest in the formation of an Indian nation. But let not the nationalists forget that the India of to-day is not the India of Hindus and Moslems alone, but it is the India of Hindus, Moslems and Christians. Let the inheritors of the civilization and culture of Asoka and Vikramaditya, of Akbar and Shah Jehan—Hindus and Moslems—rise to the height of the occasion and united in a bond of indissoluble brotherhood work in unison, harmony and cordial co-operation with the great British people, the greatest friends of freedom, the members of the freest empire in the world. Let the Britisher also realise his share in the creation of the desire in Indian minds for political freedom and let him not look upon Indian political leaders as his enemies. In the words of the Urdu poet—

• یہ آپ لائیں ہیں مغرب سے سول آزادی بنائیں ایسی عمارت کہ پایدار رہے •

You yourselves have brought this flood of freedom from the West Lay, therefore, the foundation of your empire and the fabric of your constitution deep in the hearts of the people, so that they may endure for ever.

My Lord, with understanding and sympathy and cordial co-operation the Zion of our Hope and the Mecca of our Aspirations will be reached in no distant future and Britishers will be proud of their Indian fellow-citizens and partners in the great British Commonwealth, and Indians will proudly declare themselves as the citizens of an Empire wider and vaster than that of the Romans, and say, 'We are citizens of the British Empire'."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"My Lord, I rise not to add anything to what has been so ably moved by my friend the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, and the previous speakers, but I think it my duty as a representative of the people as well as in my private capacity to associate myself wholeheartedly in an expression of homage—loyal and dutiful homage—to His Imperial Majesty the King-Emperor for the gracious Proclamation of the 23rd December last and in our respectful assurance to His Majesty the King-Emperor that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will receive a most cordial and enthusiastic welcome from us. With these expressions of loyalty, I wholeheartedly support what has been said by the hon'ble mover and the previous speakers."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

"My Lord, I rise to join my humble voice to the expression of gratitude and loyalty to His Majesty the King-Emperor. There may be differences of opinion about the system of administration carried on in this country or the manner in which government is carried on here, but so far as Indians are concerned—and by Indians I mean all sections of the community, whether nationalists or not, whether Hindus or Muhammadans—we are at least one in our devotion to the person of His Majesty and the Throne of England. I claim that so far as the Indian people are concerned their loyalty to the Throne, which is also the Throne of India, is not less sincere and less heartfelt than that of the people of Great Britain themselves, and that whenever we have to find fault with the administration we have done it with the knowledge that our criticism would reach the foot of the Throne and that redress would come from His Majesty. Besides the feeling of loyalty which exists in the heart of the people I might add that any member of the House of the late Queen Victoria would always command the affectionate regard and respect from the people of India and as His Majesty King George has not only maintained the reputation of his illustrious house but has also enhanced it by his sympathy with the people of this country, I can assure your Excellency's Government that we will not be wanting in lending our co-operation and help to his desire to make the Reforms Act a success. I join in the hope that the members of the Government will also lend us a helping hand. Mutual co-operation of the people and Government is necessary so that His Majesty's wishes may be fulfilled. With these words I beg to associate myself in the motion which is now before the house."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said :—

"My Lord, I am desired by my colleagues, including the landowning interest in this house, to join my voice to what has been said with regard to the resolution moved by my hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur. In doing so I desire to state one aspect of the question which has been overlooked. We Indians are sincerely and wholeheartedly of opinion that the salvation of India lies in her continuing to be a part of the British Empire. Even those who are perhaps at times the bitterest critics of British administration in India, even they are fully convinced and are sincere in their conviction that the salvation of India lies in association with and as a partner of the British Empire. But, my Lord, at times in the heat of controversy people forget and it is natural, inevitable for them to forget, that in order to cement the bond of union between England and India that the agitation and bitterness which found a place in the past must cease to have any place in view of the coming reforms, because we must remember that England is the head of the Empire of which India aspires to be a great partner, and I have no doubt that as our reformed Council meets and begins to discuss the practical problems of the country and as Indians themselves take up responsibilities in the new Councils, they will realize the importance of the move. At the same time I have no doubt that my European fellow-citizens in the reformed Councils will begin to take a real and abiding interest in the practical political problems of India. They will try as much as we Indians will try in creating a more contented India and in creating an India which will be one of the ablest partners in this Empire. My Lord, originally I did not intend to speak on this resolution, but as I have been asked by my colleagues, who represent the landholding interest in this Council, I cannot do better than join my voice in support of this resolution."

The Hon'ble Mr. Watson-Smyth said :—

"On behalf of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce I rise to support this resolution. I cordially associate myself and those whom I represent with the expression of loyal and respectful homage to His Majesty the King-Emperor. We also join in the expression of gratitude to His Majesty for announcing his intention to depute His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to visit India as His Majesty's representative for the purpose of inaugurating the new constitution, and we join in tendering our respectful assurance that His Royal Highness will receive a most cordial and enthusiastic welcome from the people of this of the views of gentlemen who are almost enamoured of these reforms. Take the case of men of the position of Mr Bomanjee of Bombay. He is well known as a staunch supporter of Mrs. Besant even in her present day politics. Mr. Bomanjee's attitude towards the reforms is that it is a definite and substantial step towards the realisation of responsible Government. In fact it would be no exaggeration to say that Mr. Montagu is the idol of Mr. Bomanjee. That being his attitude with respect to the reforms it would be interesting to know what his attitude is with respect to His Excellency the Viceroy. And that attitude is well known. So, my Lord, the whole position is that if Indian opinion is to be consulted at all, I am afraid this resolution cannot be accepted. It is a very very delicate matter and a very unpleasant duty to do and therefore I shall not dilate. I shall only say that the Indian people think that in view of the reply, amongst other things, of His Excellency the Viceroy to the press deputation, in view of the fact that measures have been passed in the teeth of universal opposition of the Indians, the people do feel that there is nothing much to be grateful for to His Excellency the Viceroy.

The Hon'ble Dr. Suhrawardy (interrupting) said :—

"May I rise to a point of order, Sir? Are we discussing the services^{at} of the Viceroy in connection with the Reforms Act or other measures?"

The President said :—

"The motion before the House is a proposal to extend the thanks of the Council to the Viceroy for his generous and practical sympathy with Indian political aspirations. It is fairly wide ground."

The Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta said :—

"My Hon'ble friend's interruption leads me to the terms of this resolution, and I find that the terms are very comprehensive. It is 'generous and practical sympathy' with Indian political aspirations, but no practical illustration of it has been mentioned. There is another matter on which I think I should be failing in my duty if I did not express the feelings of the people of this country, I mean the incident which has happened in the Punjab. On these grounds people think that this resolution cannot be accepted by them. I therefore find myself compelled to oppose this resolution, and I do it with the utmost reluctance."

The Hon'ble Dr. Suhrawardy said :—

"My Lord, I rise to support the resolution moved by my hon'ble friend Mr. Arden-Wood. As I read the resolution I understand that it refers to the services of the Viceroy specially with regard to His Excellency's labours in connection with the Reforms Act. The resolution reads that the hearty thanks of this Council be conveyed to His Excellency the Viceroy for his generous and practical sympathy with Indian political aspirations. My Lord, my hon'ble friend to my right has opposed the resolution. I am quite at a loss to understand exactly the reasons for his opposing this resolution. I do not know whether it is based on His Excellency's Punjab policy or whether he is unwilling to support the resolution even without reference to the unfortunate incident in the Punjab. I also regret to find that my friend the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri has declared this resolution to be rather premature. At this moment a favourite phrase of my friend the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq comes to my mind, that if human memory is short official memory is shorter. So far as the labours of His Excellency with reference to the Reforms Act are concerned I would like to repeat that phrase of the Hon'ble Maulvi with a slight variation—'If human memory is short non-official memory is shorter.' I would like to invite the attention of this House once again to the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chander Ghose Bahadur on the 14th November, 1918, which ran thus :—

"This Council is of opinion that the constitutional reforms proposals, laid before this country and the Parliament in England, by His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State for India, are a genuine effort and a definite advance towards the progressive realisation of responsible Government in India, and also desires to record and offer its grateful thanks to His Excellency the Viceroy and the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India for their Reform proposals."

I find that my friends the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem and Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri were a party to the resolution when it was unanimously passed in this Council. My Lord, I do not wish to take up the time of this Council. All I wish to say is this, that I am very glad to associate myself with the words of my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood who moved this resolution."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

"My Lord, I regret it very much that this resolution has been brought forward for discussion in this Council. The Hon'ble mover is aware that there is a good deal of difference of opinion about Lord Chelmsford's generous sympathy with Indian political aspirations and his rule of India, but whatever may be our differences His Excellency is the representative of our Sovereign in this country and as such is entitled to all respect and honour, and it is very unfortunate that his conduct should be discussed in a Provincial Legislative Council. A large section of the people are of opinion that His Excellency does not sympathize with our political aspirations and that is evidenced by the fact that no Indian member of this Council thought it proper to bring forward a resolution like this and it was reserved for a member of the European community to do so. I have great respect for the Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood as a scholar and an educationist but I have never seen that he has interested himself in Indian politics or expressed his sympathy with our aspirations nor had he any means of knowing Indian public opinion. Still he has gone out of his way to ask this Council to offer its thanks to Lord Chelmsford for his sympathies with Indian political aspirations and has forced us to raise an unseemly controversy in this Council. My Lord, many public bodies in this country have expressed their opinion on the Reform Act and about those who have had a hand in it, but so far as I have been able to ascertain from newspaper reports none has as yet ventured to mention Lord Chelmsford's name in this connection."

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chander Ghose Bahadur interrupting said :—

"At any rate the Corporation did pass a resolution in which the name of Lord Chelmsford was not mentioned. True it is that if Lord Chelmsford had violently opposed the reforms even the British Cabinet could not have passed the Act, because the British people always put a great value on the opinion of the man on the spot, but I have never heard that thanks are offered for not obstructing a thing, and to agree to a proposal is quite different from supporting it or sympathizing with its object. The Government of India despatches to which Lord Chelmsford was a party laid weight to the opinion that His Excellency was not favourably inclined towards the changes brought about and the opinion expressed about his share in this matter by Indians is quite contrary to what we are asked to REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ENQUIRE INTO LAND VALUES AND RENTS IN CALCUTTA.

SUMMARY.

We present herewith our report. We were instructed—

- (1) to enquire into the remarkable enhancement in land values and house rents which has recently occurred in Calcutta;
- (2) to investigate the causes;
- (3) to define its extent and degree;
- (4) to examine the charge of profiteering against landlords, and
- (5) to suggest remedies if we considered it practicable to control or limit the rise in rents.

The report deals specifically with each of the above points, but it may be stated generally—

- (1) that we have been able to obtain comparatively little help by way of direct evidence;
- (2) that the rise in values and rents must be considered to be at least in part permanent, due to the readjustment in values consequent on the war,
- (3) that the greater rise is post-war in date;
- (4) that the only real remedy will be found in the immediate provision of additional housing accommodation, which necessitates the provision of new building sites forthwith;
- (5) that some temporary measure to deal with cases of hardship is desirable, and we propose the creation of an authority with power to extend the period of a notice to quit up to one year.

CHAPTER I.

General.

1 The Committee was appointed by the Governor in Council by Resolution No. 3554 M, dated the 30th September 1919. This resolution is reproduced below—

“ At the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 3rd September 1919, the Hon'ble Mr. W. H. Phelps moved that the Governor in Council be recommended to appoint a Commission to enquire into the causes of excessive land values and high rents in Calcutta, and, if possible, to suggest remedies ” The resolution was accepted by Government and duly carried. The Governor in Council has accordingly directed that a Committee, representative of the various interests involved, should be appointed to enquire into the remarkable enhancement in land values and house rents which has recently occurred in Calcutta.

He desires that the causes of this enhancement may be investigated and its extent and degree defined, that the charge of “ profiteering ” made against landlords should be examined, and that, if in the opinion of the Committee it is desirable and practicable to control or limit the rise in rents, definite proposals in this behalf may be submitted for the consideration of Government at an early date.

2. The Committee was composed of the following members: -

- (1) The Hon'ble Mr. W. E. Crum, O.B.E., Chairman.
- (2) F. C. French, Esq., C.S.I., I.C.S.
- (3) The Hon'ble Raja Reshee Kesh Law, C.I.E.
- (4) The Hon'ble Mr. Abdur. Rahim.
- (5) Revd. A. Gille, A.J.
- (6) The Hon'ble Mr. W. H. Phelps.
- (7) A. de Bois Shrosbree, Esq.
- (8) Rai P. N. Mukharji Bahadur.
- (9) Rai Sahib Ramdeo Chokani.
- (10) J. H. Rundlett, Esq.
- (11) A. D. Pickford, Esq.
- (12) R. C. Bonnerjee, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.
- (13) J. F. Graham, Esq., I.C.S.
- (14) J. A. Woodhead, Esq., I.C.S., Secretary.

3. In November last we published an advertisement in the principal English and Indian newspapers (English and vernacular) inviting all persons desirous of giving evidence to communicate with the Secretary, from whom a form giving details of the main points on which information was required could be obtained. The advertisement is reproduced in Appendix I. We also drew up a form for distribution to tenants, asking for information as regards the increase in rents. These forms were supplied to all persons, who applied, and were also distributed by members of the Committee and local gentlemen. One thousand and ten of these forms were issued, but only 230 forms were returned duly filled in. This form is reproduced in Appendix II. Letters were at the same time addressed to the Calcutta Corporation, to the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, to the Commissioners of the Howrah and Suburban Municipalities, to representative public associations and to prominent landlords, requesting them to favour us with their opinions, and to state whether they or their representatives would be willing to give oral evidence before the Committee. This letter is reproduced in Appendix III; 367 copies of it were issued. We received written opinions from only 13 public bodies and associations and 33 private persons; 19 persons expressed their willingness to give oral evidence and we examined 10 witnesses. We held 18 meetings.

We wish to acknowledge our indebtedness to all those who have assisted us by furnishing us with written opinions or by giving evidence before us.

We desire to record our appreciation of the services of Mr. J. A. Woodhead, a member of the Committee who, in addition to his ordinary duties, acted as Secretary. In connection with the preparation of matter, the drafting of the report and in other ways Mr. Woodhead gave us very great assistance.

CHAPTER II.

The causes of the recent remarkable rise in land values and rents.

1. We are agreed that there has been a recent and remarkable rise in land values and rents in and around Calcutta and that the majority of the abnormal cases have taken place during the latter half of the year 1919. The rise has been preceded by an increase, which except for occasional halts due to exceptional causes, has been gradual and persistent over a long period of years. A similar rise has been experienced at about the same time in other cities in India. The papers which we have obtained from Bangalore disclose the interesting fact that a rise very similar to the one with which we are dealing manifested itself in that city from about May 1919. Public attention has also been drawn to the recent increase in rents in the city of Madras. The situation in Bombay is indicated by the extension of the Bombay Rent Acts for a further period of two years. In England the Rent Act of 1915, purely a war measure passed for the duration of the war and six months after, has been extended to the year 1921, and dwelling-houses of a higher rental value have been brought under legislative control.

2. We consider the main causes of the rise are exceptional, not purely local in character, and beyond the general causes referred to in the next paragraph.

3. The causes which have operated in past years to produce a general rise—a rise so continuous as to warrant the theory of a 5 per cent. rise yearly in the value of land being frequently accepted as a standard by persons dealing in and valuing land—are, we believe, well known. They may be summarized as follows—a city growing in wealth and in health, and prevented from expanding beyond certain narrow and well-defined limits by the unhealthy character of the areas outside those limits, combined with a total lack of rapid and cheap communications. In the suburban municipalities malaria is prevalent, drainage is defective, the water-supply is inadequate, roads are few and bad, and the means of rapid communication with the centre of the city is for the greater part entirely absent. These disadvantages have almost entirely prevented a growing population from spreading out over the cheaper lands of the suburbs, with the inevitable result that the increased demand for buildings and land within the city has caused a gradual and continuous increase in the value of property, attended as it must be by an increase in rent. Further, the superior healthiness and attractions of the city, as compared with many of the mofussil districts, have led to immigration of the richer and leisured classes. We believe this immigration has also played a part in the increased demand for landed property within the city boundaries. The innate unwillingness of certain classes of the population to leave the area, in which their ancestors have lived for generations, and the immobility of certain classes of the population, while perhaps not major factors affecting the whole city, have undoubtedly contributed to high prices for landed property and high rents in the northern sections.

4. We now deal with the causes which acting upon the conditions briefly sketched in the last paragraph have resulted in the recent remarkable rise in land values and rents. Sections of the commercial population of Calcutta have amassed very large fortunes during the war, and during the years 1918 and 1919, particularly the latter, have invested very largely in landed property. Apparently many people are able to pay prices, on which the rents even after development cannot give an adequate return. Past history has proved that prices paid for land in Calcutta, which at the time were considered to be of a speculative character, have soon been overtaken by the market, and the so-called speculative buyer within a comparatively short period of years has been able to sell at a profit. This historical fact is well known to the persons who are now paying what appear to be high speculative prices; and this, combined with the large amount of free money and the indications of a commercial boom in Calcutta, has no doubt led to the payment of very high prices. The desire to invest in landed property has also an accumulative effect, the contagion spreads, and instead of the high prices being limited to property, which is capable of increasing very greatly in value in the near future, speculative prices are paid for any property coming on the market irrespective of its possibilities.

5. Another cause which appears prominently in the opinions we have received, and to which we also attach considerable importance, is the "commercial boom" in Calcutta after the armistice. Since the close of the war there has been considerable commercial activity in Calcutta and its neighbourhood. Several English firms have decided to open works in or near Calcutta and the market has been flooded with company flotations. This has led to a sudden and largely increased demand for office property and land suitable for the erection of manufacturing plant, with the natural result of a sudden increase in the price of such property and land. This industrial activity has probably not only affected the price of land and property of this description but has, by leading people to believe that land in Calcutta will appreciate greatly in value during the next few years, been one of the causes which have resulted in a general increase.

6. We are advised that the population of Calcutta has probably increased considerably during the last few years, and particularly since the armistice. The industrial activity mentioned in the last paragraph must have been accompanied by an increase in the population. It is probable too that the fortunes made by certain classes of the commercial community during the war have attracted to Calcutta other members of those classes. The number of Japanese residents has increased to a considerable extent consequent on the increased volume of trade between India and Japan arising out of the war. Since the armistice there has, we believe, been a considerable influx of Europeans owing to the return of a number of former residents who left to serve with the forces, to the recruitment of the European staff for the new commercial ventures, and to the resumption of recruiting in old established firms. This increase in population has not, however, been accompanied by any corresponding increase in building operations. During the five years 1909-10 to 1913-14, 1,702 masonry buildings were sanctioned by the Calcutta Corporation, whereas, during the five years 1914-15 to 1918-19, practically the five years of the war, the number sanctioned was 1,628. Further, during these years, 1914-19, the Calcutta Improvement Trust demolished 643 masonry houses. During the war building operations were reduced to a minimum largely owing to the difficulty of obtaining certain materials and to their prohibitive price. It is, therefore, we think, evident that during the war the increase in the number of buildings was far below the normal pre-war average. In Calcutta the number of buildings has never been greatly in excess of the demand and the supply is now far short of the demand; a fact only too apparent to everybody who has been under the necessity of seeking accommodation. In the circumstances a sudden rise in the value of property and rents is not only not surprising but is inevitable.

7. The increased cost of building has also been suggested as one of the causes. It is still 50 per cent. higher than the pre-war figure, and appears to be likely to be permanent for some time to come. This must affect the price of property in the very much freer market which has existed since the termination of hostilities. The increased cost of repairs may also have had some effect on the rise in rents, but it is doubtful whether it has warranted any large increase in rent. If 10 per cent. of the rent be taken as a reasonable allowance for repairs, a 50 per cent. rise in the cost of repairs would only warrant a 5 per cent. rise in the rent. But the increase in rent has frequently been very much greater than this figure, and hence we are of opinion that the increase in the cost of repairs has only been one of the contributory minor causes.

8. A number of the opinions we have received emphasize the view that, if the Calcutta Improvement Trust had developed the suburbs, either before or in conjunction with the scheme for the improvement of the city itself, the recent remarkable rise in land values and rents would have been very much less pronounced. We are in entire agreement with this view. At the same time it has been pointed out to us that the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta were unable to carry through schemes for the development of the suburbs owing to causes beyond their control. So long ago as 1912, less than one year after the passing of the Calcutta Improvement Act, the Board of Trustees decided upon the development of Maniktala in order to provide for the expansion of the city. In May 1913 the Trustees applied to Government for the extension of the Act to the suburban municipalities. Government, acting on the opinion of the Advocate-General, replied that the proposed general extension was of doubtful legality. The Trustees then applied for the extension of the Act to the Maniktala Municipality, and this was effected in February 1915. The Advocate-General had, in the meanwhile, given a second opinion to the effect, that the Trustees could not undertake drainage operations affecting the whole municipality in order to render an improvement scheme for a particular area effective. The Trust again approached the Government, who replied that the amendment of the Act was under consideration. Further correspondence ensued, and in December 1916 Government expressed the opinion, that as the drainage scheme for Manicktola was not directly connected with any improvement scheme in Calcutta it was not possible for the Trust to proceed with the execution of the scheme under the existing law. The Trust, however, decided to proceed with the preparation of an improvement scheme for Maniktala. This was submitted in June 1918 to Government, who in April 1919 sanctioned it, stating that, on a further examination of the question, they accepted the view that the Trust could undertake schemes in the suburbs, although such schemes were not connected with particular improvement schemes in Calcutta.

land by auction

9. The practice of the Calcutta Improvement Trust and the Calcutta Corporation of selling their surplus lands by auction has been severely criticised by many persons, who have suggested that it has been one of the main causes of the recent abnormal increase in land values and rents. We do not altogether agree with this view, but we are of opinion that it has been a contributory cause in so far as it has demonstrated the great possibilities of land development in Calcutta. It has proved that, if land is developed and put to its best possible use, its value is greatly increased, and it has, in consequence, induced investors to pay higher prices for land, which although undeveloped is yet capable of development. Some statistics relating to the disposal of land by the Improvement Trust have been furnished to us. Hitherto surplus land covering an area of about 468 bighas has been disposed of in connection with the various schemes. Of this area 78 bighas or about 18 per cent. have been sold by auction, the remainder having been disposed of by one or other of the following means:—

- (1) exemption, or sale at an agreed price to exempted owners of adjoining land;
- (2) sale at an agreed price in exercise of the right of pre-emption;
- (3) sale at special concession rates for re-instatement of owners dis-housed by the operations of the Trust;
- (4) sale by private treaty.

Of the 78 bighas sold by auction 45 bighas belonged to the first two schemes executed by the Trust. At that time owners hesitated to apply for exemption or pre-emption, as they were doubtful as to the fairness of the exemption fees or pre-emption prices. How opinion on this point has changed is illustrated by the Bhowanipore Improvement scheme, where up to date 221 bighas have been disposed of, of which only 3 bighas were sold by auction. We are informed that it is unlikely in future that so much as 5 per cent. of the surplus land will remain for disposal in the open market by the Improvement Trust, because at the present time exemption or the right of pre-emption is almost invariably claimed. Moreover, in cases where such claims are not substantiated it is the policy of the Trust to use the land—if suitable for re-housing persons displaced by the Trust—for purposes of re-instatement. We agree in the view that the auction system, even with its admitted disadvantages, is the only safe course which the Improvement Trust or the Calcutta Corporation can follow for the disposal of such land as remains for sale in the open market.

prices.

10. We are of opinion that the increase in the price of all articles of ordinary consumption, or, to express it in another manner, the depreciation in the purchasing power of money, has contributed to the rise in land values and rents. The index numbers of retail food prices as given by the Director of Statistics show that there has been a marked increase in the cost of living as compared with the period before the war, and further that the termination of hostilities instead of producing a fall in the prices of articles of food was

* Related to December 1918.

It would be easy to advance theories of doubtful soundness in regard to this point, but when the prices of the necessities of life are found to have increased 54 per cent. in the last five years, and it is seen that people generally have to pay more for everything than formerly, the temptation to the land-owner to adjust his income to his increased cost of living is no doubt a factor in his mind when fixing rents.

CHAPTER III.

The degree and extent of the rise in land values and rents.

1. We find as a fact that there is evidence of a considerable rise in the market price of land throughout the city and the suburbs, and that the rise has been specially marked in the commercial area, in the southern part of the city, and in the suburbs. The year 1918 experienced a considerable increase in the price of property in the Burra Bazar portion of the city, and this continued into the year 1919, when prices still higher were paid. In the remaining commercial portion of the town, the southern portion, and the suburbs signs of rising prices appeared shortly after the armistice, and during the year 1919 a large amount of property changed hands at prices considerably in excess of those prevailing in the years 1916 to 1918. The rise in values is clearly indicated by sale prices as well as by the demand for the Port Commissioners' land in Howrah and Kidderpore at rents twice or three times those demanded but not always obtained before the armistice.

The extent of the increase in land values.

2. It is impossible to give exact figures representing this remarkable rise, as sales vary considerably and the same or similar properties have been sold at divergent figures at short intervals. A rise of 50 per cent. is not uncommon, and in many cases the rise has been 100 per cent. and over. The rise has been particularly remarkable in the suburbs, where in some instances prices in 1919 were double or treble those prevailing in the years 1916-18.

The degree of the rise in land values.

3. In this connection we would point out that a certain amount of property has changed hands at obviously speculative prices in excess of the value which even the most optimistic views of development and demand would justify.

Speculative prices.

4. In coming to a conclusion as to the degree and extent of the rise in rent we have been met by the difficulty of obtaining reliable statistics on which to base an opinion. We have already outlined the steps taken to obtain all possible information, and have pointed out that of over 1,000 forms distributed to tenants less than 250 have been returned. Most of the forms returned have been received from European and Anglo-Indian tenants living in the area between Park Street and Bow Bazar. A certain number has also been received from the southern portion of the town beyond Park

Street and from the commercial quarter, but very few relate to the northern residential quarter. The offer of the Committee to treat replies as confidential appears to have had no effect. We think it probable that a large number of tenants has been unwilling to complain owing to the fear that complaints would be followed by the landlords taking steps to eject them. It has been definitely stated that this was the case in Bombay and Rangoon. Similarly we have stated our method of approaching landlords and public bodies and associations, on which landlords are well represented, and have pointed out that while the majority of public bodies and associations have favoured us with written opinions, only 33 opinions have been received from private individuals.

The collection
statistics.

5. We carefully considered the advisability and feasibility of obtaining figures by other means, but came to the conclusion that with the time at our disposal and the staff which we could employ, it would be impossible to obtain further reliable information. All expert opinion agrees in the view that the collection of figures on any large scale would require legal sanction and a specially trained and well-paid staff for a considerable period. The position is complicated by the fact that a very large number of tenants, through fear of ejection, are unwilling to state the actual rent paid, and if pressed to do so are very liable to give incorrect figures. We have been struck during our enquiry by the fact that in spite of the publicity given to the subject there has been little response on the part of those interested or attempt to assist the Committee with definite information. In coming to a decision, therefore, we decided to rely upon the figures which we obtained in response to advertisements, and the forms distributed, and on the opinion of public bodies and private individuals, together with the opinions of our own members.

6. Our conclusion is that there is sufficient evidence to show that there has been a considerable general rise in rent throughout Calcutta, though different portions of the town have been affected in different degrees. In the northern residential part there is very little evidence to show that there has been an abnormal rise; in the southern and commercial portions of the town the rise appears to have been distinctly abnormal and in a considerable number of cases remarkable, the Anglo-Indian community being perhaps the worst sufferers.

CHAPTER IV.

Profiteering by Landlords.

We have been asked to examine the charge of profiteering by landlords. We have given this subject our very careful consideration, but have been unable to arrive at a satisfactory definition of the word "profiteering." In these circumstances we are not in a position to express an opinion on the general charge of profiteering by landlords. We may point out that under the provision of the existing law in India, increment in land value is the property of the land-owners. At the same time we would add that while unable to express an opinion on this question, many instances have been brought to our notice in which the existing dearth of accommodation has been used as a means of "squeezing" tenants unduly.

CHAPTER V.

Remedies of direct effect.

1. We are of opinion that the only permanent solution of the problem of inflated land values and high rents lies in (a) the rapid development of the suburbs, (b) the improvement of communications and the means of transport within the city proper and between the city and its suburbs. Other measures, which have for their object the modification of the effect of the law of supply and demand, may bring temporary relief, but they will only serve to perpetuate and render more acute the present unsatisfactory conditions, unless they are accompanied by drastic action designed to provide at the earliest possible moment large areas of land, ready for an ever-increasing population. At the very outset, therefore, of this portion of our report we wish to lay the greatest possible stress upon what we believe to be the true remedy, namely, the provision of more accommodation. The benefits to be derived from the measures, which we shall recommend for the permanent solution of the present problem, will not however accrue immediately; some time must elapse between the inception of these measures and the relief which they will bring. Hence we suggest that, in order to relieve the hardship which is undoubtedly being experienced, direct and immediate action should be taken, which, while not interfering further than is absolutely necessary with the ordinary law of supply and demand or with the erection of new buildings, will yet afford relief during the period which will elapse before the radical remedies can take effect.

2. We are not of opinion that the enactment of a Rent Act on the lines of legislation in England, Bombay and Rangoon is advisable. Experience shows that as soon as attempts are made to control economic laws, it is impossible to restrict interference to a particular point. Even a minimum of control tends to produce conditions which create a demand for extensions not only in degree but in directions previously unthought of, until private enterprise in relation to the controlled article entirely disappears. Such control has been exercised in several countries during the war, but has been followed by the Government being obliged to go far beyond the fixing of maximum prices. They have been compelled to take charge of the entire available stocks of foodstuffs, to arrange for the purchase of supplies and for their distribution. The control of rents in England has been accompanied by Government undertaking on a very extensive scale, through municipal and local bodies, the erection of houses out of public funds. We cannot contemplate that Government or local bodies would be prepared to erect houses for the general public in Calcutta, and we regard this almost as a corollary of any proposal for a Rent Act.

A Rent Act inadvisable.

3. It has been suggested that a Rent Act which is applicable to new property, as well as to old, by preventing the house-owner from reaping all the benefit that he otherwise would, must interfere greatly with building operations—the very remedy which offers a permanent solution. We are in agreement with this view. Further, we are not satisfied that the exclusion of new buildings in accordance with the provisions of the latest English Act would have the effect of removing this objection. We have direct evidence that landlords would be deterred from building by the fear that similar control would be extended within a short time to such buildings.

The effect of a Rent Act on building operations.

4. We are also impressed by the difficulty of fixing "standard rents," a necessary feature of any Rent Act, and whatever standard may be fixed, either by the Act itself or by the decisions of a Rent Controller, there is a danger that the rents of all houses in Calcutta may be raised to that degree.

Standard rents

5. For these reasons we are opposed to a Rent Act if a measure on the following lines can be passed. We suggest that an Act should be passed immediately, appointing an authority to whom all parties under notice to quit and admitting their liability to ejectment could apply for an extension of the date by which they will have to vacate, or an extension of the period of the notice to quit. The Act should have retrospective effect to the date of this report. Under the present law a tenant who has no lease is entitled to 15 or 30 days' notice. So long as the present scarcity of houses continues, this short period allowed by the law for the vacation of premises causes great hardship to those who are ejected unconditionally or who cannot afford to pay the higher rent demanded. The constitution of an authority, other than the ordinary courts, which could grant time to those tenants who admit that they are by the ordinary law due to leave the premises, would give considerable relief to a large number of persons. The proceedings before the authority should be of a summary character. We would give this authority power to grant an extension up to one year, subject to the following right of appeal. No appeal should lie against the decision of this authority, unless the time granted be over six months, when the landlord should have the right of appeal to the courts.

We recommend that—

- (a) the Act should apply to all property except property under construction at the time of, or built after, the passing of the Act;
- (b) the Act should operate in the first instance for a period of three years, but should contain a provision empowering the Governor in Council to extend it by notification for a further period of two years;
- (c) the Act should extend to the areas falling within the boundaries of the Calcutta Corporation, the municipalities of Howrah, Maniktala, Cossipore-Chitpur, Tollygunge, Garden Reach, and the South Suburban Municipality.

CHAPTER VI.

Remedies of indirect effect.

General.

1. There is one point in connection with our enquiry in respect of which there is absolute unanimity, namely, the necessity of immediate steps being taken to provide for further housing accommodation. In practically every case it was urged by witnesses as well as by those who favoured us with written opinions, that action should be taken forthwith to open up the suburbs, and to provide healthy lands for building at the earliest possible date. The reason for this is obvious. At present Calcutta is largely in the position of an island, owing to the unhealthiness of the surrounding districts, and few people, unless they are forced to do so, will take the risk of disease and death which residence in the undrained and malarious area makes all too real. The necessity of suburban development has been urged by every competent authority for the last generation, and when the Improvement Trust came into existence after years of delay, it was thought that they were provided with ample powers and funds to deal with this vital work; but it has taken seven years more to ascertain that the Act authorizes them to carry out independent suburban development schemes.

Suburban development.

2. We reiterate our opinion that if it had been possible to push forward the work of suburban development at the beginning of the Trust operations, the present state of affairs would probably not have occurred. As it is we think that steps ought to be taken at once to overtake arrears and to provide for the future, and we regard the action that we recommend under this head as the most important and the most urgent of our proposals.

The Development Board.

3. The main point from all aspects is the early opening up of suburban lands so as to provide reasonably healthy sites for building. A Town Planning Act, the enactment of which we advocate in a later portion of our report, must operate slowly; such an Act cannot give immediate relief, because it must provide for a lengthy procedure preparatory to the commencement of the actual work of development, and the passage of any scheme through the stages preceding actual execution must necessarily take considerable time. Further, the very novelty of the principles underlying an Act based upon the pooling system, combined with the fact that such an Act largely depends upon the co-operation of owners with the local authority, would at the outset render progress slow. The Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta have the power to undertake schemes for the provision of building sites, but here again the commencement of work upon the ground is delayed by provisions in the Improvement Act similar to those in Town Planning Acts. We therefore consider that powers more drastic than those given by the Calcutta Improvement Act or a Town Planning Act are absolutely necessary, if any measure of immediate relief is to be obtained. We suggest that a body, which hereafter is referred to as the "Development Board," should be created for the purpose of carrying out schemes for the provision of building sites, and that this authority should be untrammelled by the provisions already referred to. We would particularly urge that schemes initiated by this authority should not be subjected to the delay which is inevitable if they are published for criticism. It is also essential to success that the owners should not be given rights of exemption and pre-emption. We are aware that these rights are extremely popular, but we consider that the great urgency of obtaining immediate relief warrants some sacrifice of private rights for the general good. We would point out that the land to be dealt with by this authority will be for the most part sparsely populated and is at present used largely for garden and agricultural purposes, and that arguments for permitting exemption and pre-emption, which have considerable force in the case of residential property, do not apply to the circumstances under consideration. Further, the owners would receive the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. under the Land Acquisition Act.

4. Assuming that the Development Board is to be the authority for acquiring the land which we hold to be essential for the relief of the present situation, the next question that arises is where this land is to be and in what quantities should it be acquired. We think that if the remedy is to be effective, it is necessary that the areas should be chosen in and around the whole of the suburbs, and outside as well as within the present municipal boundary. We are not in a position to say what the actual areas should be, but we think that it is necessary for acquisition to be on a scale large enough to permit of the creation of more or less self-contained suburbs. This would probably mean in practice areas each approaching a thousand bighas or say half a square mile in extent. We propose that they should be chosen largely from the point of view of convenience of communications, particularly as they are intended for immediate occupation. We may, perhaps, without committing ourselves to any definite recommendations as regards locality, suggest that areas in Tollygunge, Ballygunge, Tiljala, the eastern half of Cossipore-Chitpur, Dum Dum, Howrah, and near to the more adjacent suburban stations on the railways serving Calcutta would all appear to be suitable for such operations.

Land which should be acquired for building sites by the Development Board.

5. It may be urged that before any of these lands can be of use in helping to solve the present difficulties, it would be necessary to drain them, and to provide sewerage schemes and water-supply. In part this is no doubt true, but we think it should be considered whether it is not possible to devise a temporary compromise between complete drainage and no drainage at all, and say some method of water-supply by means of artesian wells, so as to enable building operations to commence on the lands selected practically forthwith. What we have in mind is that the developing authority which acquires the lands should at once devise a lay-out for them, providing amply for open spaces and for main road communications in the future. The areas should then be staked out on this plan, and temporary surface drainage provided. At the same time some system of water-supply and of simple sewerage disposal should be installed, and then as much land as there was a demand for placed upon the market under suitable restrictions. These should provide stringently for the erection of buildings within a fixed period and for re-entry in case of default, and also should impose some limits as to the class of buildings which may be erected on each plot: otherwise the amenities of the whole could be imperilled by the action of one purchaser, who might erect a factory or some other unsuitable building if the lands were sold without restriction. The main point in this connection, however, is that the lands should be offered in such quantity as to satisfy the genuine demand for land on which houses can be erected, and this is the only limit, apart from financial considerations, which we would place on the amount of land that is to be acquired and offered.

Development of land by the Development Board.

6. It has been repeatedly proved by experience that areas of land in Calcutta can be acquired and developed by a local authority at a gross profit. The main reason for this is that the subdivision of property is usually conducted in a manner most unsuitable from the point of view of building purposes. In the comparatively few cases in which large areas have been held in one ownership their development has, we believe, always resulted in a substantial profit. We are convinced that the operations of the Development Board will in the same way pay for themselves in the end. We accordingly suggest that the Board should not be given any sources of income from taxation, but that it should be empowered to raise capital by means of loans. We cannot estimate the capital requirements of such a body; they must be large and might eventually amount to 2 crores of rupees. We think that this sum could be raised, particularly if a campaign were organised to that end. Interest on the loan should be guaranteed by Government, the Calcutta Corporation and the Calcutta Improvement Trust in equal shares, and the sinking fund could be suspended for the first five years. It is anticipated that by the end of that time the Board would be in a position to meet all loan charges from its own funds. The Board would also have some income almost from the outset, as it would be able to lease during development some of the land acquired to the previous owners or to other persons. Building plots would be put on the market as quickly as possible, and from the proceeds the Board would obtain funds for the payment of interest, for the development of fresh areas, and ultimately for the re-payment of capital.

societies.

7. Another measure we recommend and to which we attach great importance is that Government should, under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, acquire land for bodies formed definitely for the provision of housing accommodation. This should be done on the recommendation of the Development Board, to whom all applications would be made. The only conditions we would impose would be--(i) the building society should guarantee the erection of a certain number of houses within fixed periods, and (ii) the reservation to Government of the right of re-entry on undeveloped land in case of default. Joint action between the Development Board and building societies would, of course, be possible.

authority.

8. Several witnesses have laid great stress upon the necessity of the co-ordination of public bodies dealing with questions affecting communications and development, and the provision of some authority that will ensure that their proposals will be considered in the light of all the requirements of the future. We are in entire agreement with this view. The obstruction of the outlets leading to the suburbs at the northern and southern ends of the city by large railway yards is an example of the harm which can be caused by the absence of any co-ordinating authority. We are informed that at the present and for some time past a conference of public authorities, whose operations affect the city and its development, has been meeting monthly in Calcutta. This conference meets under the presidency of the Secretary to the Government in the Public Works Department and comprises representatives of the Railways, the Corporation, the Improvement Trust, the Port Commissioners, and the Suburban Municipalities. Although the proceedings of this body have been informal and attendance at it has been optional, it has, we understand, had a good effect in permitting the criticism of schemes at a stage which enables modifications to be made where such seem to be desirable in the general interest. It appears to us that this body should be given statutory recognition, should meet at stated intervals, and should have the power to require all schemes to be brought to its notice and to make recommendations to Government.

act.

9. We understand that a Town Planning Act is under contemplation for Calcutta and its environs, and that such a measure would provide for the allocation of areas for particular purposes. We consider that such an Act properly administered would tend to the permanent solution of the housing problem, and we hope that it may be passed into law at an early date.

10. In addition to the main recommendations there is a number of ameliorative measures which would assist in some degree in the solution of the present difficulties, and would tend to prevent a similar state of affairs from arising in the future. We propose to mention these, together with the line of action which we think should be taken in regard to each.

11. It was brought to our notice that if the whole of the building lands within the city were fully developed, the amount of housing accommodation would be very considerably increased, even if allowance were made for a more generous provision of open spaces and roads. It was also suggested before us that there should be an increase of taxation on open lands, vacant spaces, and compounds within the more central areas. We doubt the wisdom of any attempt to force owners by penal taxation to cover such open spaces, while the provisions of the existing law are not fully utilised to that end. So long as residential houses receive in practice low valuation assessments, whatever may be the desirability from other points of view, one of the normal spurs to economic development and user is removed.

Development inside the city proper.

12. We think that the case of Government land calls for special consideration, particularly at the present time. We recommend to the serious attention of Government the desirability for a survey of the land in their hands, so that the possibility of utilising land such as that at Porabagan for buildings for their own servants or for offices may be fully considered. The question of the proper utilisation of the Strand Bank lands by the Port Commissioners is also a matter of great importance.

Open lands in the central areas.

13. If houses were provided for Government servants a certain measure of relief would be afforded to the present situation. This responsibility does not rest with Government alone. Certain firms have already begun to take steps for the housing of their assistants, and we think that this example should be widely followed. It is beyond contention that in this country the rise in salaries has been far less than in nearly all other parts of the world, and if the cost of living remains at a new level corresponding adjustments will have to be made to meet the situation. This can be partly effected by the provision of house accommodation, and in this matter firms can exercise a much greater power than individuals and to an even greater extent by co-operation. We recommend action in this matter to Government and to firms in the city.

Housing of employees.

14. It was suggested that all factories should be removed outside the central area, and the land thus vacated used for housing. It appears extremely doubtful whether such a proposal would afford any relief in the near future having regard to the vested interests concerned; while the cost to public funds of such removals, if compulsorily enforced, would be enormous. We understand this matter is receiving the attention of the Corporation, which appears to be the proper body to deal with it, and we would recommend to their consideration the desirability of not licensing any more factories in the central areas.

Removal of factories.

15. This suggestion falls under several heads, but none appears to cover steps likely to afford immediate relief. It is apparent throughout the whole city that there are considerable areas inadequately utilised by the existence of low kutchra or pucca buildings where overcrowding and rack-renting is inevitable if anything approaching a commercial return is to be obtained in the way of rent. A more open land market and measures designed for the improvement of title, possibly a measure of registration, might do much to effect improvement in time. It must be borne in mind, however, that low buildings and open spaces are frequently valuable ventilation areas, and if they become covered with high structures the provision of more public open spaces will be imperative.

Better utilisation of existing areas for buildings.

16. Another matter worthy of mention is the large areas which are being and have been taken up for educational and hospital purposes, as well as for public institutions and offices. We do not express any opinion in regard to the desirability or possibility of removing such institutions, as the University, from the centre of the town, but the necessity of developing at least an equal area in the suburbs for each area taken up in the city is one which we urge upon Government, with a view to this being imposed in every future case upon some competent authority.

Public institutions in the city.

17. In this connection we may also invite attention to the occupation of a large area by the Mint, which can only be described as extremely uneconomic and aggravating congestion. We urge immediate steps to remove it to a suburban site.

The Mint.

The
quarter.

18. The last comment we make in this section concerns the area "south of Park Street" with its unique compounds and general lay-out. The development of this upon the "flat" system is progressing, we think inevitably, and it behoves all who wish for open spaces around their houses to face the fact that, unless the suburban areas are opened up quickly, this type of residence will become extinct, except under old leases or on prohibitive rents.

The extension
Municipal area.

19. One essential step towards the effective handling of the housing problem is the inclusion under one authority of the main part of the area that is occupied by persons who, for one reason or another, have to live in the city or in areas contiguous to it. We think this would be achieved to a desirable extent by the inclusion of Howrah and suburban municipalities within the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Corporation, and we accordingly recommend that this should be done at an early date.

tions.

20. It is obvious that the development of the suburbs will be of little effect unless the present means of communication are very much extended, improved and cheapened. There are many indications that travelling to and from work is on the increase. We have no doubt that if there were better travelling facilities more people would be tempted at least to experiment in living in the outer districts, and it has to be remembered that the growth of commercial activity will tend to bring more people from the outlying districts to earn their living in the city. We are informed that the Improvement Trust has already laid down a system of main roads, which will afford communication from the outskirts of the present Corporation area to the centre of the town. It is obvious that all possible steps should be taken to push forward the construction of these, and at the same time to extend the system outwards through the areas which we have suggested for inclusion within the municipal limits. It is hardly necessary to point out in this connection the desirability of the execution of a scheme for the improvement of Howrah, which appears to us to be in fact an integral part of the city.

The Import
Yard.

21. We may here conveniently draw attention to the construction of huge railway yards across both the northern and southern ends of the town. In the south this has recently formed the subject matter of enquiry by Government, who have decided that in the interests of the port it is now too late for any change of plans to be made. In view of this decision it seems practically useless to suggest that any further consideration should be given to the matter, but we express the hope that the question of the necessary crossing will be considered in the light of the future, and that ample provision will be made for the inevitable increase in traffic.

The Chitpore Yard.

22. So far as the north of the town is concerned, the obstruction is caused by the Chitpur Yard of the Eastern Bengal Railway. This has already put back the question of the improvement of the northern suburbs some years by completely closing one of the main outlets and making a bottleneck of the other by hopelessly inadequate bridges, cruelly steep in their approaches, and too weak for any but light traffic. We suggest that the question of the removal of the whole of this yard should receive the early consideration of Government with a view to its being established to the east of the main line, the future arrangements of the railway being made accordingly.

Railways.

23. We have also considered the question of railways and have examined a proposal for railways round the city, partly overhead. The need for an extension of the suburban railway system, for its electrification, and for railway communication with the centre of the city are, we believe, too well known to require comment, and we understand these matters are receiving consideration at the present time. We are advised that there are no insuperable difficulties in the way of constructing tube railways in Calcutta, and if this be so, we think they would be far preferable to overhead railways, which are bound to be a noisy addition to already overcrowded streets and might possibly interfere with private amenities to an undue extent. The question of the electrification of existing suburban lines, say within 25 miles of the city, might well be considered in conjunction with the possibility of tube railways. We do not feel competent to suggest definite routes, but a possible programme has been laid before us of a line leaving the surface somewhere near Agarpura, passing under Sealdah, Dalhousie Square, the river, Howrah and coming to the surface again on the way to Lillooah. Connections were proposed with this from the south suburban line of the Eastern Bengal Railway, and an additional route was suggested passing right down the centre of the north of the town, say Central Avenue, and proceeding south to and beyond Tollygunge. These proposals require expert examination, but some measures of this kind appear to be essential even if they result in a loss in working which might have to be guaranteed for a time. The immense benefit to the city might well, we think, justify special local taxation.

24 In regard to tramways and motor omnibuses, good roads are a necessary preliminary and we think that no more tramways should be laid in narrow streets. It is not for us to express an opinion as to the comparative advantages of these methods of traction, but we are impressed with the greater mobility of motor bus services in testing and opening new routes. The main point is that everything possible should be done to encourage the extension and cheapening of the present services. Tramways and motor buses.

25 The river steamer service is an important branch of the city and suburban communications, and we understand that this could be extended if more landing stage accommodation were available, particularly between Chandpal Ghat and Ahiritola Ghat. We recognise the difficulty of providing this so long as the present import arrangements continue, but we think this point should be borne in mind and action taken as soon as circumstances render it possible. River Steamer Services.

26. A proposal has been put before us for the provision of free ferry services directly across the river, one from Chandpal Ghat to Ramkrishnapore and one from near Sovabazar to the Howrah side of the river. Such services are common in other parts of the world, and it appears to us they offer an attractive and prompt solution of the question of further bridging the river. We are much impressed with this proposal and we recommend that it should be examined with a view to early execution. The costs of upkeep appear to us to be a legitimate charge upon the public funds. Free ferries.

27. Calcutta's position on a deltaic marsh makes it practically an island, and to its initial disadvantages in this respect must be added the fact that it has now become completely hemmed in by canals and railways, which have to be crossed by bridges for communication with the outer world. The matter would be serious enough if the authorities concerned had been compelled in the past to pay any attention to the inevitable growth of the town, and to the necessity of making such bridges, as they did construct, adequate even for a few years, but in practically every case we find the existing bridges ridiculously inadequate to present conditions without taking the future into consideration at all. Further isolation of the city should be strenuously opposed and the improvement of existing bridges should receive special and immediate attention. We desire to emphasize the urgent necessity of proceeding with the construction of the new Howrah bridge, which will be more adequate to traffic demands and will carry tramways. The inconvenience caused by the closing of the Kiuderpore bridge is too well known to call for comment. Bridges.

28. The delay in the final sanction of the Grand Trunk Canal scheme is hampering the preparation and execution of schemes for the development of Maniktala and the northern suburbs. We consider that the project and its consequences will be of material assistance in relieving congestion and helping the healthy expansion of the city. Moreover, it is essential that this scheme should be finally determined upon as soon as possible, as until the exact alignment is known development on the north and east of the town must be retarded. The canal will cross several important roads, and it is essential that the question of these crossings should be considered not only with reference to the requirements of to-day but also to those of the future. Grand Trunk Canal.

29. Projecting into the suburbs are wide areas of low-lying lands, marshes, and tanks which are capable of being raised, drained and filled, Outer Suburban extension.

and used for agriculture pending building development. Areas beyond the suburbs require similar treatment, and the question of garden suburbs in these outer areas can never become a practical one until some such steps are taken. We suggest that a special officer should be appointed at once to report and advise in this matter.

30. We feel that exception may be taken to some of the points we have raised on the ground that they are remote and have little bearing on the solution of present evils. We are not of this view, and if difficulties of practical working make the execution of such proposals a matter of years, these proposals are none the less urgent and they will wait and stand the longer as an advertisement of the result of past lack of foresight and indifference to the future. If this is not to be charged hereafter to the present day, it is essential that the whole question of the further extension of Calcutta should be examined now and steps taken to provide for its inevitable great expansion.

31. Finally we would urge on those who will be responsible for the consideration and possible adoption of the measures of amelioration proposed by us the extreme urgency of acting promptly and courageously.

We have made a number of recommendations, all of which will help, we believe, to improve the serious situation which has arisen. We wish, however, to emphasize the absolute necessity for—

- (1) the development of the suburbs,
- (2) the acquisition of land for building purposes.
- (3) the improvement of internal and external communications, and to press on the Government of Bengal the importance of the most complete and drastic action.

The map of Calcutta and its surroundings demonstrates the force of our arguments more clearly than anything we can write, and we are satisfied, if these three recommendations are accepted, and action is taken regarding them without delay, that there is sufficient suitable land available in the immediate neighbourhood of Calcutta to relieve the existing congestion and to provide for any expansion that is likely to occur in the near future. Not only will the excessive prices lately paid for land prove unjustified but encouragement will be given to the erection of houses as sound investments, and thus the people of Calcutta will obtain house accommodation on terms strictly commensurate with the cost of providing such accommodation.

Half measures in an emergency such as exists to-day cannot succeed, and the problem before the Government of Bengal must be tackled in a spirit of determination in order to achieve with the greatest possible despatch those results which are without doubt of the most vital importance to the inhabitants of Calcutta.

MINUTE BY THE HON'BLE Mr. W. H. PHELPS.

With some reluctance I have signed the report—not that I disagree with the recommendations which will take years to fructify, but that so little has been done for the real hardships suffered by present tenants by way of immediate and emergent relief.

In my original appeal in Council for the appointment of this Committee and during the sittings, I have urged that certain landlords are exploiting the Corporation and the tenants in a scandalous manner; but notwithstanding my iteration and re-iteration of this fact there is not the slightest allusion to it or to my proposals in the report.

The fact remains that so far as I have investigated these cases of preposterous demands for rent, which every one is aware of, the landlords are taking an undue advantage of the assessments holding good for six years by raising rents in a shameless manner, thus defrauding the Corporation on the one hand and “squeezing” the tenant on the other.

My voice in Committee was as of “one crying in the wilderness” and I could not get a proper hearing—consequently there was no discussion and no mention of my written representation in the report.

W. H. PHELPS.

Calcutta,.....19 ..

DEAR SIR,

I have the honour to enquire if you would be willing to assist the Committee appointed by the Government of Bengal to enquire into the "Causes of excessive land values and high rents in Calcutta and, if possible, to suggest remedies" by furnishing information on the following lines:—

- (i) The extent of the rise in land values and house rents since 1916; concrete examples supporting any general conclusions will be particularly valuable.
- (ii) The extent of the area over which the rise in land values and house rents has taken place, i.e., is the increase limited to particular areas, or is it general over the whole of Calcutta?
- (iii) The causes of this enhancement in land values and house rents.
- (iv) The present cost of building and repairs as compared with pre-war rates.
- (v) Facts bearing on the "Charge of profiteering made against landlords."
- (vi) Is it both practical and desirable to control or limit the rise in rents by legislation?
- (vii) If it is considered practicable and desirable to control rents by legislation, definite proposals as to the form which this control should take.
- (viii) Are there in your opinion any means other than by legislative control, by which the enhancement of rents can be limited?

2. I would esteem it a favour if a note embodying the facts within your knowledge, your conclusions from those facts and your proposals as regards the extent and character of the control you may think desirable could be forwarded to me on or before the 1st December 1919. It would be of material assistance to the Committee if you would consent to give oral evidence. If you are willing to give evidence a time and date will be notified to you.

Yours faithfully,

J. A. WOODHEAD,

Secretary,

Calcutta Rent Enquiry Committee.

No. 200 R.C.

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL,

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 21st February 1920.

SIR,

In the Report which we have submitted it will be noted that the Hon'ble Mr. W. H. Phelps has added a minute of dissent in which he alleges that he was not given an adequate hearing and that his proposals were not considered.

2. With regard to the second allegation, Mr. Phelps' proposals were discussed and he was asked to formulate them in a note, which was then considered by a special Sub-committee. The Sub-committee found themselves unable to recommend the acceptance of Mr. Phelps' proposals. This opinion was confirmed by the Committee. Mr. Phelps draws attention to the fact that his proposals are not mentioned in the Report. We need only say with regard to this that it is certainly not necessary, and frequently not desirable, that all proposals made to a Committee and negatived should form part of a Report.

3. We are of opinion that Mr. Phelps was given ample opportunity of expressing his views. We would also suggest that the minutes of the meeting--extracts from which are forwarded herewith--confirm this opinion.

4. The Hon'ble Mr. W. E. Crum, the Hon'ble Mr. Abdur Rahim and Mr. R. C. Bonnerjee are out of town and hence have had no opportunity of considering this matter.

We have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servants,

Enclosures.—1. Extracts from the minutes of the meetings held on 16th, 19th, and 23rd January, 1920.

Extract from the proceedings of the seventh meeting of the Committee held on Friday, the 16th January 1920, at 3-30 P.M.

V. The next question taken up was the question of remedies and whether legislation was desirable.

Mr. Phelps said that legislation could be very cruel, but at the same time be felt that there should be some control. Rent should be based on assessment and it might be controlled in a simple way with due allowance for the normal rise in land values and the costs of repairs and buildings. His idea was not to appoint an outside Rent Controller like they had in Bombay, but to go upon the evidence afforded by the Assessment Book and to rely on the experience of the Assessor of the Calcutta Corporation. His idea was to give the tenants a court of appeal, the same as the landlords had hitherto enjoyed. If a landlord thought he was over-assessed he had a court of appeal in the Chairman who delegated his authority to the Vice-Chairman. These officers would investigate a particular case with the help of the Assessment Book and their decision would be based on officially recorded facts. Suppose the rent of a house which had been let for Rs. 200 was increased to Rs. 300 on the plea that a new assessment was being made. The tenant could appeal to the Chairman, the landlords would be asked to appear, the Assessment Book would be examined, and it would be for the landlord to justify the increase. Mr Phelps thought that that would be a very simple remedy and by adopting this they might be able to avoid legislation like the Bombay Rent Act, which operated very cruelly on the landlords. He recognised that as land values and the cost of building and repairs had risen, a certain reasonable rise in rents should be allowed. He thought that the Committee should be very careful in their recommendations about legislation and should take care to see that they did not discourage the building of new houses. He pointed out that the English Act of 1915 killed the building trade in England. If there was to be legislation, he hoped it would take the form of a simple amending Act. He would provide for re-assessment every year.

Extract from the proceedings of the eighth meeting of the Committee held on Monday, the 19th January 1920, at 4-30 P.M.

IV. The President invited discussion as to the desirability or otherwise of legislation, and if legislation were deemed to be necessary, as to the form it should take, and whether they should recommend the appointment of an Assessor to decide disputes between landlords and tenants.

Mr. Phelps was also asked to formulate his scheme (an outline of which was given at the last meeting) and to lay it before the Sub-committee.

Extracts from the proceedings of the tenth meeting of the Committee held on Friday, the 23rd January 1920, at 3 P.M.

I.

As regards Mr. Phelps' scheme the Committee considered it to be unworkable and decided not to recommend it. Mr. Phelps was the only dissentient voter on this matter.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 12th February 1920.

Summary.—Excepting light showers in North Bengal moderate rainfall was general in the rest of the province. The rain has generally helped the ploughing operations for jute and other autumn crops and has been favourable to the standing spring crops. Harvesting of spring crops and pressing of sugarcane continue. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 0·34 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The 2nd March 1920.

No. 732 B.—Notification.—The following paper is published for general information:—

C. P. WALSH,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report of the Committee appointed to advise on the selection of a site for a new Provincial Legislative Council Chamber.

By the local Government resolution No. 291 T.B., dated the 9th August 1919, we, the undersigned, were appointed members of a committee to advise on the selection of a site for a new Provincial Legislative Council Chamber. We have held four meetings and have also inspected various sites which from time to time have been suggested as suitable. We have now the honour to submit this our report.

2. The present Legislative Council contains 58 members, and the existing Chamber is barely adequate for their needs, while the accessory accommodation is very limited and the space available for the public and the press of a meagre description. In accordance with the First Schedule attached to the Government of India Act, 1919, the future Legislative Council of Bengal, will number 125, at least, though that number may be increased by rules made under section 7 (2) (a); there is also the possibility of the creation of a Second Chamber at some future date [cf. section 41 (2)]. The necessity of constructing a new building which will house the future provincial legislature is obvious, and in the resolution already cited we were enjoined to have regard to the following four considerations:—provision should be made not only for a Council Hall but for the requisite subsidiary rooms, etc.; the site and building should be worthy of the purpose to which they will be put and of the capital of the province, there should be room for expansion, while, lastly, the locality chosen should be easily accessible to all who will have occasion to use it. We have no hesitation in accepting these conclusions as the factors governing our choice, and we are particularly anxious that the opportunity should not be lost of erecting a structure thoroughly worthy of the occasion, for which a spacious and dignified site is essential. The Government of India Act ushers in momentous changes in the future government of the province, which will henceforth centre round the Council Chamber, it is meet that that Chamber should be housed in a manner which recognises the importance and high purpose of the functions which it will be expected to discharge, and which will in no wise suffer in comparison with the other edifices with which the city is adorned. It follows that, whatever scheme be adopted, considerable expenditure upon its execution is inevitable, and it would be a fatal mistake on grounds of strict economy to cramp and prejudice the prospects of the future. But the provincial resources are not limitless, and there is a point beyond which they cannot be strained, consistently with the interests of the many other calls upon them. We have consequently attached weight to the financial aspect of the different possibilities which we have examined.

3. Without the actual drawing out of plans no precise estimate of the space required for a particular building can, of course, be given, while any plan would again have to conform to the site selected, both as regards design and the degree of spaciousness which can be afforded, but we are advised by the Consulting Architect that, while, in a sense, the larger the area available the better, we should aim at a provision of not less than seven bighas, which might conveniently be increased to fourteen. Upon such a site accommodation could be found for a Council Hall to seat 150; division lobbies; private rooms for the Governor, Members of the Executive Council and Ministers, committee rooms (say, 3), accommodation for Secretaries and the staff of the Legislative Department, consultation and interview rooms (say, 2); a library (being also a reading and writing room), a smoking room and lounge; luncheon rooms (3 for Europeans, Hindus and Muhammadans respectively); a public gallery, a press gallery, retiring rooms and caretaker's quarters, together with a reasonable space for future extensions.

4. We proceed to note below various localities which we have considered in this connection, and to give, very briefly, our reasons for regarding them as unsuited for our present purpose.

(a) Government House—No convenient extensions on an adequate scale of the wing at present devoted to the use of the Legislative Council is feasible, and since the Governor in future will cease to be a member of the Legislative Council [cf. section 7 (i), Government of India Act, 1919] the old reason for associating the Legislative Council with Government House disappears. The whole of the existing Government House would be unnecessarily large for a Council Chamber, nor could it conveniently be adapted to that end without entire remodelling. On the other hand the residence is obviously required by the Governor, and no suitable alternative presents itself. To undertake the provision of a new Government House would clearly be merely the substitution of one problem for another.

(b) The area owned by the Local Government at Porabazar between Chowringhee and the Presidency General Hospital, south of the Calcutta Club.—This has the merit of giving ample accommodation and being already in the possession of the Bengal Government, but we are satisfied that it is situated at too great a distance from the business and northern residential quarters of the town, the High Court and the Secretariat, ever to be convenient for the new Council Chamber, even granting the increasing facilities of motor traffic. The majority of the members of the new Council will be busy men with other calls engrossing their time; the future Council sittings are certain to be more protracted than in the past: if the choice of members is not to be most unduly restricted they must be given every possible facility for combining their Council duties with their normal avocations, and the easy accessibility of the Council Chamber is clearly a most important desideratum.

(c) Belvedere.—Apart from the fact that the building is in the occupation of His Excellency the Viceroy, and could not conveniently be vacated, the objection of inaccessibility applies to it in an even more marked degree. In design, too, the residence is unsuitable.

(d) The old Foreign and Military Secretariat in Esplanade East.—This building belongs to the Imperial Government and is already full of its employés; the structure, again, could not be converted into a Council Chamber (for which, incidentally, it is unnecessarily large) without extensive demolitions and alterations, which, looking to the massive construction of the building, are greatly to be deprecated.

(e) Premises Nos. 5 and 6, Government Place.—These too belong to the Government of India. In themselves they would not afford sufficient space, and expensive fresh acquisitions would be required towards Fancy Lane on the north and down to Council House Street on the west. Even with these additions we do not believe that a satisfactory Council Chamber could be erected at this place. The frontage could not be sufficiently set back to gain dignity of aspect; it would be screened to the south by the trees of Government House grounds, while on the east it would be alongside the residential out-buildings of Government House which, while good specimens of domestic architecture, would harmonise but ill with a public building on a grand scale.

(f) The Police Court in Bankshall Street, together with the opium godowns and Sailors' Home to the west of it.—Even assuming that the existing buildings could be cleared away (the Police Court, at least, is almost overdue for demolition) the site would never permit of a satisfactory facade. The frontage on Bankshall Street would inevitably be poor, while the accumulation of carriages and motors at this spot would be a serious impediment to traffic.

(g) The Custom House, combined (possibly) with the office of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.—The Custom House site is Imperial; taken alone it would not afford a sufficiently broad frontage to the east, and any building upon it would have to be squeezed in laterally from east to west in a mean and unimposing manner. To some extent this could be remedied were the Commissioner's office thrown into the frontage, but even then this would be bisected in an awkward manner by the north side of Dalhousie Square, while the destruction of a convenient and fairly modern public building (for which, in its turn, a substitute would be required) would be involved. We would have less diffidence in contemplating the demolition of the Custom House, firstly, because we understand that it has long been condemned as an unsatisfactory building, and secondly, an up-to-date office could be built on the balance of the site which could be made available if the present space was utilised to the utmost advantage. At present it is wasted in a manner which, looking to its value, cannot be held to be justifiable, and which, in any event, merits the serious consideration of Government, but apart from the objections which we have enumerated we do not think the situation itself is best suited for the purpose of a Council Chamber, and the traffic difficulties would greatly be intensified were it located here. It is known too by experience of what was once the old Bengal Council Chamber in Writers' Buildings that the north west corner of Dalhousie Square is excessively noisy.

(h) Dalhousie Square East.—Our attention was largely drawn to the possibilities of this site by the magnificent architectural treatment of Dalhousie Square which would be feasible were a public building of the first class erected on this side of it, making the square as a whole one of which any city might well be proud. The locality also is accessible in a marked degree. But we are doubtful whether so large an encroachment on the business area of the city is justifiable, while the cost would be almost prohibitive. The latest valuation we have seen of the site and buildings, etc., alone is in the neighbourhood of a crore of rupees, and we consider this objection to be insuperable.

(i) The junction of Chowringhee Road and Central Avenue when remodelled by the Improvement Trust.—This will undoubtedly afford a fine site for a public building when the project of the Central Avenue is completed, but it is likely to be terribly expensive, and it will inevitably be noisy, with a congestion of traffic rendered more serious by its use for the purpose of a Council Chamber. Its occupation in that way would, of course, encroach upon space which would otherwise be available to meet business needs. Moreover, the land will not be cleared for some time to come.

5. On the grounds shortly outlined we discard, therefore, the nine localities just mentioned, and, with the exceptions with which we will now deal, no other site has been suggested which seems sufficiently attractive to merit discussion of its possibilities. These exceptions are—

- (i) the Town Hall, (including the Imperial Legislative Department building, some eight bighas);
- (ii) The Victoria Memorial; and
- (iii) the area of the maidan to the north of the Eden Gardens running from Strand Road on the west to Government Place on the east; and it is between these that it seems to us the choice must lie. As lending itself to imposing architectural treatment, as sufficiently spacious, as quiet and convenient from a traffic point of view, and as accessible, either the first or third site meets the requirements of the situation, and in these aspects there is not much, speaking broadly, to choose between them; the second possibility means the adaptation of an existing building which is approaching completion. The considerations which affect each choice are discussed below.

6. The history of the present Town Hall is a somewhat curious one, and the question of its relinquishment has been previously debated. A succinct account of the earlier history was given by the Bengal Government to the Government of India in a letter, dated the 28th March 1911, from which we quote:—

“The erection of the Town Hall was financed mainly from two sources, voluntary subscriptions and the proceeds of public lotteries which were established partly for this purpose and partly for the general improvement of the town of Calcutta, and these funds were further aided by contribution from Government. The cost of maintaining the building was borne by the Lottery Fund until 1849, when the charge was transferred to general revenues. In 1865 the question of making over the Town Hall to the Justices of the Peace for the town of Calcutta was first raised by this Government, and the Chairman of the Justices was addressed on the subject. It was proposed that the charge of the Town Hall, which till then had been in the hands of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, might with advantage be made over to the Justices for the use of the town, the cost of its improvement, repair, etc., being borne by the municipal funds, while the Justices would make such arrangements as would provide an income sufficient to meet the necessary expenses, while affording the public the free use of the Hall for all legitimate purposes. The Justices thereupon resolved to accept, on behalf of the town, the charge of the Town Hall, on condition that the proprietary right in and charge of the Hall and all buildings, out-offices and premises attached thereto, together with any furniture or other property contained therein, not being private property, should be made over to them, and that they should have the sole and uncontrolled management thereof.

“These conditions, however, were subsequently waived, as appears from this Government's letter No. 804, dated the 31st January 1866, to the Government of India, in which it was stated that the Justices had agreed to the proposal to transfer the Town Hall of Calcutta, and all the public property belonging to it, to the municipality, to be held by them as trustees for the town, on condition of their keeping it in constant and thorough repair and maintaining it as a place of public resort and use. As the lower floor of the Town Hall was at that time occupied by the High Court, it was proposed that the Justices should take over the Hall on the understanding that, until other arrangements could be made, it would continue to be occupied by the Court on payment of a fair rent by Government to the municipality. These proposals were approved by the Government of India in the Home Department letter No. 1412, dated the 13th February 1866. The conditions on which the transfer of the Town Hall were sanctioned were communicated, in due course, to the Chairman of the Justices, and the Hall with all its appurtenances was transferred to the Calcutta municipality on those conditions on the 1st May 1866."

"In 1904, with reference to a proposal which had been made by one of the Municipal Commissioners to sell the Town Hall to Government and to utilise the proceeds for the erection of a new hall and theatre, the Chairman of the Corporation enquired of this Government whether, in the event of the Corporation agreeing to sell the Town Hall Government would purchase it, and, if so, at what price. In considering this matter, the question arose whether the Corporation had any saleable proprietary right in the Hall. The Legal Remembrancer, after discussing the case with the Advocate-General with reference to sections 7 and 556 of the Calcutta Municipal Act and the history of the building, gave the following opinion:—'The Corporation has no saleable interest in the property. It was transferred to the Justices—that is, charge was handed over—in 1866, to be held by the Justices in trust for the town on certain conditions. The proprietary rights remain with the Government, and the Town Hall never became the property of or vested in the Corporation. If the Corporation do not wish to remain in charge and management of the building, it is open to them to retransfer it to Government, but they cannot demand any price or sell the property. So far as the Government is concerned the Town Hall may not be an inalienable trust property, but the Corporation has no rights in it which they can sell.'

"The Legal Remembrancer's opinion was further invited on the question whether there was any legal objection to a building being erected on another site to take the place of the existing Town Hall, the present site being utilised by Government for some other purpose. After consulting the Advocate-General he gave the following opinion:—'There is no objection to the above proposal. The Corporation may hand back possession of the Town Hall to Government and provide a town hall elsewhere, and the Government might give a grant of money towards the construction of the new town hall. It should not be a sale.'

"The substance of these opinions was communicated to the Government of India and, in Mr. Mant's reply, dated the 23rd March 1905, it was stated that the Imperial Government did not require the Town Hall but they understood that the Corporation was bound to maintain it till the Government of India relieved them of the obligation. The Chairman was informed that the Corporation had no saleable interest in the property, the proprietary rights in which still vested in Government; that the Hall was not then required either by the Imperial or the Provincial Government, and that, if it were wanted for Government purposes, it was possible that the question of taking it over and making a grant towards the construction of a new Town Hall might be considered.

"Here the question rested until, in July 1905, the Government of India reopened it in connection with the provision of accommodation for the Imperial Library, and enquired whether the Corporation wished to surrender the present Town Hall, and, if so, on what terms. It was stated that, looking to the past history of the Town Hall, there seemed no doubt that the Corporation had no saleable interest in the building or in its site, their tenure of the building being conditional on their continuing to use it for the purposes for which it had theretofore been maintained; and that it was not unlikely that the Corporation might agree to give up the present Hall if they received some assistance from the Government of India to enable them to erect another.

"The proposal was referred to the Chairman, and was considered by a special committee and at meetings of the Corporation. It is significant that the legal opinion regarding the rights of Government in the Town Hall were not challenged by any member either of the committee or of the Corporation. On the other hand, at the meeting held on the 25th July 1906, the resolution of the special committee 'that the Town Hall be not sold' was not confirmed, and it was resolved 'that the Corporation should determine the terms on which they would give up to Government their rights in the existing Town Hall.' The proposal however was dropped, partly in view of more urgent requirements and partly because no suitable alternative site presented itself, and public opinion was not in favour of a new building.

"The rights of Government and the Corporation have again come under consideration in connection with the present question of providing permanent accommodation for the enlarged Legislative Councils at Calcutta. An enquiry was made from the Chairman as to the terms on which the Commissioners would be willing to transfer the Town Hall building and site to Government, their attention being again drawn to the original conditions of the transfer of the building to the Justices of the Peace and to the legal opinion that they had no saleable interest in the property, the proprietary rights in which still vested in Government. The matter was considered, on the 15th December 1909, by a Special Committee, who resolved to recommend to the Corporation that, without admitting the contention of Government that the Corporation had no saleable interest in the property, and that the proprietary rights are vested in Government, the Corporation are willing to accept a sum of 10 lakhs and to make over the Town Hall to Government.' This proposal, however, was not accepted. The legal aspect of the question does not appear to have been seriously discussed at the meeting in which the recommendation of the Committee was submitted to the Corporation, but it may be noted that, at a meeting held on the 25th October 1910, Dr. C. Banks, one of the Municipal Commissioners, said that there was a question involved as to whose property the Town Hall really was, to which the acting Chairman replied that 'it belonged to the Corporation, the only question being whether their interest in it was saleable.' "

The final conclusions of the Corporation were embodied in a resolution passed at a meeting of the 23rd November 1910, which ran as follows:—

"That Government be informed that the only suitable site which the Corporation have been able to find is estimated to cost about Rs. 22 lakhs which, together with the cost of the building, would involve an expenditure of at least Rs. 30 lakhs. This figure appears to be prohibitive, and the Corporation therefore regret that they are unable to agree to the transfer of the Town Hall unless Government will provide a suitable site elsewhere, and also contribute substantially towards the cost of the new building."

In the light of subsequent developments and the removal of the Government of India to Delhi, the suggested transfer was not further pursued, and at this stage the question, at the moment, rests.

7. This Committee is clearly not in a position to reopen negotiations with the Corporation, but from the extract which we have reproduced we think it is clear that an amicable transfer of the present Town Hall to the local Government would not be effected without the payment of a sum which in 1910 was put at about Rs. 30 lakhs, and which, looking to the recent rise of land values, etc., is not likely to be less now, even if it was not more. At the same time there are considerations to which the Corporation would do well to attach weight in moderation of their expectations; as representing the local public they are keenly interested in the construction of a Council Chamber which will be a credit to the city, and it has long been recognised that the present Town Hall is not in a satisfactory condition. We understand that its proper repair is estimated to cost about Rs. 2 lakhs, while there can be little doubt that the interests of the town would be well served by the provision of a new and up-to-date building. Nevertheless the fact remains that the acquisition of the site for the purpose of a Council Chamber would be a costly business. There would also be other disadvantages attaching to it. The sooner work can be started on the new Council Chamber the better, even though it is clear that the completion of a new building before the enlarged Council comes into being is impracticable. But negotiations with the Corporation will take time, as also will the clearing of the site, even admitting that for a time Calcutta could be left without a Town Hall. If, as is possible, it might be necessary to include in the site the old Legislative Department building of the Government of India, a fresh complication would be introduced.

8. The history of the Victoria Memorial is within recent memory, but it will be convenient to quote the purpose of its erection in the authoritative words of those who promoted it. Thus in a memorandum by Lord Curzon, dated the 4th February 1901, the object in view was defined as:—

"The erection in Calcutta of a memorial building or hall, to be called by Her Majesty's name, and to constitute a National Gallery for all India, handing down to future generations the records, and trophies, and mementoes, of whatever has been great or remarkable in the past."

In the preamble to Act X of 1903 the building is described as "a memorial of the life and reign of Her late Majesty Victoria of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Empress of India," for which purpose "large sums of money have been subscribed by the Princes and People of India." The control of the building is vested in trustees appointed under this Act, who are charged (inter alia) with "the erection, maintenance and management of the Memorial, and the care and custody of the objects deposited therein." Statutory rules will govern the conditions under which the public shall have access thereto.

The utilisation of a portion of the Memorial as a Council Chamber was clearly not within the contemplation of those who first promulgated the scheme and of those who contributed towards it. In such contributions the share of Bengal (Rs. 16 lakhs out of Rs. 56 lakhs) was considerable, but of the total it was only a little more than a quarter. It is obviously not within the power of anyone but the statutory trustees to permit the use of the building in a particular way, and the trustees are representative of interests other than those of Bengal, noticeably of the Chiefs and Nobles of India and the general body of subscribers. It is not, of course, for this Committee to approach the trustees, but even if the scheme is permissible within the terms of the statute, we imagine that they would be guided, among other things, by the wishes of the subscribers, and we note that in a leading Bombay journal a protest against the idea has already appeared. From this point of view, therefore, the feasibility of the scheme is at least doubtful.

The scheme itself, as it has been brought to our notice, presumes the occupation of the southern end of the Memorial on both floors, it being assumed that the remainder of the building will suffice for the housing of the collections already gathered together or to be accumulated in the future. On these lines there would be available a large hall of adequate size for the actual Council (its acoustic properties would require to be tested), though the galleries would never give convenient accommodation for the press and the public; apart from this there would be left for subsidiary purposes a spacious ante-room; (with some adaptation) some six rooms of different sizes (two large); and six small rooms in the corner towers, besides a certain amount of passage space. It necessarily follows that a building adapted for a purpose quite different from that for which it was built could never afford the conveniences of a building carefully designed to be a Council Chamber, and while the accommodation just specified would house the Legislative Council in a way, it would never be the best way. Neither, in space, would it give the accommodation which we have outlined in paragraph 3, and which would require therefore to be curtailed. Noticeably restaurants would not be a suitable adjunct to the Memorial nor could room be found for them; the alternative of locating them in the grounds is not free from disadvantages. We conclude, therefore, that this scheme would not afford a thoroughly satisfactory solution of the problem; it would always be a makeshift, and incidentally one which sacrifices the ideal of easy accessibility. It is not moreover a cheap makeshift, at least if the views of some who have advocated it are followed. By them it seems to be thought that the fact that the trustees are in need of funds (the deficit has been publicly* stated to be "at least twelve lakhs," though we believe it to be more in the neighbourhood of eighteen lakhs) would be an inducement to them to allow the use of the Memorial in this way, should the local Government accept that liability. But we think it would be a mistake to pay so large a sum for a Chamber which could never in convenience equal one specially constructed even at a somewhat higher cost. No scheme which we can foresee will be free from difficulties, and it is best to adopt the solution which will at least yield the best results. The attractions of the idea of utilising the Memorial lie in the splendid external features of the building, and in the fact that it can be made ready for use within a far shorter time than any other. In this latter aspect the proposal may merit consideration as affording a temporary habitation for the Council, though for its permanent abode we would look elsewhere.

9. There remains the third site referred to above, and it is this which we would finally favour. It is naturally divisible into two portions; that to the west, on which the swimming bath and volunteer headquarters at present stand, and that to the east, opposite the Town Hall. Of the two, we prefer the latter; its utilisation would avoid the necessity of moving existing buildings, and we understand the provision of an equally convenient regimental headquarters would not be easy; moreover it would be further removed from the noises of the river and the trams, and therefore quieter. We recognise that the objection may be raised that we propose an unjustifiable encroachment on the maidan, and to this criticism we have given particular consideration as it would be much to be regretted should controversy on this score arise. But there are facts to be remembered on the other side, and we would emphasise them in the hope that they will be dispassionately weighed. The corner is only technically a part of the maidan; it is separated from what is ordinarily understood by the term, and it is little used either for exercise or recreation; it is untidy and ill kept, and its defilements are mainly police drilling and syces grazing horses; the substitution of a building standing amid a well kept garden would still leave a fair amount of open space in a much improved condition.

From the point of view of the Council Chamber there are other incidental advantages, this site affords more room for convenient extensions than any other; it can be made available at short notice; it involves no demolition of existing buildings, and, above all, it will allow of expenditure being concentrated upon the building itself and not diverted to a very large extent to the provision of the site. The utilisation of the site will be contingent upon the assent of the Military authorities, but they will doubtless recognise that the conditions are exceptional.

We are aware that Calcutta sentiment is reluctant, and rightly so, to allow building upon the maidan, but we have endeavoured to show that in this particular instance there is much to be said on the other side, while if the city wishes to have a Council Chamber worthy of its dignity, some sacrifice is inevitable. We imagine that the weightiest factor in inducing this feeling of reluctance is the apprehension that if one encroachment is permitted others will follow, but the circumstances of the present case are eminently special, and no dangerous precedent should be created by its admission, apart from the fact that the veto of the Army Department upon the improper absorption of the maidan will always constitute a powerful safeguard.

10. After, therefore, to the best of our ability, weighing the various considerations which affect the different courses which might be adopted, we advise that the least objection attaches to the selection of the site on the maidan opposite the Town Hall, which in itself is conspicuously suited to the construction of a Council Chamber that the Presidency can hereafter regard with pride. We have not arrived at this conclusion without reluctance, as the preservation intact of the spaciousness of the maidan is to the interest of every citizen of Calcutta. But, apart from sentiment, we do not believe that our plan is, in fact, open to the objection that it impair the amenities of the maidan, and looking to the exceptionally important public purpose which is to be served, and the greater drawbacks attaching to other possible selections, we consider we are justified in recommending a course which, in ordinary circumstances, we should deprecate.

AN ACT TO CONTINUE AND EXTEND THE PROVISIONS OF THE ALIENS

[23rd December 1919.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Continuance and Extension of Emergency Powers.

1.—(1) The powers which under sub-section (1) of section one of the Aliens Restriction Act, 1914 (which Act, as amended by this Act, is hereinafter in this Act referred to as the principal Act), are exercisable with respect to aliens at any time when a state of war exists between His Majesty and any foreign power or when it appears that an occasion of imminent national danger or great emergency has arisen, shall, for a period of one year after the passing of this Act, be exercisable, not only in those circumstances, but at any time; and accordingly that sub-section shall, for such period as aforesaid, have effect as though the words "at any time when a state of war exists between His Majesty and any foreign power, or when it appears that an occasion of imminent national danger or great emergency has arisen" were omitted.

(2) Any order made under the principal Act during the currency of this section shall be laid before each House of Parliament forthwith, and, if an Address is presented to His Majesty by either House of Parliament within the next subsequent twenty-one days on which that House has sat after any such order is laid before it praying that the order may be annulled, His Majesty in Council may annul the order, and it shall thenceforth be void, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder.

Provided that this provision shall not apply in the case of an order the operation of which is limited to a time when a state of war exists between His Majesty and any foreign power, or when it appears that an occasion of imminent national danger or great emergency has arisen.

2.—(1) Sub-section (1) of section one of the principal Act shall be amended by the addition at the end thereof of the following paragraph:—

Extension of powers.

(1) for determining what nationality is to be ascribed to aliens in doubtful circumstances, and for disregarding, in the case of any person against whom a deportation or expulsion order has been made, any subsequent change of nationality.

(2) For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of any Treaty of Peace concluded or to be concluded between His Majesty and any Power with which His Majesty was at war in the year nineteen hundred and eighteen, His Majesty may by Order in Council under the principal Act make regulations requiring information to be given as to the property, liabilities, and interests of former enemy aliens, and for preventing (without notice or authority) the transfer of or other dealings with the property of such aliens.

Further Restrictions of Aliens.

3.—(1) If any alien attempts or does any act calculated or likely to cause sedition or disaffection amongst any of His Majesty's Forces or the forces of His Majesty's allies, or amongst the civilian population, he shall be liable on conviction on indictment to penal servitude for a term not exceeding ten years, or on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

(2) If any alien promotes or attempts to promote industrial unrest in any industry in which he has not been bona fide engaged for at least two years immediately preceding in the United Kingdom, he shall be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

4. No alien shall hold a pilotage certificate for any pilotage district in the United Kingdom; except that the provisions of section twenty-four of the Pilotage Act, 1913; shall continue to apply to the renewal and issue of certificates entitling a master or mate of French nationality to navigate his ship into the ports of Newhaven or Grimsby.

5. - (a) affect the assumption or use or continued assumption or use of any name in pursuance of a Royal licence; or

(4) The Secretary of State shall refer all such statements to the advisory committee to be constituted under this section, and the committee shall thereupon require each alien affected to make to the committee within one month, in a form prescribed by the committee, an application to be allowed to remain in the United Kingdom, stating the general grounds on which the application is based, and the answer of the alien to the allegations made in

		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

(3) The overseas allowances set out in columns 3 and 6 above (which will reckon as salary for all purposes of the Civil Service Regulations) will ordinarily be granted only to officers of non-Indian domicile; but as an exception to this general rule, all Indian officers now in the Indian Civil Service, as well as the Indian candidates selected at the Open Competitive Examination of 1919 who are now undergoing probation, and all Indian candidates selected at the next five Open Competitive Examinations beginning with the examination of 1920, will be regarded as eligible for the allowance. Thereafter the continuance of this concession will be further considered.

NOTE.—Overseas allowance will cease for officers holding appointments outside the time scale and the pay sanctioned for such appointments will be the same for all incumbents.

(4) With the exception of 1st grade judges on Rs. 3,000 mentioned in paragraph 3 below, all officers on the general time-scale holding superior judicial appointments, including Legal Remembrancers, will draw a duty allowance of Rs. 150 a month in addition to their salary under that scale. Judicial officers serving in the Madras Presidency will draw this allowance in addition to the salary permissible under the general time-scale and not in addition to that admissible under the scale sanctioned for Madras Collectors.

(5) Officers will become eligible for the increment of Rs. 50 per mensem shown in the second and third years of the time-scale on passing the first and second departmental examinations respectively, and will remain on Rs. 700 per mensem (or Rs. 550, if not eligible for overseas allowance) until the completion of their third year of service.

(6) The time-scales set out above will take the place of the existing grade pay and will cover appointments now graded as Assistant Commissioners, Assistant Collectors and Joint Magistrates or Sub-Collectors, all of which (with the exception of 1st grade Sub-Collectors in Madras mentioned in paragraph 2 below) will be classed as inferior; and Deputy Commissioners or Magistrate-Collectors, and District and Sessions Judges or Divisional Judges, Additional Magistrates and Additional Judges and such appointments as are graded with Magistrates and Collectors or Deputy Commissioners and District and Sessions Judges, all of which will be classed as superior. The 1st grade judges on Rs. 3,000 and the other appointments on fixed rates of pay mentioned in paragraph 3 below will, however, be outside the time-scale.

(7) An officer holding an appointment classed as "inferior" will draw pay according to the inferior scale subject to the efficiency bar at the beginning of the twelfth year. An officer holding an appointment classed as "superior" will draw pay according to the superior scale for so long as he holds the appointment (whether appointed to it substantively or officiating in it).

If a mistake be made, it shall be corrected by crossing out the incorrect words or figures and the correction thus made shall be initialled.

The entries in the measurement book should, if possible, be made in ink, but when this is not possible and the entries have to be made in pencil, the pencil entries shall not be inked over, but left untouched. The contents or area shall, however, be invariably inked in.

(b) Every measurement shall be recorded by the officer by whom it is actually made and bear his signature and the date. The practice of entering measurements in note-books or on slips of paper and afterwards copying them into measurement books is prohibited.

(c) The measurement book shall be submitted to the District Engineer's office where an arithmetical check of the calculation will be made by the Accountant.

20. To enable the Overseer or other officer in charge of works to submit his measurement book with the bills or accounts of the District Engineer's office, two or more books for his use shall be provided. The measurement books, after they are completed, shall be returned to the District Engineer's office for record.

WORKS EXECUTED BY CONTRACT.

Tenders.

23. In the case of all works executed by contract, tenders shall ordinarily be invited in the most open and public manner possible, whether by advertisement in the local newspapers or by notices in the vernacular posted in public places.

A schedule of tenders will be kept in Form No. 6.

AGREEMENTS.

24. For every work given out on contract, an agreement on stamped paper shall be taken and executed in accordance with rule 102 (Part V—Transfer of Property and Contracts).

SECURITY.

25. As a safeguard against possible loss to the District Board, security for the due fulfilment of a contract shall, as a rule, be taken from the contractor and such security shall be either in the shape of a lump sum or a deduction of 10 per cent. made from the payments due from time to time on account of work done.

NOTE.—The securities so taken will also serve to cover possible over-payments which may be detected on check measurement.

CONTRACT CERTIFICATES.

26. (a) Payments for work done or materials supplied by contractors shall be made as a rule monthly on a contract certificate in Form No. 7 showing quantities and value of work executed up to date. Such payments shall be treated as payments on account. No payment shall be made on these bills and certificates unless supported by an acknowledgment by the officer or subordinate concerned that the work has been efficiently done or the supplies received, as the case may be.

(b) On the completion or cessation of the work, the final adjustment of the contractor's claim shall be made on bills printed on yellow paper and the payment shall be made on the contractor adding on the bill a certificate in his own handwriting or attested by his thumb impression that the payment is in full settlement of all demands.

(c) When contractors or suppliers are paid up at once on completion of the work or supplies, Form No. 8 may be used for the bill.

NOTE.—Contract certificates shall always be prepared in duplicate, one being stamped original and the other duplicate.

CHECK OF CONTRACT CERTIFICATES IN DISTRICT ENGINEER'S OFFICE.

27. Before a bill or certificate is certified as correct by the District Engineer, his Accountant shall check it in all its details comparing it with the measurement books, the sanctioned estimate, agreements, records of quantities and rates of materials supplied from stock or from materials at site and records of previous payments made on account of the same work, etc. Before signing the certificate of correctness, the District Engineer shall satisfy himself that all necessary checks have been applied by his office.

NOTE.—See District Board account rule 175.

28. (a) Certified copies shall be kept in the office of the District Engineer of all bills and certificates. In the case of those to be paid in the District Board's office, the original, after being certified to as correct by the District Engineer, shall be returned to the payee for presentation at the District Board's office for payment, the certified copy being sent by the District Engineer direct to the District Board's office by way of advice.

(b) It is not necessary that both the original and the certified copy of a bill shall be receipted by the payee, but the cheque issued in payment of the bill shall be specified on the certified copy, which shall then be returned without delay to the District Engineer for his guidance in respect of further certificates. The original, which shall be receipted by the payee, shall after payment be filed in the District Board's office as a voucher for payment.

PAYMENT TO CONTRACTORS.

29. Payments to contractors and suppliers shall be made by means of cheques drawn in their favour by the District Board's office. Such cheques shall be delivered to them direct and not through the Overseer.

(See District Board rules 173 and 174.)

CONTRACTORS' LEDGER.

30. The accounts relating to contracts are to be kept as personal accounts and a separate folio shall be opened in the contractors' ledger (Form No. 9) for each contractor. The entries in the debtor side show the payments made to the contractors and those on the creditor side the value of work done as shown in the contract certificates passed from time to time. The account shall embrace all transactions to which the contractor is a party whether relating to one or several works or to materials purchased from him. The number and amount of each passed bill and certificate, the name of the work and the number and amount of each cheque shall be shown in the ledger. The value of materials made over or labours supplied to a contractor shall be debited to his account and a receipt for the value thereof taken from him in support of the debit. A copy of the account shall be furnished to the contractor whenever he desires it. At convenient intervals, the contractor should be asked to look at this account in the ledger and sign it in token of his acceptance of its correctness.

NOTE.—Security deposits shall not find a place in the contractors' ledger.

POSTING THE LEDGER.

31. The ledger shall be posted as bills are passed by the District Engineer, the District Engineer's Accountant shall not pass contractors' bills without referring to the ledger. The ledger shall be closed and balanced monthly.

When there are balances due to a contractor on more than one certificate, the amount due on each certificate shall be detailed in the ledger.

When there are balances outstanding from previous months not affected by the month's transactions, a list of such balances shall be given.

The District Engineer's initials shall be obtained below each of these entries in token of his having satisfied himself that the balances are carried forward correctly.

REGISTER OF BILLS.

32. On receipt in the Engineer's office of a contract certificate, nominal muster-roll, establishment or other bill for payment, it shall be entered in the register of bills (Form No. 10) in which the date of passing for payment and other particulars shall also be entered.

ADVANCE AND DEPOSITS.

33. (a) In the District Fund Accounts, all advances for works will be charged to the separate suspense account of advances which is credited with the value of work done, supplies received or labour performed, as the case may be.

(b) All advances to contractors and others shall be made from the District Board's office and all deposits shall be paid direct into the Treasury, but in special cases, the Board may authorize the District Engineer to make such petty advances, within prescribed limits, as may be considered necessary. The accounts of advances and deposits to be kept in the District Engineer's office will, therefore, be but memoranda for the guidance of a District Engineer in issuing certificates for payment. The accounts shall be kept in District Board Form Nos. 36 and 37, a separate folio being opened for each contractor. The accounts shall be balanced every month and signed by the District Engineer.

(c) The balances of the advance and deposit ledgers kept in the District Engineer's office shall be agreed monthly by the District Engineer's Accountant with those kept in the District Board's office.

WORKS EXECUTED THROUGH DEPARTMENTAL AGENCY.

Muster-roll.

34. When work is done by daily labour through departmental agency, the basis of the account shall be the muster-roll and when payments are not made daily, the muster-roll shall be a nominal one, that is, names of the labourers shall be entered in it. This shall be kept in Form No. 11. The nominal muster-roll being the initial record of the labour employed each day on a work, shall be written up daily by the subordinate deputed for the purpose each morning before the labourers begin work.

35. An extract from the measurement book shall ordinarily be endorsed on the muster-roll and the quantity of work turned out shall be compared with the cost of the labour employed so as to afford satisfactory evidence that the outturn of work gives a sufficient return for the money spent. Any deficiency in this respect shall be noticed by the paying officer.

36. If, however, the work is of a petty nature and in consequence not susceptible of measurement, a certificate in lieu of the above shall be furnished by the officer in charge of the work to the effect that the work turned out is worth the amount paid for it.

37. The muster-roll shall be closed immediately after the close of the week or other period for which it is kept and the labourers paid as soon after as possible.

The payment shall be made in the presence of the officer of highest standing available, who shall initial with date against the group of labourers paid on that date. The amount paid on each date shall be noted in words as well as figures at the foot of the muster-roll (Form No. 55). The disbursement certificate at the foot of the muster-roll shall then be signed by the officer witnessing the disbursement.

38. Wages not claimed within three months of their falling due shall not be paid without the written orders of the District Engineer.

CONTRIBUTION WORKS.

39. When any work is to be carried out from contribution by Municipalities or private persons, the contribution shall always be recovered and credited in the accounts before the work is commenced. The amounts of the contributions shall be remitted into the Treasury in full and no portion shall be utilized for expenditure on the work, which should be met like that on purely local fund works.

CHECK MEASUREMENTS.

40. All important works executed under the supervision of the District Engineer shall be checked and measured by him.

Road metals and other materials collected on roadside shall be checked, measured after the whole collection on the road by the same contractor is complete. The fact of check measurement shall invariably be noted under his signature with date or dates of check measurement both against the measurement entries in the measurement book and in the contract certificates on which final payment is made.

(See rule 60.)

4. Stores how to be charged in accounts	44
5. Materials at site	45
6. Surplus materials	46
7. Reserve stock	47
8. Old stores	48-49
9. Loss of stores	50

15. Tools and plant	57-58
16. Road metal	59
17. Check of road metal returns in the District Engineer's office	60-61

CLASSIFICATION OF STORES.

41. The stores of the District Engineer's office are divided into two classes: "tools and plant" and "stock." The head "tools and plant" comprises—

Tools.

Plant and machinery.

Scientific instruments and drawing materials.

Camp equipage.

Live-stock.

Office and bungalow furniture.

"Stock" may conveniently be classified under the following sub-heads:—

Building materials.

Timber.

Metal.

Iron materials.

Miscellaneous.

NOTE.—Road metal has been dealt with separately—see rules 59 to 61, indent register of stores.

42. All orders for supplies required for miscellaneous works to be executed shall be issued in Form No. 12 duly signed by the District Engineer. The District Engineer shall see that the persons or firms concerned furnish bills for payment immediately after the close of the month or the completion of the work, as the case may be, supported by the order. But one bill (Form No. 13) shall ordinarily be submitted for all supplies made by the same person during the month supported by the indent orders. The date of completion of the supply, the date of receipt of the bill and the date of payment shall be promptly noted on the office copy of the indent by the Accountant, as each stage will occur.

REGISTER OF PURCHASES.

43. Stores purchased shall be entered as soon as they are received and acknowledged by the subordinate concerned, in the register of purchases (Form No. 14). Before passing the bill for stores supplied, the District Engineer shall see that the quantity of stores has duly been entered in this register and the printed certificate regarding the supply of stores on the bill has been signed by the subordinate concerned. He shall also initial the entries in the register. The District Engineer shall review the register periodically to see that there is no avoidable delay in the payment of firms' bills for supply of materials.

STORES, HOW TO BE CHARGED IN ACCOUNTS.

44. The general principle governing the treatment in accounts of the materials required for works is that expenditure should, as far as possible, be at once charged to the work concerned. In accordance with this principle, all payments on account of materials intended to be used for a work shall be charged against the work.

In exceptional cases, if materials cannot be charged against a particular work, the cost of these materials shall be charged in the account of advances, a sub-head being opened for each description of material.

MATERIALS AT SITE.

45. When materials are purchased by or through the agency of the Board and kept at site of work for use on the work under the care of some subordinate or the contractor who is to be paid the charges for labour only, the details of the quantities of materials received and the values thereof shall be noted in the materials at site accounts (Form No. 15). When any portion of the materials is used on the work, the quantity and the value thereof shall be noted in the issue column of the materials at site account and finally charged to the work.

The balance of unused materials shown in the site material account of a month shall be carried forward in the following month's accounts.

SURPLUS MATERIALS.

46. After the work is completed, any balance left in the accounts under the head "Materials at site" should always be represented by a corresponding quantity of unused material. Such balance shall be disposed of according to the discretion of the District Engineer and the value credited to the head "Materials at site."

RESERVE STOCK.

47. In the case of districts in which it is found to be indispensable to have a stock of materials for efficient working, a certain maximum value of reserve stock shall be fixed by the Board with the approval of the Government, at the lowest figure compatible with efficiency. Stock may then be purchased up to the limit of the value thus fixed and shall be accounted for in forms and registers to be prescribed by the Accountant-General, Local Audit Department, according to local requirements.

OLD STORES.

48. Materials received from buildings, culverts, bridges, etc., dismantled or undergoing repairs will either—

- (i) be brought on the stock accounts (Form No. 15) of the subordinate concerned, or
- (ii) sold at once.

49. Materials which are serviceable shall be utilized for works in progress under the orders of the District Engineer. When transferred to some work in progress, they shall be shown as a receipt in the store accounts of the subordinate in charge of the work.

(See rule 72.)

LOSS OF STORES.

50. (a) When stores are lost, stolen or destroyed, the fact shall at once be reported by the District Engineer to the Board for orders.

(b) The value of such stores shall not be written-off without the sanction of competent authority.

(See District Board account rule 21.)

UNSERVICEABLE STORES.

51. When stores and tools and plant of any kind become unserviceable, or when on taking stock any discrepancy is discovered between the book balance and the quantity actually in hand, a survey report (Form No. 16) shall be prepared and submitted to the Board with the District Engineer's recommendation as to their disposal.

SALE OF STORES.

52. Serviceable stores shall not ordinarily be sold. If, however, they cannot be utilized in any work, they may be sold by public auction with the sanction of the Board.

(See rule 95, part V.)

SALE OF UNSERVICEABLE STORES.

53. On receipt of the survey reports if the Board decide to sell the unserviceable stores, they shall be sold by public auction under the supervision of the District Engineer.

STORE ACCOUNTS TO BE MAINTAINED BY SUBORDINATES.

54. A register showing the receipts and issues of materials shall be maintained by every subordinate in Form No. 15. This register will show only quantities and not value. Separate pages shall be set apart for each work.

55. Every subordinate shall, on the 1st of every month, submit to the District Engineer a separate statement for each work in Form No. 15, showing the receipts, issues and balances of all materials appertaining to it during the previous month. For works in which there have been no receipts or issues of materials during the month, he shall submit a return showing simply the names of the works and stating that during the month there have been no transaction for material on them.

VERIFICATION OF MATERIALS AT SITE BY THE DISTRICT ENGINEER.

56. Once a year, a statement showing the quantity and the value of materials at site charged to works shall be drawn up. [The District Engineer shall verify the balances of materials at site of work by actual counting or measurement as the case may be and certify if the materials are in good condition. In cases where the materials actually at site of works, differ from the balances shown in the materials at site accounts, he shall report the matter to the Board for orders.]

When a work is closed, the value of the unused materials, if any, lying at site of the work shall be debited to "advances" by credit to the work concerned.

TOOLS AND PLANT.

57. The register of tools and plant shall be kept in Form No. 17; the expenditure on tools and plant shall be entered in the register in the same manner as works and repairs. Each item, whatever may be the amount, shall be shown in detail, and at the end of every year account shall be taken by an officer appointed by the Chairman, who shall certify the fact in the body of the register, any difference in balance at the end of the year between the figures of the columns "as per this return" and "actual as counted" being fully explained.

58. A separate account shall be kept of tools temporarily lent to contractors or in use by the subordinates. When no longer required, they will be received back by the store-keeper and transferred to the account of articles in store.

ROAD METAL.

59. A statement of receipts, issues and balances of road metal on each road shall be prepared monthly from the measurement book by the subordinate in charge of the road in Form No. 18 and forwarded to the District Engineer's office where it will be checked by the Accountant, passed by the District Engineer and filed. In this statement, the transactions of each mile shall be shown separately. The balance of metal in each mile shall be shown monthly whether there are any transactions on it during the month or not.

(See rule 40.)

CHECK OF ROAD METAL RETURNS IN THE DISTRICT ENGINEER'S OFFICE.

60. The quantities of road metal received or expended during a month shall be shown in the road metal returns shall be checked by the District Engineer and Accountant with the respective vouchers in which the charges for collection and consolidation have been paid. The discrepancies, if any, shall be promptly reconciled by reference to the subordinates concerned. The number and date of the vouchers in which the charges for collection and consolidation were paid shall be noted in columns 4 and 7 of the return against the item concerned by the Accountant.

61. Road metal should not ordinarily be transported from one place to another; it should be used on the spot where it was originally collected, except in the case of abandoned works. The collection of metal shall not be simultaneously done in the same or adjoining miles of a road.

CHAPTER V.

ACCOUNTS OF WORKS.

						Rules.
1.	Works abstract	62
2.	Register of works	63-67
3.	Amounts due to contractor	68
4.	Amounts due from contractor	69
5.	Materials at site	70-71
6.	Write-back orders	72
7.	Workshop accounts	73
8.	Work register and muster-roll	74-75
9.	Manufacture accounts	76-79

62. (a) The expenditure on each work will be brought together from the certified copies of bills passed by the District Engineer and entered in the "works abstract" (Form No. 19), which shows the expenditure on the work under different sub-heads. In the case of works costing less than Rs. 2,500, it is not necessary that the expenditure should be shown under so many sub-heads and half sheets (Form No. 19-A) may be used. The abstract shall be supplemented by an account showing materials at site (Form No. 15).

(b) When finally completed in all respects, the work abstract shall be examined and signed by the District Engineer and any explanations necessary will be called for from the subordinates concerned.

REGISTER OF WORKS.

63. As soon as estimates are sanctioned, the amount of each sanctioned estimate, the allotment for the year and name of the work shall be entered in the register of works (Form No. 20). Any additions and reductions in the appropriations made during the year shall also be noted therein, each sub-head in the abstract estimate shall be numbered and the corresponding numbers entered in the register thus:—

- (1) excavation;
- (2) earthwork;
- (3) soling, etc.

NOTE.—The register of works shall be neatly indexed for ready reference.

64. In the case of original works and repairs, no item of estimate under Rs. 200 shall be separately detailed in the register of works and no work or repair estimated to cost less than Rs. 2,500 shall be accounted for by sub-heads, except in cases where the District Engineer may desire it.

65. When work done is actually measured and paid for, the expenditure under each head shall be entered in the approximate column. These particulars shall be posted from the works abstract.

66. When in case of emergency or to prevent loss or damage, expenditure is incurred on items of work for which provision has not been made in the sanctioned estimate for the work, the amount shall be separately shown in the work register, and not charged off against any other sub-head on which there may be a saving, and if sanction has not already been obtained in accordance with rule 31, part IX, it shall be applied for at once.

67. Monthly progressive totals of the expenditure shall be made in the register of works. The monthly total of expenditure will be written below the monthly total of progress under each sub-head and the rate for each sub-head worked out every month.

AMOUNTS DUE TO CONTRACTOR.

68. Amounts deducted from the bill for future payment shall be entered in the column "due to contractor" and when finally paid a "minus" entry shall be made in the same columns in order to reduce the liability.

AMOUNTS DUE FROM CONTRACTOR.

69. (a) If materials are purchased on behalf of contractors and made over to them, the value of materials shall be entered in the column "due from contractor." When the value is recovered by deduction from the contractors' bills, the amount shall then be deducted by a minus entry in the column "due from contractors."

(b) When on account of bad work by a contractor, it is necessary to incur expenditure for the same work through departmental agency the amount shall be entered in the column "due from contractor" and not under the sub-head to which the work belongs. Similarly the value of work not measured, but paid for, or any other similar amounts will be entered in the column "due from contractor."

When the contractor's next bill is received, the amount shall be deducted from the total of his bill, but shall be included in the register of works under the appropriate sub-head and the "total value of the work done" and deducted again as "due from contractor," a minus entry being made in that column.

NOTE.—All minus entries in the register of works shall be made in red ink.

MATERIALS AT SITE.

70. When materials are purchased for department works or for works for which the contract is for labour only, the value of such materials shall be entered in the column for "materials at site." When actually used, and not before, the value of the materials so used shall be included in the quantity of work done under the appropriate sub-head. The value shall then be deducted from the total again by a minus entry under "materials at site" which will thus only show the balance of unused materials.

SEE RULE 45.

71. When a work is completed, a double line in "red ink shall be ruled below the last entry, and the following note made:—"Work completed and completion report forwarded to the Chairman with No. , dated ."

WRITE-BACK ORDERS.

72. (a) Adjustments in the accounts of works shall be made—

(i) On the transfer of materials from one work to another and (ii) on the discovery of an erroneous charge which should, in a previous month, have been debited to some other estimate.

(b) The officer initialling the adjustment shall fill in an order for a write-back (Form No. 21) and forward it to the District Engineer's office where it shall be completed and approved by the District Engineer. Necessary entries shall then be made in the work abstract by District Engineer's Accountant.

(c) The order for the write-back shall then be sent to the Board's office for necessary corrections in the register or works bills (District Board Form No. 47).

WORKSHOP ACCOUNTS.

73. The Engineer or officer in charge of the workshop shall keep up a stock book (Form No. 22) of stores, apparatus, fittings, etc., received for use in the shop. This register shall be balanced and the stock, etc., in hand verified by the officer in immediate charge of the shop at such intervals as the Board may prescribe, but not less than once a year.

NOTE.—See rules 228 to 231 of the District Board account rules.

WORK REGISTER AND MUSTER-ROLL.

74. To enable a check to be kept upon work done in the workshop, the officer-in-charge shall keep up a work register in Form No. 23. He shall also keep up a muster-roll (Form No. 11) of the workmen.

75. The workshop stock book and the work register shall be examined not less often than once a month by the District Engineer or other officer in charge of public works, who shall sign the register in token of his having made this examination. This officer shall also at frequent and unexpected intervals check the muster-rolls.

MANUFACTURE ACCOUNTS.

76. (a) The manufacture or collection of materials shall, in all cases, be covered by an estimate showing the proposed outlay and the material to be received as outturn.

(b) Accounts of the manufacture or collection of materials will be rendered in works abstract exactly as accounts of works. In order to render these accounts intelligible, it will be necessary to be very careful to keep the account of each operation in a separate works abstract.

77. The outlay shall, in all cases, be shown under such sub-heads as will admit of direct check; for instance, in the manufacture of bricks, the sub-heads may be (1) moulding, (2) loading, (3) fuel, (4) unloading and sorting. In the manufacture of lime, the sub-heads may be (1) limestone or other material, (2) fuel, (3) labour in burning and so on in each different kind of manufacture. The sub-heads shall be fixed and defined so as to afford an opportunity of comparing the results of similar operations.

78. The quantity of material turned out shall be shown in the works abstract. The materials turned out will be priced at the estimated rates. The differences between the actual outlay and the value of the outturn shall be reported to the Board with the District Engineer's explanations and recommendations for orders. The expenditure of raw material will, of course, not be exactly covered in quantity by the outturn of manufactured goods; but care should be taken to see that the wastage is as small as possible.

79. The account of every operation shall be closed at least once in every year at the end of the working season, notwithstanding that the operations, such as brick making, may be estimated from year to year. In such cases, the operations of each season shall be treated as a separate work.

CHAPTER VI.

NOTES.

1. The cash transactions of the District Engineer and his subordinates will be recorded in this simple form, which is kept in duplicate.

2. Each officer or subordinate with whom an imprest account is to be opened receives at starting, from the District Board or District Engineer, a round sum as a standing advance or imprest, which is at once entered in the account, the disbursements from this advance are entered daily as they are made, clearly and in full detail, and from time to time, as the imprest-holder finds it necessary the account is closed and balanced, the right hand half-page is cut off and sent to the officer from whom the imprest is held, the counter foil being retained by the disburser. This account is supported by the necessary vouchers numbered and tacked on so as to correspond with the order of the entries in column 2. Voucher No. The officer to whom the account is submitted, after carefully scrutinizing the account in regard to the propriety of the payments, the clearness and accuracy of the entries, and the sufficiency of the vouchers, reimburses the imprest holder the exact sum expended so as again to bring the imprest cash in hand up to the original amount.

3. The account will contain no entries of receipts other than reimbursements of expenditure nor any entries of expenditure, other than those paid directly by the imprest holder himself from the amount of his imprest. Consequently the fixed standard of imprest should never be exceeded.

4. To facilitate the extracting of the charges shown in the imprest cash book column 6 is provided to show the head under which each charge has to be classed. In order to prepare the charges for entry in the cash book, the entries will be abstracted (on the back of each working form) under the several heads in red ink by the District Engineer.

(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the municipality.

(c) A statement of all outstanding loans specifying in respect of each loan the date when taken, the purpose very briefly, the amount, the annual charges involved, and the amount still payable.

(d) Any explanations in regard to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the municipality when such position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate.

A water tax will yield sufficient amount to meet the charges of proposed loan. Rupees 24,000 will be the expected income which will be sufficient to meet both the remaining and loan charges.

Installation of water-supply scheme will possibly improve the sanitation of Krishnagar, so people will build new houses which will go towards the increase of income.

There is no outstanding loan.

The receipt of water tax on the whole will show a tendency to rise after completion of water-works scheme, as it is expected many people will come back to their ancestral houses who have left for malaria, etc.

Act V of 1898.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE question of legislation to prevent riots in connection with lands gained by alluvion or by the dereliction of a river or the sea in the deltaic tracts of Bengal, has long been under the consideration of Government. In 1905, a Bill was circulated for criticism. This Bill gave the Collector power to take and retain possession of any newly-formed alluvial land, of which possession was disputed, until he or a competent Civil Court declared what person was entitled to possession. The Bill was not, however, proceeded with, in view of a suggestion made by the High Court to the Government of India, for the amendment of the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure in respect of disputes as to immovable property, which was under consideration. In the criminal law applicable to the whole of India, provision could not, however, be made for a problem relating to alluvial lands which was peculiar to Bengal. The question of special legislation for Bengal was, therefore, left over for consideration till the diara lands of the province were surveyed. The survey of these lands has not yet been finished, but it is complete for most of the districts in the eastern portion of the province: whilst the attention of Government has been drawn to the subject again by the final reports on the survey and settlement operations in the districts of Faridpur and Dacca. These reports contain a description of the lawlessness which prevails on account of the impossibility of exact knowledge of title when a char appears in the Ganges, of the ease with which valuable crops can be grown on these chars, and of the advantage which is gained by the strong man who can enforce initial possession. In the existing state of the law there is a premium on violence, and serious riots, involving loss of life, are of frequent occurrence. Also, the preparation of a record-of-rights and of accurate maps, is not alone a sufficient remedy against these evils. It is, therefore, desirable that legislation on the subject should be no longer postponed.

The main object of the Bill is, by giving opportunities for immediate action when the alluvial land forms, to prevent violence from gaining an undue advantage. The previous Bill was open to the objections that it provided for the intervention of the Collector at too late a stage, namely, when a riot was already imminent, and that it entrusted to an executive, instead of to a judicial authority, the duty of deciding questions of title. In framing the present Bill these objections have been met.

• In order that the legitimate landlord may not lose salami by the necessity of the settlement of tenants during the period of attachment, it is intended to make provision by the rules under clause (2) of section 7 for the levy of such salami on his behalf.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 3 gives power to the "Collector," as defined in clause 2(b), to attach alluvial land, if he is satisfied that a dispute in regard to it is likely to cause a breach of the peace, and to demarcate it, and also to appoint a receiver after attachment of the land.

Sub-clause (3) of this clause gives power to anybody interested to come forward and show that the attachment is wrong.

Clause 4, sub-clause (1), requires the Collector to cause a survey to be made of the alluvial land attached under clause 3, and provides for a reference to the Civil Court for a decision as to the title to such land.

It is proposed by sub-clause (2) to deal with such a reference as a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Sub-clause (3) provides for the payment of the costs of the suit.

For the purposes of res-judicata, sub-clause (4) declares that an order by a Civil Court under sub-clause (2) of clause 4 shall be deemed to be a decree.

Clause 5 provides for the Court's certifying its order to the Collector and for the transfer by the Collector of the land to the person held to be entitled to it.

Clause 6 indicates the method for recovering costs incurred in an attachment of alluvial land under sub-clause (3) of clause 3 and sub-clause (1) of clause 4; provision being made for an appeal to the Commissioner in respect of such costs.

Clause 7. The condition of previous publication of rules under this clause will give persons interested an opportunity of sending in objections or criticisms to the rules proposed—see section 24 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899.

Clause 8 is based on section 91 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, and its object is to give protection to the Collector and others in respect of acts under the proposed law.

Clause 9 bars the institution of proceedings under section 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in respect of alluvial land attached by the Collector under clause 3. One object of the Bill is to avoid the application of this section in cases of disputes regarding alluvial lands as it places a premium on violence.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council on the 18th February 1920 :—

No. 6 of 1920.

A Bill to declare that the members of the Cutchi Memon community are subject to Muhammadan Law.

WHEREAS there is in the Presidency of Bombay and elsewhere a class of persons known as Cutchi Memons, and questions have from time to time arisen as to the Law by which such persons are in matters of succession and inheritance governed;

AND WHEREAS the Cutchi Memons consider that they are or desire that they should be governed in those matters by the Muhammadan Law of the Hanafi School;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the applicability of that Law to such persons in those matters should be placed beyond dispute; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called the Cutchi Memons Act, 1920
Short title.

2 It is hereby declared that the Cutchi Memons residing in the Bombay Presidency and elsewhere are governed by the Muhammadan Law of the Hanafi School; and that Law shall, notwithstanding any custom to the contrary, apply to them and their property in each part of British India in all matters of succession and inheritance to the same extent as it applies to other Muhammadans in that part.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Cutchi Memons claim that they are the descendants of the Muhammadans who settled in Cutch after migrating from the coast of Oman. Except for the historical fact that they were originally Hindus and were converted to Muhammadanism about four or five hundred years ago, they are at the present day good and strict Moslems. It has been held by the Courts on more than one occasion since the judgment of Sir Erskine Perry in the year 1847, in what is commonly known as the Khojas and Memons case, that in some particulars they are still governed by the Hindu Customs instead of Muhammadan Law. The Cutchi Memons have always felt aggrieved and considered the principle so established was incorrect both in Law and in practice.

Realising this grievance of the Cutchi Memons a Bill was brought in by Mr. Justice Amir Ali about the end of 1885. That Bill intended to make it permissive to the members of the Cutchi Memon community to declare themselves subject to Muhammadan Law. The Bill provided for such a declaration to be made in a prescribed form. By reason of certain difference of opinion as to its provisions the Bill was not proceeded with.

In the year 1896, another Bill was submitted to the Imperial Legislative Council. That Bill was drafted on practically the same lines as the Bill of 1885. The Government of India would appear to have been still of opinion that it would not be right to accept such a measure unless it were shown to be in accordance with the wishes of the entire community. The Bill was referred to a Select Committee. The Committee made its report on the Bill and the matter was allowed to rest there, and as no motion with respect to the Bill was made for two years, the Bill was removed from the List of Business on the 24th March, 1900, by an order of the President under rule 43 of the Rules for the conduct of Legislative Business.

From the manner in which the Cutchi Memons have been agitating this question in their community it would appear that they are unanimous that they should be governed in all particulars by Muhammadan Law of the Hanafi School.

PROPOSAL FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A NAUTICAL INSTITUTE IN CALCUTTA.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 3RD FEBRUARY 1920.

RESOLUTION—No. 478Marine.

THE Government of Bengal have for some time past had under their consideration the question of establishing a school or nautical institute in Calcutta for the training of Indian seamen in the elements of the theory of navigation and for the training of Indians in the art of navigation on a scientific basis. No facilities at present exist in this Presidency for Indians to qualify themselves for certificates of competency for higher posts in the mercantile marine. The Governor in Council is inclined to the view that an institute or academy on the lines of training institutions in European countries might prove beneficial to a section of Indians of average education who might be encouraged to take up the sailor's profession in future. Enquiries made by Government show that there is at present no actual demand for such an institution in Calcutta, but the Governor in Council thinks that the matter might be discussed with advantage at the present time. The question requires to be very carefully considered. It is necessary in the first place to ascertain definitely whether there is scope for such an institution in Calcutta. If so, the matter should be examined in fuller detail, viz., the course of training, the probable number of boys desirous of going to sea, the shipping companies willing to employ them, the educational and other qualifications required for such employment and any other relevant points. The Government of Bengal consider that the matter should be examined by a representative committee as in Bombay and Madras, where a similar question is already under consideration. The Governor in Council is accordingly pleased to appoint a committee, consisting of the following gentlemen to consider the question with special reference to the points mentioned above. The committee should report their conclusions to Government as early as practicable :—

Second Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1919-20.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1917-18, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on, has in the five years ending 1917-18 averaged (a) 40·7 and (b) 17·8 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the season.—The weather was generally favourable at sowing time; but subsequently the crop suffered through lack of soil moisture. Good showers of rain in the beginning of February improved the situation to some extent. The present condition may be reported as fairly favourable.

Area sown.—The total area under wheat according to the estimates of the district officers amounts to 116,300 acres against 110,600 acres and 114,600 acres shewn in the second and final forecasts, respectively, of last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the district officers the provincial outturn works out at 78 per cent. of the normal, against 52 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast and 61 per cent. in the final forecast of last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1919-20.

(Note.—On an average of the two years ending 1918, the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 5.5 per cent. and that under rape and mustard 12.5 per cent. of the total cultivated area under these crops in British India.)

Area sown.—Oilseeds are grown chiefly in Rajshahi, Dacca and the Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions, the area is small. The estimated area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) for this year amounts to 1,294,200 acres, against 1,801,100 acres and 1,804,800 acres reported, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Character of the Season.—As reported in the first forecast, the season was generally favourable at the sowing time. But the total absence of rain during the months of December and January interfered with the growth of the crops generally. The rainfall in the early part of February was too late to ensure a normal crop. In certain districts insect-pests also caused some damage.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the district officers the provincial outturn of the different oilseed crops works out at 77 per cent. of the normal, against 66 per cent. in the corresponding forecast of last year.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING 1918-19.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 23RD FEBRUARY 1920.

RESOLUTION No. 458 L.S.-G.

READ—

The Reports of Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1918-19.

• District Boards.—There was no change in the constitution of the Boards, except that the number of members was increased from 18 to 24 in Tippera and from 12 to 18 in Noakhali. Last year it was necessary to remind the non-official Chairmen of the District Boards of Murshidabad, the 24-Parganas and Jessore that more extended touring was necessary if the work of the Boards was to be properly carried out. It is satisfactory to note that during the year under review these Chairmen were on tour for 25, 23 and 32 days respectively. Having regard to the advanced age of these gentlemen and their other public and professional duties these tours do them credit. The non-official Chairman of the Bakarganj District Board was on tour for 54 days, and of the Burdwan District Board for 64 days. The latter is reported to have done very good work on his tours; the District Board appears to have exercised a wise discretion in electing a gentleman who has not only time to discharge the duties of his responsible office but also determination to have work done properly.

2. Local Boards.—The elective system was introduced during the year under review in the Local Boards of the Chittagong Division and in the Local Boards of Patuakhali and Bhola in the Bakarganj district. Sanction has also been given to the establishment of Local Boards in the subdivisions of the Chittagong district, where there are at present no Local Boards, and preliminary arrangements are being made for their establishment. General elections were held in five districts; they failed in seven thanas owing to the non-attendance of the prescribed proportion of voters. In the Aansol subdivision, where the roads are under the charge of the Local Board, the entire road cess receipts from the subdivision, after deducting the cost of collection and proportionate charges for office establishment, were made over to the Local Board.

It is hoped that the Village Self-Government Act by extending the sphere of the duties of Local Boards will infuse new vitality into them and stimulate their activity.

3. Union Committees—(a) Constitution.—The number of Union Committees actually at work at the end of the year increased from 174 to 269 with a population of over two millions. In addition to these, 127 new Union Committees had been sanctioned but had not been actually constituted before the end of the year. The elective system is being introduced in all unions where the members are nominated as their term of office expires, and the proportion of elected members has consequently been largely increased.

(b) Income.—The total income of Union Committees (excluding opening balances) increased from Rs. 2,00,000 to Rs. 2,39,000, of which Rs. 1,28,000 was contributed by District Boards. The number of committees imposing union rates rose from 86 to 105, of which 49 were in the Dacca district: the amount realised rose from Rs. 52,000 to Rs. 58,000. As a contrast to the Union Committees of the Dacca district it is noticeable that in the 24-Parganas no assessment was levied by the Union Committees, which relied on grants from the District Board as their chief source of income. The latter district is regarded as advanced, and the unwillingness of the people to raise funds for the improvement of their villages is to be regretted.

(c) Expenditure.—The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 2,34,000, of which Rs. 1,03,000 was spent on roads, Rs. 52,000 on sanitation and Rs. 55,000 on water-supply. Union Committees in Birbhum, Murshidabad, Jessore and Dacca devoted part of their funds to education and in Birbhum, Jessore and Dacca to dispensaries. In the 24-Parganas the tendency of the committees, if left to themselves, is to devote the greater part of their income to roads and to spend as little as possible on water-supply, sanitation, education or medical relief.

(d) Balances.—The number of Union Committees that disposed of the whole of their funds was 31, while 35 others were left with balances of less than Rs. 10. In two Union Committees in Birbhum the closing balances exceeded the total expenditure. One Union Committee in Dacca, which had a total income, of Rs. 3,935 spent only Rs. 1,541 and is responsible for a balance of Rs. 2,424; another in Noakhali kept a balance of Rs. 2,725 out of its income of Rs. 3,677.

4. General remarks.—Although some districts seem to be making little or no progress, the Union Committees generally continued to do good work. In the Chittagong Division for instance it is reported:—"The Union Committees are gradually realizing the advantages of self-taxation and their activities, zeal and enthusiasm will go on developing with the expansion of work entrusted to them." In Faridpur these bodies are genuinely desirous of improving local conditions and are alive to the fact that self-taxation is an essential necessity. The Chairman of the Birbhum District Board writes:—"The steady increase in the number of Union Committees, all willing to impose self-taxation, has been a remarkable feature of the year of report. Some idea of their activities may be gathered from the fact that the funds administered by the Union Committees almost doubled during the year of report and that only a very small percentage of this amount (23·8 per cent.) represents the contributions made by the District Board, the remainder being their income from funds raised by themselves from self-taxation. Under the sympathetic guidance of the District Board, the Union Committees of this district continue to display a steadily increasing measure of self-help, administrative capacity and zeal for the execution of works of sanitation, conservancy, water-supply and medical relief". In Dacca the value of the work accomplished by the Union Committees is enhanced by the fact that it is done economically. The policy of the committees is to avoid the expense of contractors by delegating one of their members to engage and supervise labourers while another member is deputed to inspect the work. The Chairman usually saves the expenses of a clerk by doing the accounts and correspondence himself. Administrative expenses thus become insignificant in comparison with the work done and in many unions they are nil. Similarly in Hooghly where different members are placed in charge of different works the people get very good value for their money.

A dislike of taxation is not peculiar to the villages of Bengal and it is only natural that taxation should not appeal to villagers who have not yet seen the benefits that will result from their contributions. In this connection the Chairman of the Howrah District Board reports:—"As a result of my local inspections I am convinced that taxation is highly unpopular among the villagers and a committee that imposes it knowingly faces unpopularity. The villagers are anxious that Union Committees should improve amenities of life in the village but they expect that all the necessary cost will be provided by the Board or Government. In some cases the fear of taxation leads to opposition to the establishment of Union Committees". In other districts also the committees are apt to rely on the District Board contributions but it is scarcely necessary to point out that as Union Committees and Union Boards increase in number, till there is a network of them in each district, the amounts the Boards will be able to give to each will be so comparatively small that they must be supplemented by adequate local taxation if local needs are to be met.

5. District Board Receipts.—During the year under review the total receipts from all sources (excluding opening balances) increased by over 6 lakhs, viz., from Rs. 1,10,22,000 to Rs. 1,16,57,000: the receipts from local rates rose by $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, while the educational receipts rose by nearly $3\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs.

6. Incidence of Taxation.—The incidence of taxation averaged $2\frac{1}{2}$ annas per head for the whole Presidency and varied from 3 annas 2 pies in the Burdwan Division to 1 anna 11 pies in the Dacca Division.

7. District Board expenditure.—The decrease of expenditure in relation to current income to which Government drew attention last year is still more noticeable in the year under review. Last year the expenditure exceeded the current income by less than Rs. 5,000 in contrast to the previous three years when there was an excess of by $5\frac{1}{2}$, $7\frac{1}{2}$ and $2\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs respectively. In this year the high price of materials and the difficulty of obtaining them led to a curtailment of expenditure, the result being that the current income exceeded the expenditure by $4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs. Many districts were left with large surpluses, and the aggregate closing balance at the end of the year was 23 lakhs—an increase of 3 lakhs on the previous year.

8. Loans.—It is somewhat anomalous that whereas the municipalities with an income of 65 lakhs have taken loans totalling 69 lakhs, the aggregate of the loans of the District Boards of Bengal, with an income of over a crore of rupees, is only 20 lakhs, of which 16 lakhs is on account of the loan taken by the 24-Parganas District Board for the Magra Hât Drainage Scheme. The District Boards are constantly complaining of the inadequacy of their income, but it is their usual practice to finance capital works from current revenue. They have not apparently realized that by so doing they are not taking advantage of their strong financial position to obtain funds for the development of their districts and that they are at the same time unfairly burdening the present generation with the whole capital cost of works of which the benefit will to a large extent be reaped by posterity.

9. Education.—In spite of Government giving the Boards further grants amounting to $3\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, the expenditure on education rose by only Rs. 1,69,000. It aggregated $26\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, about three-fifths of which represented Government grants placed at the disposal of the Boards. The percentage of their income spent on primary education was over 20 per cent. in all but nine districts and varied from 10 per cent. in Burdwan to 30 per cent. in Noakhali and Bogra: the district last named is in advance of other districts of the Rajshahi Division in respect of both male and female education. The total number of Board and aided primary schools rose from 35,278 to 36,654, of which 28,647 were boys schools and 8,007 girls' schools; altogether 2,866 were maintained by the Boards.

It is satisfactory to note that there has been an increase of 592 in the number of girls' schools. The number of night schools organised in the district of Birbhum for the education of artizans and the labouring classes rose from 113 to 144 with an attendance of 2,936 pupils. Weaving schools are being assisted by one or more District Boards in each division, while technical schools are maintained by the District Boards of Burdwan, Khulna, Mymensingh, Tippera, Rajshahi and Pabna: the District Board of Midnapore has also decided to establish one at Jhargram.

10. Medical Relief and Public Health.—These two heads are grouped together for this review as it is impossible to distinguish the expenditure under each. The outlay under the head of Medical increased by $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakh and that shown under the head of Sanitation by about half a lakh. The increases are due mainly to the establishment of new dispensaries, the temporary employment of special doctors to cope with outbreaks of influenza and other epidemics, the free distribution of medicines during diseases, the rise in the price of medicines owing to the war and the more general adoption of sanitary measures.

In nearly all districts definite programmes have been laid down for the gradual extension of dispensaries, and 15 new dispensaries were established during the year. The number would have been still greater had it not been for the high cost of materials and the difficulty of getting them. There was generally greater activity in providing for the needs, both medical and sanitary, of rural areas. In Birbhum for instance five temporary dispensaries were opened and were retained almost throughout the year, the influenza epidemic being succeeded by small-pox and cholera epidemics. The District Board of Hooghly employed five peripatetic Sub-Assistant Surgeons who visited villages and markets (hâts) to give free medical relief and instruct the villagers in matters of hygiene and public health. The Mymensingh District Board maintained a lady doctor and five midwives and also employed two sanitary officers for work during epidemics. In this district 11 extra doctors and 16 compounders were engaged to cope with the epidemic of influenza. In Bakarganj the services of 43 extra medical men (in addition to 30 doctors and 25 compounders attached to the Board's dispensaries) were utilized during the outbreak in October 1918. The Board opened 72 centres, each in charge of a medical man, and freely distributed medicines to the affected persons. In this district the doctors attached to some of the dispensaries visit the neighbouring village markets (hâts) and render medical aid to those attending them. In Rajshahi the system of treating with quinine children in primary schools suffering from malaria was extended. Medical officers of the Board's dispensaries treated school children within a radius of 1 mile from their dispensaries in addition to their dispensary work, and it was arranged that the medical officers of private dispensaries should give similar treatment in the neighbouring schools, the Board supplying the quinine. The results are said to be promising and the experiments will be continued. Two supernumerary doctors were also deputed at Nator and Naogaon as whole-time officers to do similar work in schools within a radius of 5 miles, but this work was interrupted by the floods, as the officers had to be employed on flood duty.

In Jessore a scheme for affording medical relief by subsidizing medical practitioners is said to have worked fairly well, but it does not appear that the doctors subsidized by the Board have as yet opened dispensaries of their own, and the Chairman is not yet sure that they will eventually settle down in the locality, which was one of the main conditions on which the subsidies were granted.

Useful public health propaganda work was done in several districts. In Jessore the non-official Chairman personally delivered lectures on malaria and cholera with the help of a magic-lantern. In Rajshahi one of the Board's Sub-Assistant Surgeons went on a lecturing tour for about one month. Lectures were given at zemindars' cutcherries, high English schools, melas and other places. It is reported that large audiences of all classes, both men and women, attended and showed the liveliest interest. Lantern-lectures given by the Sanitary Inspector of the Mymensingh District Board in villages and primary schools were much appreciated, and the Board has under consideration the appointment of two regular lecturers for the dissemination of knowledge of simple sanitary facts. Elsewhere also, e.g., in Bogra and Malda, Sanitary Inspectors gave magic-lantern lectures and instructed the villagers in the principles of hygiene and the means of protecting themselves against epidemics.

11. In the Asansol mining settlement the system of free and compulsory vaccination has for some time been in force under the supervision of the Mines Board of Health. It was introduced by the District Board in the remainder of the district during the year under review. A first class Health Officer was appointed by the Board for the purpose as well as for general public health work, and four Health Inspectors and 32 Sanitary Assistants were appointed to help him. In Bakarganj a scheme of free vaccination which was in force last year in the Sadar subdivision, was extended to the Perojpur subdivision with satisfactory results. 20 per cent. of the population being vaccinated. Free vaccination was also continued in the Jalpaiguri and 24-Parganas districts and in certain parts of the Bogra and Tippera districts.

12. Ordinary sanitary measures, such as the clearing of jungle, filling up of ditches and disinfection of tanks and wells are generally carried out through the agency of Local Boards and Union Committees. The District Board of Dacca organized three special sanitary gangs for the Manikganj subdivision. The Local Board of Meherpur in the district of Nadia continued to clear jungle on village sites through the agency of special local committees, who took leases from the owners on small rents or free of rent and cleared the plots with the help of Local Board contributions. Crops were then grown which prevented the jungle growing again and yielded a small profit to the committees. The idea is to form a village sanitation fund out of the sale-proceeds of the crops and to undertake other sanitary works, independently of the contribution of local bodies. The scheme is said to be working successfully so far and the number of such village committees is increasing.

13. Veterinary.—The veterinary assistants continue to do useful work, the itinerant officers visiting villages affected by its cattle disease and treating the cattle, while the stationary assistants treat in-door and out-door patients at their hospitals. The building of a veterinary hospital and dispensary at Jalpaiguri was completed during the year. An epidemic of rinderpest broke out in the Sunderbans during the cold weather. A large quantity of serum was obtained for inoculation, and the Chairman of the District Board of the 24-Parganas reports that the effect of the treatment was satisfactory and highly appreciated by the people. The Commissioner of Burdwan states that the people in his division now have a firm faith in the efficacy of inoculation.

14. Civil Works.—The expenditure on original works on buildings was approximately the same as last year, but the outlay on communications decreased by over two lakhs. In some districts the scarcity of labourers owing to the prevalence of influenza and cholera epidemics partially explains the decrease, but the main reason throughout the Presidency was the dislocation of railway goods traffic, which interfered with the transport of road metal and of coal for the manufacture of bricks. In consequence there were large lapses, the percentage of which in the Province as a whole increased from 11 to 12·5 per cent. In Burdwan the amount that lapsed exceeded the expenditure.

15. Water-supply.—Expenditure on water-supply amounted to Rs. 7,83,000 or nearly one-quarter of the net public works cess receipts. The District Board of Nadia spent nearly half of those receipts, the Dacca and Faridpur Boards over two-fifths and the 24-Parganas and Mymensingh Boards one-third; the outlay in the district last named was double what it was in the previous year. The Chittagong District Board spent only Rs. 4,435, or 3·4 per cent. of the public works cess receipts. The failure to do more is attributed to difficulty in securing sites for tanks, and the District Board is considering the possibility of encouraging the use of wells in preference to tanks. In Rangpur, where only Rs. 11,000 was devoted to this purpose, it is reported that drinking water is available at a small cost by digging katcha wells and that the necessity for expenditure of funds on a large scale is not therefore keenly felt. The Governor in Council is pleased to observe that, with few exceptions, District Boards are realising their responsibility in this important matter, but he has read with concern the remarks of the Chairman of the Mymensingh District Board that the efforts of the Board to supply water are resulting in a diminution of private efforts.

16. Drainage.—The expenditure incurred under this head was confined chiefly to clearing roadside drains, re-excavating and deepening khals and petty surface drainage. The Dinajpur Board spent a large sum in constructing new culverts and extending the waterways in bridges so as to drain off water quickly and obviate damage to crops from floods. The District Boards of Jessore, 24-Parganas and Nadia agreed to undertake with funds contributed by them and Government three large schemes under the Sanitary Drainage Act for improving the drainage of the Arool Bil and the Naw-Sunthi and Jaboona rivers.

17. Closing balances.—In the previous three years the District Boards had been gradually reducing their large accumulated balances, but in the year under review the actual closing balances showed an increase of three lakhs. The explanation is generally that expenditure on capital works was curtailed owing to the difficulty of getting materials, the result of transport conditions, and also owing to their high cost. As in the previous year, the largest balance was retained by the Burdwan District Board : its actual amount was 5 lakhs which approximates to its total ordinary expenditure. It is explained that owing to war conditions and the ravages of influenza among labourers, one of its Local Boards (Asansol) was not able to utilize fully the public works allotment, which resulted in a savings of more than $2\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs. The disproportionately large balances at the credit of the 24-Parganas and Jessore and Nadia District Boards (viz., Rs. 3,90,000, Rs. 1,43,000 and Rs. 56,000 respectively) were mainly due to the receipt of large grants from Government on account of the Jaboona, Nawi-Sunthi and Arool Bil drainage schemes, the execution of which could not be taken up during the year. Other District Boards with a closing balance of over one lakh are Midnapore, Hooghly, Tippera and Bakarganj. No explanation has been given in the first three cases : in Bakarganj it is due to the collection of arrear cesses amounting to Rs. 34,000 and to the wrong credit to the District Board of Government land revenue amounting to Rs. 40,000. On the other hand the Noakhali and Mymensingh Boards cleared off the accumulations of previous years ; the latter retaining an actual balance of Rs. 63,000 against a current expenditure of about 9 lakhs. Bankura closed the year with a cash balance of Rs. 4,000, which represents only 2 per cent. of its current expenditure. An extreme case is that of Dacca where the year closed with an actual balance of only Rs. 1,845, which is much below the minimum working balance necessary.

Urgent Orders.

The Board of Trade, Import and Export Licensing Section, announces that, in collaboration with the Department of Overseas Trade, an arrangement has been made whereby firms receiving orders which require immediate acceptance may telegraph details of any such order to the Department of Overseas Trade in order to ascertain whether a licence will be granted for the export of the goods if the order is accepted.

In the event of an applicant being promised a licence he will be enabled to deal with the order straightaway with the knowledge that upon application being made in the proper form to the Export Licence Department the licence will be granted.

The telegrams should be addressed to "Orders, c-o Advantage, Stock, London." They should give in each case in addition to the name and postal or telegraphic address of the applicant the quantity and description of the goods comprised in the order and the name and address of the ultimate consignee if the goods are destined for a neutral country. In the case of orders from Allied or British Territory or from Territory in the occupation of troops of the Associated Governments, the consignee need not be stated; and it will be sufficient merely to give the country of destination. A reply of 24 words (1s.-3/7.) must be prepaid.

Applicants are requested in their own interest to confine their enquiries to orders needing a very urgent decision, since the fewer the enquiries the more promptly can answers be given.

Any subsequent correspondence that is necessary in connection with the telegraphic enquiries should be addressed to the Comptroller General, Department of Overseas Trade (Export Facilities Section), 35, Old Queen Street, Westminster, S. W. 1.

Act V of 1898.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE question of legislation to prevent riots in connection with lands gained by alluvion or by the dereliction of a river or the sea in the deltaic tracts of Bengal, has long been under the consideration of Government. In 1905, a Bill was circulated for criticism. This Bill gave the Collector power to take and retain possession of any newly-formed alluvial land, of which possession was disputed, until he or a competent Civil Court declared what person was entitled to possession. The Bill was not, however, proceeded with, in view of a suggestion made by the High Court to the Government of India, for the amendment of the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure in respect of disputes as to immovable property, which was under consideration. In the criminal law applicable to the whole of India, provision could not, however, be made for a problem relating to alluvial lands which was peculiar to Bengal. The question of special legislation for Bengal was, therefore, left over for consideration till the diara lands of the province were surveyed. The survey of these lands has not yet been finished, but it is complete for most of the districts in the eastern portion of the province; whilst the attention of Government has been drawn to the subject again by the final reports on the survey and settlement operations in the districts of Faridpur and Dacca. These reports contain a description of the lawlessness which prevails on account of the impossibility of exact knowledge of title when a char appears in the Ganges, of the ease with which valuable crops can be grown on these chars, and of the advantage which is gained by the strong man who can enforce initial possession. In the existing state of the law there is a premium on violence, and serious riots, involving loss of life, are of frequent occurrence. Also, the preparation of a record-of-rights and of accurate maps, is not alone a sufficient remedy against these evils. It is, therefore, desirable that legislation on the subject should be no longer postponed.

The main object of the Bill is, by giving opportunities for immediate action when the alluvial land forms, to prevent violence from gaining an undue advantage. The previous Bill was open to the objections that it provided for the intervention of the Collector at too late a stage, namely, when a riot was already imminent, and that it entrusted to an executive, instead of to a judicial authority, the duty of deciding questions of title. In framing the present Bill these objections have been met.

In order that the legitimate landlord may not lose salami by the necessity of the settlement of tenants during the period of attachment, it is intended to make provision by the rules under clause (2) of section 7 for the levy of such salami on his behalf.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 3 gives power to the "Collector," as defined in clause 2(b), to attach alluvial land, if he is satisfied that a dispute in regard to it is likely to cause a breach of the peace, and to demarcate it, and also to appoint a receiver after attachment of the land.

Sub-clause (3) of this clause gives power to anybody interested to come forward and show that the attachment is wrong.

Clause 4, sub-clause (1), requires the Collector to cause a survey to be made of the alluvial land attached under clause 3, and provides for a reference to the Civil Court for a decision as to the title to such land.

It is proposed by sub-clause (2) to deal with such a reference as a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Sub-clause (3) provides for the payment of the costs of the suit.

For the purposes of res-judicata, sub-clause (4) declares that an order by a Civil Court under sub-clause (2) of clause 4 shall be deemed to be a decree.

Clause 5 provides for the Court's certifying its order to the Collector and for the transfer by the Collector of the land to the person held to be entitled to it.

Clause 6 indicates the method for recovering costs incurred in an attachment of alluvial land under sub-clause (3) of clause 3 and sub-clause (1) of clause 4; provision being made for an appeal to the Commissioner in respect of such costs.

Clause 7. The condition of previous publication of rules under this clause will give persons interested an opportunity of sending in objections or criticisms to the rules proposed—see section 24 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899.

Clause 8 is based on section 91 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, and its object is to give protection to the Collector and others in respect of acts under the proposed law.

Clause 9 bars the institution of proceedings under section 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in respect of alluvial land attached by the Collector under clause 3. One object of the Bill is to avoid the application of this section in cases of disputes regarding alluvial lands as it places a premium on violence.

ACCOUNT RULES—(JUDICIAL).

NOTE 1.—These Rules (framed under the Charter Act) are for observance by Judicial, Magisterial, and all Civil Officers, not in direct account with the Accountant-General, in the receipt and payment of money.

NOTE 2.—The rules were originally issued with C. O. No. 4 of 5th March 1881. Amending Rules are noted in the margin.

NOTE 3.—The Account forms which are not applicable to Criminal Courts have been omitted, but are referred to in these Rules as Form No. . The rest of the forms referred to in the Rules will be found in Appendix A—I of Vol. II.

NOTE 4.—Appendices I to III at the end of the Chapter are intended for the guidance of officers in carrying out the Rules.

• NOTE 5.—For inspection questions dealing with these rules, see Volume I, Rules and Orders (Civil), Chapter XIII, pages 312—314.

	RULES.		RULES.
Application of the Rules	... 1, 2	Heads of Account	... 5, 6
District Judge	... 3	General Principles	... 7, 17

Application of the rules.

1. The following rules prescribe the procedure for the receipt and payment of money, and for keeping accounts, to be observed by officers exercising judicial powers and dealing with money in that capacity. These rules do not apply to the High Court or to the Presidency Small Cause Court; nor do they apply to the subordinates of the Magistrate of the District because such of them as are stationed in the interior of the district exercise also Collectorate powers and keep their accounts under Treasury rules, and the transactions of those at headquarters are included in those of the Magistrate. They apply to all Judges, Additional Judges, Subordinate Judges, Munsifs, Small Cause Court Judges, and Magistrates of Districts, and these are all included under the general term "Judge."

NOTE 1—The Rules apply to Judges of Small Cause Courts (other than the Sealdah Court) as if they were District Judges (vide Rule 3), and not as if subordinate to District Judges.—(Accountant-General's No. 279, dated 4th June 1881.)

NOTE 2.—The Judge of the Small Cause Court at Sealdah has been exempted from these rules as there is no Treasury at Sealdah, and the Judge keeps a small cash chest, rendering accounts to the Accountant-General direct.—(Deputy Accountant-General's No. 183, dated 30th April 1881.)

2. While the rules generally are applicable to all the officers just mentioned, a special procedure is laid down, where necessary, for Courts not situated at or near a Treasury or Sub-Treasury. Such Courts are in the Rules designated "Out-stations," which term must be held to include Courts at or near Sub-Treasuries during such time as the Sub-Treasuries may be temporarily closed owing to the absence of the Subdivisional Officer from his headquarters.

The "District Judge."

3. (a) In these Rules the term "District Judge" signifies the officer whose accounts are rendered to the Accountant-General, either for his own Court only, or for his own and subordinate Courts. Any officer may be vested with the powers of a District Judge for the purposes of the Rules; and in any district in which a District Judge is not for the time being resident they shall be exercised by the principal Civil Judicial Officer at headquarters.

NOTE.—Only one set of returns should be sent to the District Judge for the Courts whose accounts are kept together, and not a separate set for each Court.—(Accountant-General's No. 141-A., dated 26th April 1881.)

(b) In districts such as Malda, Bogra, etc., where there is no District Judge, the principal Civil Judicial Officers at the head-quarters are the Officers invested with the powers of a District Judge for the purposes of accounts; and they will keep and render the accounts of all the Civil Courts in their respective districts. A District Judge cannot delegate his powers as records accounts to any of his subordinates. What he can do, when absolutely necessary, is to place any of the officers subordinate to him in charge of accounts, without in any way relieving himself of responsibility for the due accounting for all receipts and payments. When this is done, the Judge's establishment will do all the work in connection with the accounts, the subordinate officer will sign the papers as if he were placed in charge of the current duties of the Judge's Court, and to the Chief Ministerial officer of the District Judge's Court (but of no other Court at Head-quarters stations) may be delegated the duty of passing chalcans.

The "Judge in charge."

4. The term "Judge in charge" is used to designate the officer who when there are two or more Courts at one station, supervises the single set of accounts maintained for all such Courts. When there is but one Court at a station, the Judge thereof is the "Judge in charge" of his own accounts.

NOTE.—At Headquarters stations the accounts for all Courts shall be kept in the District Judge's Court. At sub-divisions and out-stations, the accounts of all Courts shall be kept in the office of the Munsif placed by the District Judge in charge of the accounts of that station, and to his office shall be attached the staff of the Accounts Department.

Heads of account.

5. The following are the heads of account in the public accounts under which the money received and paid by Judicial Officers, or under their orders, is classified:—

- (a) Civil or criminal deposits, including rent deposits and compensation for land taken up for public purposes and compensation fines (including costs in criminal cases), not paid on the spot in open Court.¹

NOTE 1.—Any sum deposited in Court under section 14 (1) of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, with an application for a certificate or for the extension of certificate, must be classed under Civil deposits, NOTE 2.—See Note 3 to Rule 19.

- (b) Fines (judicial); refunds of the same.

NOTE.—For refunds of fines, see Rule 46 and Note 1 thereto.

- (c) Stamp duty and penalties realized in Court. Refunds of the value of Court-fee stamps.

NOTE.—For refunds, see Notes to Rule 33, and Rules 46 and 47 and Notes thereto.

- (d) Value of the unclaimed property of intestates and others credited to Government.

NOTE.—District Judge's Courts alone deal with the unclaimed property of intestates. The value thereof cannot be credited to Government until the time limited by law has expired (vide Rule 107). For refunds under heads (d) to (h), see Rule 46 and Note 2 thereto.

- (e) Other general fees, fines, and forfeitures, i.e., general forfeitures and forfeitures of earnest money by defaulting bidders.

- (f) Record-room receipts, i.e., searching fees, copying fees, and comparing fees.

NOTE.—When receipts under this head are realized in stamps, they need not be entered in the accounts as cash receipts.

¹ Inserted by Rule No. 2 of 20th September 1894.

(g) Miscellaneous receipts, i.e., sale-proceeds of forms and other items.

NOTE 1.—Details of amounts credited as "other" should invariably be furnished to the Treasury Officer.

NOTE 2.—Service-books are sold direct from the Treasury to parties requiring them; there can, therefore, be no cash receipts on this account.

NOTE 3.—Under this head should be credited money received as expenses of Government servants summoned as witnesses in their official capacity, when their pay exceeds Rs. 10 per mensem or when their head-quarters are situate more than 5 miles from the Court.

(h) Sale-proceeds of old stores and materials.

NOTE 1.—Receipts under this head are credited to the head "XXV.—Miscellaneous" in the Treasury accounts.

NOTE 2.—The Treasury Officer should invariably be informed of the nature of the items, e.g., whether furniture or stores.

(i) Peremptory receipts, i.e., witnesses' expenses, prisoners' diet-money, boat-hire, costs of adjournments, Amins' travelling allowance, fees payable to Commissioners for taking evidence, postage and other peremptory receipts.

NOTE 1.—As the Peremptory Cash Book is no longer required to be maintained by District Magistrates, such receipts must, in the case of these officers, be entered in the General Cash Book.

NOTE 2.—For payments of sums received under head (i) see Rule 12.

6. From the list of headings in Rule 5 it will appear that the rules apply only to money received by an officer in his judicial capacity. They do not apply to Local Fund receipts and payments, nor to money received by way of permanent advance, or upon establishment or contingent bills (see Rule 35). As regards Local Funds there is a separate system of rules; and as regards other items, a Judicial Officer should deal with them under the rules applicable to other officers.

General principles.

7. The receipts and payments under head (a) must appear in the Court's account in detail but in the Treasury account in which a personal ledger account only is maintained for this head, the daily totals of receipts and payments made at the Court and the individual items of receipts and payments made at the Treasury will appear. All receipts and payments under heads (b) and (c) and (h) above must appear in the Court's accounts and in the Treasury accounts in detail. An account in detail of all receipts under heads (e) to (g) must be kept in the Court, but only the daily totals of each kind of receipts will appear in the Treasury books. All receipts and payments under head (i) will be made on the responsibility of the Cashier, whose security must be sufficient to cover any amount in his hands. They will not appear at all in the Treasury accounts, but the balance in the hands of the Cashier must be noted daily in the Cash book, as well as the balances of any other moneys with which he may be entrusted (e.g., permanent advance, or pay of establishment).

NOTE.—Fractions of a pie are not to be entered in the Court's accounts, and they should neither be received nor paid.—(H. C. Progs., August 1898, No. 35.)

8. An exception to Rule 7 is allowed in cases where money has to be paid by one person to another, and both are present in Court. In such cases the money may be passed direct from the one to the other under the sanction of the Court, the fact being noted in the record of the case. Such transactions are not to appear in the accounts at all. Care must, however, be taken to see that no officer of the Court receives or becomes in any way responsible for the money, and that no receipt for it is given by the Court or any officer of Government. This procedure may conveniently be followed in cases where judgment-debtors are prepared to satisfy the claims of judgment-creditors, where costs of the day are allowed by the Court, or where sums in excess of those paid into court are to be paid to witnesses and where compensation is awarded to accused persons or costs to complainants by the Criminal Courts.

9. Judges will, as far as possible, in their transactions with the public avoid the direct receipt and payment of money under head (a) of Rule 5. Cash must, however, be received—

- (a) when the Court is bound by law to accept payment either absolutely or up to a given time (vide section 55, and Order XXI, Rules 84 and 85, of the Code of Civil Procedure), and in every such case the money shall be received even although tendered after the hour prescribed by Rule 15;
- (b) when the proceeds of moveable property sold in execution (Order XXI, Rule 77 of the Code of Civil Procedure) are realized after the hour prescribed in Rule 15;
- (c) at out-stations in the case of rent deposits under section 46, Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869, and sections 61 and 62, Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885; and
- (d) any sum deposited under section 14 (1) of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, must be received in cash, even though tendered after the hour prescribed by Rule 15;
- (e) when the complainant or informant is ordered by the Court to pay compensation to the accused at the time of his acquittal (section 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure);
- (f) when by order of the Court compensation is paid to the complainant out of the fine imposed on the accused (section 545 ibid);
- (g) when the costs of process, etc., in non-cognizable cases are recovered from the accused in addition to any fine that may have been imposed on him and are paid to the complainant (section 31 of the Court-fees Act);
- (h) when the Magistrate awards compensation to the complainant under section 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act,

Rule No. 14 of 23rd September,
1890.

and (g) see Rule
No. 2 of 20th September 1894.

Bengal Govt.
No. 28-J. D. of 6th
May 1896.

Amended by Rule
No. 2 of 26th May

10. At out-stations cash transactions under head (a) of Rule 5 are allowed. Money should, however, be received in cash only when, having regard to the balance in hand (which should not ordinarily exceed Rs. 500), this can conveniently be done. Payments of small sums should ordinarily be made out of cash in hand, but large payments should be made in cash, only if this can be done conveniently, and it is better thus to disburse the balance of cash in hand than to remit it to the Treasury.

11. Judges of Small Cause Courts, and Munsifs exercising Small Cause Court powers, though their Courts are situated within daily reach of a Treasury, may, by special order of the High Court, be empowered to receive and pay in cash small sums coming under head (a) of Rule 5. The sums so paid shall not in any case exceed Rs. 100 in amount.

12. Money under heads (b) to (i) of Rule 5 may ordinarily be received in cash in all Courts. As explained in the notes to Rule 46, repayments under heads (b) to (g) should ordinarily be made only through the Treasury. Repayments of deposits in favour of Wards estates will be made at the Treasury only, and not in cash, but by transfer to the credit of the personal ledger account of the estate concerned. (See notes to Rules 36 and 42.) Under head (i) payments will ordinarily be made in cash by the Cashier on his own responsibility. No refunds should be made on account of head (h).

13. Except in the case of Courts at out-stations the whole cash balance must be remitted to the Treasury* as provided by Rule 57 below, at the close of each day. At out-stations the entire cash balance must be so remitted on the last day of the month, and from time to time on such other days in the course of the month as may be convenient. Should, however, the cash balance at any out-station be less than Rs. 25 at the end of any month, the officer concerned may send a special report of the circumstances to the Collector of the district and keep the balance in hand for remittance during the following month. Under no circumstances shall the balance of cash in hand be allowed to exceed Rs. 500.

* Or to a Branch Bank, vide Note to Rule 61.

Rule No. 16 of 27th November
1891. Amended,

14. If, after a remittance, and before further cash has come in, payments in cash are necessary, they should be made from the permanent advance.

15. For the purposes of these Rules in all Courts the "day" must be taken to close at 2 P.M., and the "next day" to extend from that hour to 2 P.M. of the following calendar day. Between 2 and 3 P.M., the accounts shall be made up, and no transaction shall take place in Court. If under exceptional circumstances, any transactions have to be allowed after 3 P.M., they must be entered in the Court's accounts bearing date the next open day.

NOTE.—On the last working day of each month, or when the Treasury closes at 1 P.M., it is necessary that the accounts be closed at noon, and in this case the next day shall extend from noon till 2 P.M. of the following calendar day.

16. The "month," for the purposes of these rules, shall be taken to close, in Courts at district headquarters, at the end of the last account day of the month; in Courts at Sub-Treasuries, at 2 P.M., on the day on which the accounts of the Sub-divisional Treasury are finally closed for the month; and at out-stations, at 2 P.M., of the last day, on which the accounts can reach the Treasury in time for incorporation with the Treasury accounts for the last day of the month.

17. For the purposes of these rules the "year" in all Courts shall be taken to begin on the 1st April and to close on the 31st March.

HEADS (a) TO (e) AND (h) OF RULE 5.

Chalans required.

18. Payment of sums falling under heads (a) to (e) and (h) of Rule 5 cannot be accepted either in Court or at the Treasury, unless the money be tendered with a chalan in triplicate signed by the chief ministerial officer of the Court under whose decree or order the money is tendered, and also by the Accountant of the Court or group of Courts.

Amended by Rule No. 13 of 15th September 1890. Further amended in 1903

19. Any person desirous of paying money into Court, or, in the case of collections made by any officer of the Court, the officer who has realized the money, shall be furnished, free of cost, with three forms of Chalan [Form No. (M) 1], in each of which he must enter in the Vernacular or English the particulars required from him. One of the Chalans, herein called the original Chalan, shall bear the Court-fee stamp (if any) required by law.

NOTE 1.—In the case of Deposit Chalans care must be taken to enter fully the nature of the deposit, the number of the suit or execution case (if any), the name of the person on whose behalf the money is paid in and of the person to whom it is to be paid over, etc.

NOTE 2.—No stamp is required for a tender of money which a party is bound to pay into Court in progress of a suit or to complete a purchase, as the Court cannot refuse the tender.

C. O. No. 10 of 12th May, 1887.

In cases where the payment is voluntary, such as deposits made on account of rent, or by a mortgagor and the like, a stamp should be required; but if the application or petition be duly stamped, a second fee should not be exacted for the Chalan.

NOTE 3.—In the case of sums deposited under section 14 (1) of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, the Deposit Chalans must show that the amount is deposited to the credit of the Judge.

Rule No. 11 of 23rd September, 1890

20. The person desirous of paying in the money, having filled up the forms of Chalan, shall present them to the chief ministerial officer of the Court mentioned in Rule 18. The latter shall then ascertain that the amount tendered is correct, and is due, from the person on whose account it is tendered, to the person to whom it is stated to be payable, and, after correcting the forms of Chalan, if necessary, shall sign Part I, and pass the forms on to the Accountant of the Court or set of Courts, who, having filled up Part II, shall number and register them in a register of Chalans [Form No. (M) 11]. In column 3 he shall enter the name of the person actually tendering the money, and of the person on whose behalf it is tendered. In column 4 he shall enter the name of the person (if any) to whom the money is payable, and all the other particulars stated in the Chalan and necessary for subsequently posting up the Register of Deposit Receipts.

¹ For Supplementary Rules as to receipts under heads (b) to (h), see Rules 102 to 111.

Registry of Chalan. Entries to be approved by Judge in charge.

21. A separate index number shall be given to each Chalan. The numbers in a consecutive series shall be entered both in the Chalan and in the Register. The Accountant shall be careful to enter in the Chalan the particular heading under Rule 5 to which the receipt belongs.

Amended by Rule
No. 13 of 16th
September, 1890.

22. The Register and the Chalan shall then be laid before the Judge in charge, and he shall initial each entry as he passes the Chalan. The three chalan shall then be returned to the party tendering the money, and shall be his authority to pay the same into the Court, or into the Treasury.

Amplified 1917.

NOTE.—At sub-divisions and out stations, the Judge in charge may, with the previous sanction of the District Judge, delegate to the chief ministerial officer of his Court the duty of passing Chalan.

23. No person is required to take out a Chalan till he is actually ready to pay in the money for which he takes it, but a Chalan, once having been taken out, must be presented without delay. The order to the Treasury Officer must therefore be limited in its operation to the day upon which the Chalan is made over to the applicant, or, if the transaction occurs after the accounts are closed (Rule 15), to the next open day. This is distinctly provided for in the form of order. In case of failure to tender the money at the Treasury within the time limited, the tenderer must obtain, by written application, an order from the Court extending the time.

NOTE.—When a Chalan is issued on the Treasury it may be acted upon till 3 P.M. of the day following that on which it is issued, if so ordered by the Court. But when the Chalan is for the receipt of money at the Court, it should be restricted in its operation to the day of issue—(Vide Accountant-General's No. 452, dated 9th August, 1882).

24. In the case of out-stations, the order to the Treasury officer shall be so dated as to allow sufficient time to the payee to reach the Treasury, but not more time than is necessary for this purpose shall be granted.

HEADS (f), (g), AND (i) OF RULE 5.

Amended in 1903.

25. Receipts under heads (f) and (g) of Rule 5 (searching, copying, or comparing fees, sale proceeds of forms and other receipts), when payable in cash, shall be tendered in the first place to the Accountant, and noted by him in a special Register [Form No. (M) 12]. The Accountant shall enter the name of the tenderer, the amount to be paid, and the number and date, in the foil and counterfoil of the Register, shall then detach the right-hand portion, and make it over to the tenderer for presentation with the money to the Cashier.

26. Peremptory receipts under head (i) of Rule 5 shall be tendered to the Cashier direct without the intervention of the Accountant. A chalan is not required for such payments.

Receipt of money by Cashier.

Amended by Rule No. 13 of 16th September
1890.

27. The Cashier on receiving a chalan in triplicate addressed to him under Rule 20 or a payment slip issued by the Accountant under Rule 25, or a tender of money under Rule 26, shall accept the money, and at once enter the amount as a receipt in the appropriate Cash-book (Rules 32 and 33).

Rule No. 10 of

28. (a) When Chalan have been so passed, he shall keep two copies and return the third copy with his receipt enfaced upon it. This receipt shall be produced in Court by the person paying the money, when it is necessary for him to have satisfaction entered upon the record of the case to which he is a party; or when it is necessary to have a sale confirmed or notices issued upon the landlord in cases of rent deposits, or upon the creditor in cases of debt due to a mortgage creditor, and the like. Of the two copies of the Chalan retained by the Cashier, one shall be filed with the record of the case to which the person paying the money is a party.

(b) In the same way, on presentation of the Chalan (in triplicate) at the Treasury, as prescribed above in Rule 23, and on payment of the money, the payer shall receive, as an acknowledgment, one of the three Chalan signed—by the Treasury Officer, if the amount be Rs. 500 or more—by the Accountant and Treasurer, if less than that sum. Of the two copies of the Chalan retained by the Treasury Officer, one copy shall be forwarded to the Judge in charge together with the Advice Lists referred to in Rule 64, in order that it may be filed with the record of the case in connection with which the deposit was made.

29. When, under clauses (a) and (b) of Rule 9 above, a tender is made of money which must, by law, be received, the payment shall be made direct into Court in cash, but only under the express order of the presiding officer, who shall himself sign the Chalan and see that the money is duly entered in the accounts in the manner prescribed in Rule 15.

C. O. No. 6 of 9th
May 1890.

30. In the case of payment slips the Cashier shall countersign the slip, which the applicant is to retain as a voucher, and, when a copy has been applied for, his authority to take delivery of the same when ready.

31. When money is tendered under Rule 26, the Cashier shall enter the amount in a bound book of receipt forms [Form No. (M) 21] numbered in serial order. Each receipt shall be in duplicate and the office copy shall be prepared simultaneously with the original by means of carbon paper. The original, which shall bear the same serial number as the carbon copy, will be torn off at the perforated line and presented to the payer as his voucher. Each bound book shall contain one hundred forms and before a book is brought into use, the Nazir shall certify on the first page the number of forms it contains. A stock book shall be maintained in which the receipts of such books from the Press and their issues to the Cashier shall be properly accounted for. Not more than one book at the time shall be issued to the Cashier who shall grant a receipt for it in the stock book.

Peremptory Cash-books.

32. (a) To exhibit the peremptory receipts and payments [head (i) of Rule 5], for which the Cashier is responsible, and of which the Accountant keeps no record, the Cashier shall maintain two Registers in Forms No. . . . in which each class of such receipts and payments shall be separately exhibited—those relating to witnesses' expenses in Register . . . and those relating to other items, in the appropriate columns of Register . . . A balance of both Registers shall be struck at the close of each day, and the totals shall be written both in words and figures.

Amended in 1917.

(b) These Registers shall not be maintained in the Courts of District Magistrates.

Rule No. 5 of 2nd June 1892.

General Cash-book.

33. (a) The Cashier's General Cash-book shall be maintained in Form No. (M) 22, and shall exhibit in detail all receipts and repayments under heads (a) to (h). Receipts and payments under head (i) shall not be carried to the General Cash-book in gross, but the balances of the Peremptory Cash-books shall be exhibited therein in words as well as figures as directed below.

Amended in 1917.

(b) In the Courts of District Magistrates, the General Cash-book shall exhibit in detail receipts and repayments under all heads (a) to (i).

Rule No. 5 of 2nd
June, 1892.

NOTE 1.—Being restricted to transactions in actual cash, the General Abstract Cash-book is not to show receipts in the form of Court-fee labels, or refunds of the value of these, which, under Rule 47, are ordinarily payable only at the Treasury.

NOTE 2.—But if any refunds are made on account of the value of these stamps out of the cash in the Court (and this is allowable if the amount does not exceed Rs. 5 see Rule 47), they should be included in the cash-book like other payments in cash.—(Accountant-General's No. 4.—T.M. dated 28th April, 1882.)

Accountant's check on Petty Receipts.

34. At the close of each day, the Cashier shall submit to the Accountant his General Cash-book, and the Accountant shall check the entries of receipts under heads (f) and (g) of Rule 5 with those on the counterfoil of his Register. The Accountant shall then prepare a Chalan in Form No. (M) 1 of the whole amount received by the Cashier, distinguishing each kind of receipt separately, and shall enter it in the Register of Chalans [Form No. (M) 11] as an amount received in Court. The amount in the Register of Chalans must tally with the Cashier's receipts under heads (a) to (h).

Amended in 1903.

NOTE 1.—The "whole amount received by the Cashier," refers to the whole amount of petty receipts for which no Chalan is required to be prepared until the close of the day. After they are checked by the Accountant with the entries on the counterfoil of the special Register in Form No. (M) 12, they must be distinguished in the Chalan, one from the other, as "searching fees," "copying fees," "comparing fees," etc. [vide Rule 5 (f) and (g)], and entered in the Register of Chalans [Form No. (M) 11] in the column headed "Amount received in Court." The total in this column must include the Cashier's receipts under all the heads (a) to (h) shown in his General Cash-book (vide Rule 33).—(Accountant-General's No. 784, dated 29th November, 1881.)

Amended in 1909.

NOTE 2.—The Chalan referred to above should be signed by the Cashier.—(Accountant-General's No. 7, M.-503, dated 9th October, 1903.)

amended in 1917

35. The Cashier shall then strike a balance in his General Cash-book (to be entered in words as well as figures), and enter below it in separate entries the balances struck in the Peremptory Cash-books. It is advisable, for purposes of record, that he should be required also to enter here a note of the money held by him upon any other account, such as for contingent expenditure, or for salaries of establishment. These form no substantive part of the judicial accounts, but the Judge ought to have in a single view a statement of all the money in the Cashier's possession. This statement may be made as follows:—

Balance of General Cash-book, as above—

Peremptory balance	{ Register (i)	...	0	0	0
	{ Register (ii)	...	0	0	0

NOTE.—Postage stamp received by way of remittance should not be mixed up with cash receipts. An account should be kept separately in the form of a plus and minus memo., the stamps being added as they are received, and deducted when they are sold or otherwise disposed of and the balance in hand should be entered daily, as directed above, in the General Cash-book.

*Application for Payment.*File No. 4 of 4th March, 1898

36. (a) Persons desiring to draw money deposited in Court and payable to them shall submit to the chief ministerial officer of the Court under whose decree or order the money was tendered, an application in Form No. (M) 2 or, in the case of a rent deposit, in Form No. One copy of such form shall be supplied free of charge. In this form the applicant shall enter all particulars necessary for the identification of the credit. Any number of deposits made in the same case may be withdrawn on a single application, but the number or date and amount of each deposit must be separately and clearly stated. A separate application must be made for deposits in separate cases.

NOTE.—If the party entitled to the money does not appear in person, the applicant must satisfy the Court that he is duly authorised by an instrument in writing to draw the money for the person so entitled.

NOTE.—The applicant must comply strictly with the terms of the order under which the money is claimed. Thus, one of a number of joint decree-holders cannot be allowed to take out what he calls his share in the decretal amount: they must all join in the application unless there has been an order for distribution.

This note is not intended to prohibit the payment of the entire amount of deposit to one of a number of joint decree-holders or to one of joint land-holders on the certificate of the Court under whose orders the money was received, that the amount is payable to him for himself and for all the others, whose name should be mentioned. What is intended to be barred is the payment of this amount in instalments to the several decree-holders separately, unless there has been an order for distribution.—Accountant-General's No. 45T. M., dated 28th April, 1882.

NOTE 3.—In the case of an application for payment of a deposit in favour of a Wards estate, which will be paid not in cash, but by transfer at the Treasury to the personal ledger account of the estate concerned (see Note to Rule 42), the manager of the estate, or his duly authorised Agent, in making his application, should insert the words "by transfer" in column 6 of Part I of the Form (M) 2. If the personal ledger account of the estate is maintained at a Treasury other than that at which the repayment or the deposit is to be made, a money order form duly filled in in favour of the Treasury Officer who maintains the account should accompany the application in order that the amount may be remitted, less money-order commission.

(b) In cases in which Court-fee stamps are purchased by the Nazir from deposits, the final order for the payment of such deposits must contain a direction to the Treasury Officer to pay the amount in stamps to the Nazir of the Judge, to whose credit it was deposited, and to transfer the amount of deposit to Stamp Revenue.

Rule No. 11 of 81st
March 1892

NOTE.—A duplicate of the application need not be filed with the record. All that is necessary is that, before passing on the application to the Accountant, the chief ministerial officer shall note the order for the payment on the records of the case, so that a second claim for the amount may not be passed.—(Accountant-General's No. 98, dated 3rd July, 1883)

NOTE.—Where impounded cattle are sold, if application for the refund of the sale-proceeds be made within three months from the date of sale (vide Act I of 1871, section 17), while the proceeds are held in deposit, the refund can be conveniently made in Form No (M) 2 the particulars in Part I being filled up in the Court. But if the application be made after the proceeds have been transferred to credit of Government, the sanction of Government is required before the refund can be made, and the general form of receipt should be used for such refund.—(Accountant General's No. 705 dated the 5th November 1881.)

Audit of Application.

37. The Chief ministerial officer shall compare the application with the record of the case, and carefully test the validity of the claim. If he finds that the name of the payee has been correctly given, and that there is no objection to the payment of the money on the ground of attachment or otherwise, he shall make enquiry as to the identity of the applicant, and, if satisfied of such identity shall sign the certificate at the foot of Part I of the application, and after obtaining the signature of the presiding officer to it, pass on the application so signed to the Accountant of the Court or group of Courts. Such Accountant shall compare the contents of the application with the Register of Deposit Receipts, and shall satisfy himself that the amount as shown has been received and is still unpaid, that the name of the claimant corresponds with the name of the payee entered in the Register, and that no order for the attachment of the money is in force. If the deposit has been transferred to the Clearance Register (Rules 90 and 91), such Clearance Register shall be deemed to be the Register of Deposit Receipts within the meaning of this Rule and Rules 41 to 44.

Rule No. 4 of 15th
March, 1898
(Substituting Rules
87 to 89)

NOTE.—The chief ministerial officer will enter in the Order Sheet of the record of the case a note that payment order has been issued, so that a second claim for the amount may not be passed. This note should be signed by that officer and also by the Presiding Officer.

38. If the record of the case has been despatched to the record-room of the District Judge, under the orders of the High Court relating to the periodical despatch of records by Subordinate Judicial Officers,* the presiding officer of the Court to which the application is made, shall forward it to the District Judge, whose record-keeper will certify under countersignature of that officer, that a specified sum of money is due to the applicant. On receipt of such certificate, the chief ministerial officer of the subordinate Court shall make enquiry as to the identity of the applicant, and, if satisfied of such identity, shall sign the certificate at the foot of Part I of the application and further deal with it in the manner prescribed by Rule 37.

*See Chapter III, Rules 41 and 42
Civil Rules and Orders, Vol I

NOTE 1.—The Record-keeper will enter in the Order Sheet of the record of the case, a note that payment order has been issued, so that a second claim for the amount may not be passed. This note should be signed by that officer and also by the District Judge, or by such Judicial officer at headquarters as the District Judge may appoint for the performance of this duty.

Rule No. 4 of 1898.
Amended in 1917.

NOTE 2.—If the amount certified by the District Judge's record-keeper does not agree with the amount stated in the application, the chief ministerial officer of the Subordinate Court should require the applicant if satisfied with his identity, to submit an amended application on which the payment order may be issued.

C.O. No 7 of 1917

39. Whenever, after despatch of the record of a case to the District Record-room, any subordinate Court passes an order for the attachment of money in deposit in the case, intimation thereof shall be forthwith sent to the District Judge. The District Judge shall thereupon cause such information to be noted in the order-sheet of the case under the signature of the record-keeper and under his countersignature.

40. If the application for payment is found to be incorrect or defective, the Accountant shall note the error or defect, and return it to the applicant for correction by him, or for reference by the applicant to the Court

Payment Orders and Registry.

41. If the application is found to be correct, and the deposit has not lapsed, the Accountant shall fill up the second part of the application form, post the transaction in the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 13], number it with its proper index number, and make the requisite entry in the Register of Deposit Receipts. Finally, the application, with the Register of Payment Orders, and the Register of Deposit Receipts, shall be laid before the Judge in charge.

Approval by Judge in charge.

42. Before passing the application for payment, the Judge in charge shall satisfy himself, in the first instance, that the requirements of rule 37 have been complied with. He shall further satisfy himself, by personal inspection of his Register of Deposits, that the balance at credit of the particular deposit is sufficient to meet the repayment, and that no order for the attachment of the money has been noted. If the result of his scrutiny is satisfactory, he may sign the order for payment of the amount either from the local Treasury or from his Court, as prescribed above in rules 9 to 12, and shall attest with his initials the note of the order of repayment made in the Register of Deposit Receipts. He shall also initial the entries in the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 13]. The payment order shall then be made over to the applicant for presentation to the Cashier if the money is to be paid in Court, or to the Treasury Officer, if it is to be paid by such officer.

NOTE.—Deposits in favour of an estate under the management of the Court of Wards should be paid not in cash from the Court, but at the Treasury by transfer to the credit of the personal ledger account maintained there for the estate concerned. The payment order should therefore be addressed to the Treasury Officer and should authorise him to "pay as above by transfer credit to the personal ledger account of wards' estate," or (if the personal ledger account of the estate is maintained at a Treasury other than that from which the repayment of the deposit is made, in which case a money order form, duly filled in in favour of the Treasury Officer who keeps the account for the amount less money order commission, must accompany the application) to "pay as above by transfer credit to Post Office in order that the amount may be remitted, less money order commission, to the Treasury Officer, for credit the personal ledger account of ward's estate."

Rule No. 4 of
15th March 1919.

43. When the money sought to be withdrawn is in deposit, not in the Court to which the application is made, but in another Court,—as, for example, where two or more Courts at one station are combined for the purpose of accounts,—in every such case the duty of the Court to which the application is made shall be merely to receive such application and forward it to the Court of the Judge in charge, with a certificate, made after examination of the record, as provided in rule 37, that the applicant is the proper party to receive payment of the amount claimed. In any case in which the amount has been transferred from the credit of the original payee to that of the claimant, this fact should be stated. This certificate shall be compared with the Deposit Register in the office of the Judge in charge. Such register, if the sum is shown therein to be in deposit, will inform the Judge whether there is any bar to payment. If there is no such bar, the payment order may be issued by the Judge in charge, and the fact of its issue shall be communicated to the Court upon whose certificate the application was passed, in order to enable it to enter satisfaction for the amount upon the record of the case.

NOTE 1.—The certificate should be given on the Payment Order; that is to say, in the tripartite Form No. (M) 2, Vol. II, at foot of Part I, in the place intended for it; and in recording the payments in the Register of Repayments, particulars may be entered as to the Court under whose orders the payments have been made.—(Accountant-General's No. 311 T.B., dated 5th September, 1891, read with his No. 42 T.M., dated 28th April 1882.)

NOTE 2.—When money realized under the decree of one Court is attached at the instance of another Court, the application for payment should be made to the Court attaching the money. Such Court, after receiving the application, should forward it to the Court under whose decree the money is realized, and if there be no objection to the payment of the money to the applicant, the latter Court should deal with it under this rule, or, if the record of the case has been despatched to the district record-room, under rule 38. The Court so dealing with the application should also report to the attaching Court, or, if the application has been dealt with under rule 38, also to the District Court, that the amount claimed has been transferred from the credit of the original payee to that of the claimant.

Lapse of Order.

44. (a) An order for payment from the local Treasury is valid for ten days only, and may not be cashed after the expiry of ten clear days subsequent to the date thereof. An order which has not been paid within ten days as aforesaid may be presented to the Court which issued it, and such Court may re-enface thereupon a new payment order, which shall remain valid for ten clear days immediately after the date thereof. When the last day of any such period of ten days is a day on which the Treasury is closed, the order may be cashed on the day on which such Treasury re-opens.

NOTE.—An order for payment of money at the Court should be restricted in its operation to the day of issue. And when money is to be paid immediately, the order of payment should be issued on the cashier of the Court.—(Vide Accountant-General's No. 452, dated 9th August 1882).

(b) When such order as aforesaid is for a sum exceeding Rs. 100, it should be included in a "Daily Advice List," in Form No. (M) 7 to be issued by the Court making the order to the local Treasury where the cheque is to be paid.

Rule No. 8 of 23rd
February 1886.

(c) When the Treasury accounts are closed on the 31st day of March in each year, every order for payment issued on or before that date shall lapse absolutely; and Treasury Officers are forbidden to cash after the 31st March orders issued on or before that date. An order which has lapsed under this clause cannot be renewed, but a new order may be obtained upon delivering up the old order and making a fresh application under rule 36.

NOTE.—Judges should warn persons who apply for orders at the end of March of the effect of this rule, and tell them to wait till April 1st, unless they mean to cash immediately any order that they may obtain.

(d) Immediately after the 31st day of March in each year, the Judge in charge shall ascertain what payment orders issued on or before that date are still uncashed and shall mark them off under his initial in the Registers (1) of Payment Orders, and (2) of Deposit Receipts as "Cancelled under rule 44(c)."

Lapsed Deposits.

45. When an application is made to draw money at credit under a deposit which has lapsed under rule 97, but the payment of which is otherwise unobjectionable, the Accountant shall prepare a special form of application [Form No. (M) 3], which, when passed by the Judge in charge after the examination prescribed by rule 42, shall be dealt with under rule 100.

Refunds under heads (b) to (h) of rule 5.

46. (a) When an application is made for the refund of a fine or a miscellaneous receipt [heads (b) to (g) of rule 5], the payment order shall be prepared by the Accountant in Form No. (M) 4 after checking the application by a reference to the Fine Register or Miscellaneous Receipt Register (rule 104); and the Judge in charge at the time of passing the refund order shall note the repayment against the entry of the receipt in such register. The payment order shall also be noted in the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 13] and initialled by the Judge in charge. No refund should be made from the receipts under head (h) of rule 5.

Amended in 1908.

(b) When an Appellate Court orders a fine to be refunded, it shall be the duty of the Court which imposed the fine, immediately on receipt of the Appellate Court's order for the refund, to prepare a payment order on the Treasury, if the fine has been levied, attaching a copy of the Appellate Court's order thereto, and to deliver it to the payee, whether he applies for it or not, with instructions to duly receipt the bill and present it for payment at the Treasury. In such cases no written application shall be required from the payee; and should such an application be made, it shall be exempted from stamp-duty by virtue of the notification of the Government of India, No. 3389-S. R., dated the 6th August 1896.

Rule No. 1 of 80th
September 1896.

(c) The same procedure shall also be followed in respect of cases dealt with on revision.

(d) In cases in which a sentence of fine passed by a Magistrate is confirmed by a Court of Session, but set aside by the High Court on revision, it shall be the duty of the Sessions Judge to whom the order of the High Court is certified, immediately to apprise the Magistrate concerned of the order of the High Court by sending him a certified copy of such order.

NOTE 1.—Except as provided in Rule 51 below, fines can be refunded only through the Treasury.

NOTE 2.—Compensation fines are repaid under the procedure laid down in Rule 36 of this Chapter.—(Rule No. 2 of 20th September 1894.)

NOTE 3.—As regards stamp duty and penalties, see Rule 106. While they may be realized in Court, it will be observed that under section 39 of the Stamp Act, they can be refunded only by the Collector. Form No. (M) 4 should be used for certificates for refund. For refunds of the value of Court-fee Stamps, see following rule.

NOTE 4.—Refunds under heads (d) to (g) of Rule 5 can be made only through the Treasury.

47. Application for the refund of the value of Court-fee stamps is to be made to the chief ministerial officer, who shall compare the application with the record, and if he finds that a refund is due, shall draft and sign an order on the back of the paper to which the Court-fee stamps are affixed. The papers must then be passed on to the Accountant, who shall prepare a payment Order in Form No. (M) 5 or No. (M) 6, as the case may require, and shall enter the particulars in the Register of Payment Orders, Form [No. (M) 13]. The application with the other papers and the Register shall then be laid before the Judicial Officer, who, if satisfied that the proceedings are in order, may sign the order of refund on the back of the stamped paper and the Payment Order, and initial the entry in the Register. The Payment Order shall then be made over to the applicant for presentation at the Treasury, or, if the amount do not exceed Rs. 5, to the cashier of the Court.

NOTE 1.—Petty refunds of the value of Court-fee stamps may be paid out of cash in the Court on vouchers in Form No. (M) 6 and charged in the cash-book.—See Notes to Rule 33.

NOTE 2.—Court-fees realized in stamps may, under certain circumstances, be refunded by order of the Court.

NOTE 3.—No general rule can be laid down respecting the refund of the value of Court-fee stamps in cases where the fees have been paid into Court for the issue of processes and such processes have not issued. Each case must be left to the discretion of the Court, and decided on its merits. Where the amount is large it may well be refunded.—(H. C. Procs., June, 1882, Nos. 486 and 497).

NOTE 4.—In any exceptional case in which the paper to which the Court-fee stamps are affixed has been destroyed under the Rules for the Destruction of Records (see Chapter III, Rule 40), the Court authorizing the payment should satisfy itself that the amount claimed is due, and record the order for refund on the application, which may be filed. In cases of this nature, it is objectionable to record a copy of the Refund Order in Form No. (M) 6, for it is an order upon the Treasury, and there is risk of its being presented for payment.—(Accountant-General's No. 561, dated 21st August, 1881.)

NOTE 5.—The procedure laid down in this Rule is for the refund of Court-fee stamps when application for such refund is made to a Court which keeps its own accounts (see Rule 43).—(Accountant-General's No. 324, dated 16th June, 1881.)

NOTE 6.—After receipt of the Treasury Advice List, the Judge in charge should register the Payment order in the Register of the Refund of the value of Court-fee stamps [Form No. (M) 26].—(Accountant-General's No. 327, dated 17th June, 1881.)

48. In so far as concerns the accounts system, it is invariably necessary to trace each item of payment under the Court's orders back to its corresponding item of receipt; in other words, to connect each item of a Court's debit in the Treasury with the corresponding item of credit, however far in time the two may be separated from each other. Accordingly the Court must take care to furnish itself and the Treasury with the necessary particulars for this purpose.

Payments by Cashier.

49. In the case of Payment Orders directed to the Cashier, the payment must be entered by the Cashier in the General Cash-book, the Payment Order being retained by the Cashier as his voucher.

NOTE.—The Cashier should cancel the Vouchers, as soon as he pays them, by writing on the face "Paid," with his initials. A "Paid" stamp should not be used as that indicates the subsequent discharge at the Treasury.

SECTION IV.—SETTLEMENT IN COURT.

(Rules 50—52.)

Simultaneous Receipt and Payment

... 50 Compensation to Plaintiff or Complainant ... 51, 52

Simultaneous Receipt and Payment.

50. When payer and payee are both before the Court, the receipt and payment may be made, as provided in Rule 8 above, by the money being passed directly between the parties, a note of the transaction being entered on the record of the case. Such transactions are not to appear in the Court's accounts at all. Payment of compensation to plaintiffs (or complainants) must not be made under this rule; such transactions must pass through the books, as directed in the following rule.

NOTE.—The procedure laid down in the above rule may be applied by a Criminal Court in cases of the award of compensation to the accused under section 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code, or of the refund of fees by the accused to complainants under section 31 of Act VII of 1870.

Payment of compensation to complainants in presence of the Defendant or Accused.

51. The application of the plaintiff or complainant in Form No (M) 4, and the Chalan for the fine paid in by the defendant (or accused), shall be drawn up and passed through the books in the ordinary way, and the receipt and payment are to be made independently of each other. The order on the Chalan shall, however, be signed by the Judicial Officer, and shall be an order to the Fine Clerk to receive the amount; and the order on the application [Form No. (M) 4] shall be an order also directed to that officer to pay, but must contain the words "after the amount has been realized from A. B."

NOTE.—The entry in the Register of Fines must be made at the time of the transaction, and not at the end of business.

* NOTE 2.—Compensation fines (including costs in criminal cases), when not paid on the spot in open Court, are dealt with as deposits [vide Rule 5 (a) and Note 2 to Rule 46 of this Chapter.] (Rule No. 3 of 20th September 1894.)

52. (a) In cases dealt with under the last rule, one copy of the Chalan shall be returned to the payer, duly endorsed with the certificate of the Court Inspector's transfer of the money, and the Payment order, duly receipted, shall be retained in the custody of the Court.

Amended by Rule No. 14 of 28th September, 1890.

(b) The remaining copy of the Chalan, with the Court Inspector's certificate endorsed thereon, shall be filed with the record of the case.

Courts near Treasuries.

53. In Courts situated within daily reach of a Treasury, the Accountant shall, after the close of business each day, make the proper entries in the Treasury Pass Book [Form No. (M) 14], showing in detail the sums received from and paid to the public in cash. The receipts shall be entered on the right-hand side, and are to consist of the sums entered in column 5 of the Register of Chalans [Form No. (M) 11] headed "Amount received in Court." The payments shall be entered on the left-hand side, and are to consist of the sums shown in column 5 of the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 13] headed "Amount cashed in Court."

NOTE.—The remittances to the Treasury at the close of each day, as well as the particulars of each payment to the public, must be entered in column 3 of the form of Pass-book No. (M) 14. To facilitate the calculation of the amount to be remitted to the Treasury at the close of each day's business, two lines are provided in the form, one to show the total of receipts and payments at the Court, and the other, the total for the day according to the receipt and payment sides. The receipts and payments at the Court being first entered and added up, the difference between the total of receipts and that of payments will, if the receipts exceed the payments, be entered on the left side as remittance to the Treasury, or, if the payments exceed the receipts on the right side as remittance from the Treasury. The total for the day will then be made up for both sides, which will agree together. The number of the Chalan or Payment Order, on the back of which the amount to be remitted to, or received from, the Treasury is noted, may be shown against the entry made below the total of payments or receipts, but the head of account need not be noted in the Pass-book against the entries, nor need the entries be initialled by the Treasury Officer.

Rule No. 8 of 24th July, 1881.

Amended in 1908.

54. Every Chalan and Payment Order for money received or paid at Court under heads (a) to (h) shall be shewn in detail in the Pass-book, and the head of account shall be noted against each, so as to enable the Treasury Officer to bring the transactions in detail upon his books and classify them correctly.

NOTE.—It is necessary to show in the Pass-Book the totals only of each Chalan and Payment Order. Each Chalan may contain any number of items, provided they belong to the same head of account.

Examination by Judge in charge.

55. The Judge in charge shall examine the accounts by comparing (1) the Registers of Chalans and Payment Orders (amounts received and paid in Court) with the Cashier's General Cash-book; (2) the Treasury Pass-book, with both; and (3) the balances shown in the Peremptory Cash-books, with those shown in the General Abstract Cash-book.

Daily Remittances.

Amended by Rule No. 15 of 6th November 1890. Rule No. 5 of 23rd March 1898, and Rule No. 11 of 20th December 1901. Further amended in 1917.

56. The balances of the cashier's accounts in respect of diet-money and other peremptory receipts should be observed every day in passing the general cash-book. To prevent excessive accumulations under this head, the Judge in charge shall fix amounts which the balances in the hands of the cashier on account of (i) witnesses' expenses and (ii) other items of peremptory receipts, respectively, shall not be permitted to exceed. Whenever the balance shown in either peremptory cash-book exceeds the maximum so fixed, the Judge in charge shall cause the excess to be transferred to civil deposit. Amounts so transferred shall be treated in the same manner as money received in Court, and shall be entered in detail in the cashier's general cash-book both on the credit and debit sides, and also on the credit side of the Peremptory Cash Register to which they belong. A single chalan in Form No. (M) 1 shall be prepared under Rule 31 by the Accountant and signed by the cashier for the sum so transferred, but this chalan need not specify in detail the individual receipts of which the sum transferred is composed. Columns 1, 2 and 3 of Part I of chalan will be left blank, in column 4 will be entered "witnesses' expenses" or "peremptory cash" as the case may be, and in column 6 will be entered "items Nos. in peremptory cash-book." Similar entries will be made in columns 3 and 4 of Register No. (M) 11—chalan register—and in columns 4 and 5 of Register No. (M) 15 (i) or 15 (ii) as the case may be. Should the money be subsequently required, it shall be withdrawn from the deposits in the manner described above and credited in the appropriate peremptory cash-book. If such sums remain in deposit for three years they must be carried to credit of Government under Rule 97, relating to Lapsed Deposits.

NOTE 1.—The oldest item or items not likely to be soon repaid should be transferred to deposits when transfers are effected under this Rule.

NOTE 2.—As District Magistrates do not maintain peremptory cash-books these withdrawals should be credited by them in their general cash-books. (Rule No 5 of 2nd May 1892).

Amended by G. O. No. 10 of 1919.

57. (a) Having initialled the accounts of the day and signed the cash-book, the Judge in charge shall send the pass-book to the Treasury,* together with the net amount in cash and a single chalan for the total receipts and all payment orders, separate chalans received from the parties being retained in the court. This remittance must be entered in the cash-book as a payment of the day upon which it is made.

NOTE.—As the Treasury does not keep a detailed record of the deposit receipts it will suffice if the gross receipts are communicated to it with a single chalan.

(b) It is important that this be done before the business of the new day commences, and the cashier should have in hand, after each such remittance, only the balance of the peremptory cash transactions and the other balances referred to in Rule 35.

NOTE.—The total of chalans of the day for money received in cash by the Court, minus the total of payment orders cashed at the Court, will represent the balance of cash to be remitted to the Treasury. The amount so remitted will be noted on the back of the last chalan entered in the pass-book [Form No. (M) 14] in order to avoid the separate chalan which otherwise would be required by the Treasury Officer.

Courts not near Treasuries.

58. At out-stations, the cash-book shall be balanced as prescribed above, and the balances, both that of the receipts and payments under heads (a) to (h) and that of peremptory transactions, shall be carried forward to the next day's account. The accounts shall be balanced, compared, and signed every day in the manner prescribed in Rule 55, save that instead of comparing the Treasury pass-book with the accounts, the Judge in charge shall see that the Court balances are brought forward, and shall, at least once a week, ascertain that the money is actually in possession of the cashier. Amended in 1908.

Periodical Remittances.

59. On the last day of the month, and from time to time, as occasion may arise (see Rule 31), the Treasury Pass-book shall be made up, showing all receipts and payments at the Court since the last remittance to the Treasury.* Its accuracy having been tested, it shall be forwarded to the Treasury with a single chalan for the total receipts and all payment orders, the separate chalans received from parties being retained in the Court. If the receipts have exceeded the payments the cash excess shall be sent to the Treasury, unless such excess does not amount to Rs. 25, in which case it may be remitted in the following month; if the contrary, the cash deficit shall be received from the Treasury; in either case the cashier will have, after the completion of the transaction, in addition to the balance of peremptory cash transactions, only the permanent advance allowed to the Court for carrying on its payments at a distance from the Treasury. Amended by Rule No. 16 of 27th November 1891 and by C. O. No. 10 of 1919.

* Or to a Branch Bank, vide note to Rule 61.

NOTE.—As the Treasury does not keep a detailed record of the deposit receipts it will suffice if the gross receipts are communicated to it with a single chalan.

Adjustment with Treasury.

60. The last day for remittance in each month must be so fixed that the final payment or receipt of money at the Treasury may come within the month's accounts at the Treasury or Sub-treasury (see rule 73) as otherwise the monthly accounts of the Judge in charge and those of the Treasury will not agree. Any transactions at the Court after this remittance is made, although shown under their proper dates, should be treated as if they belonged to the ensuing month's accounts registers and returns.

Rules regarding remittances.

61. It is the duty of the Judge in charge to see that money remitted from his Court actually reaches the Treasury, and is acknowledged by the Treasury Officer in the pass-book.

NOTE.—Where the Court remits to a branch Bank direct, the Agent of the Branch bank should acknowledge the receipt of the remittance in the pass-book. (H. C. Progs., February, 1893, No. 243.)

62. In making such remittances, the Police Rules as to sending an escort with the money must be duly observed.

63. During the absence on tour of subdivisional officers, and the consequent closing of their Treasuries, munsifs must be guided by the preceding rules applicable to officers at stations* where there are no Treasuries, and must make remittances of surplus cash, if necessary, to the District Treasury. They will take advantage of the periodical return of subdivisional officers to head-quarters to reduce the cash balances in their hands as much as possible, due regard being had to their probable requirements.

Treasury Advice List.

64. At the close of business each day, the Treasury Officer, whether Sadar or Subdivisional, shall prepare Advice Lists, in Form No. (M) 8, of all such chalans and payment orders of each Judge in charge as have been brought upon the Treasury accounts in the course of the day, and shall forward them to such Judges in charge respectively together with the Amended by rule No. 10 of 26th November, 1901.

chalans referred to in clause (b) of rule 28. In these lists shall be entered in detail such chalans and payment orders as have been received or paid at the Treasury or Sub-treasury in cash, while those brought into the Treasury account from the Pass-book (rule 57) shall be included in a single total on each side, with the description "As per your pass-book dated—."

NOTE.—If the District Magistrate's Court is close to the Treasury, so that the Magistrate's registers referred to in rule 66 can be sent daily to be compared and initialled by the Treasury Officer, this procedure may be adopted in lieu of the Daily Advice List, if found more convenient.

65. The list prepared at the Sadar Treasury for the District Judge shall include, besides the moneys received and paid on account of the Judge's own Court, those transactions also which belong to his subordinate Courts. These amounts, however, need not be entered in detail but may be included in a single total of receipts and of payments for each Court, including pass-book transactions brought into account.

Comparison by Judge.

66. On receipt of this Advice List, the Judge in charge shall cause the particulars of the chalans and payment orders shown in it to be compared with the details recorded in his Registers of Chalans and Payment Orders [Forms No. (M) 11 and No. (M) 13], and shall further cause the date of actual credit and payment, as certified by the Treasury Officer, to be entered in the column prescribed for that purpose.

67. These entries must be initialled by the Judge in charge when he checks the posting in the Deposit Registers, as prescribed in rule 69.

Separation of Petty Deposits.

68. Two Registers of Deposit Receipts shall be kept in Form No. (M) 15, and two of Deposit Repayments in Form No. (M) 16. One of these shall be termed the Register of A Deposits, and there shall be entered therein all deposits originally exceeding Rs. 5. The other shall be termed the Register of B Deposits, and there shall be entered therein all deposits not originally exceeding Rs. 5. Both registers shall be kept in the same form and shall be posted in the same manner, but with separate series of numbers (see next rule), distinguished by the initial letters A and B, respectively.

Posting.

69. As soon as the Treasury Advice List is received (rule 64), the Deposit Register will be posted in the following manner for the date to which it refers. In the first place, all cash transactions in Court on that date shall be posted, the receipts being copied from the Register of Chalans (column 5), and the payments from the Register of Payment Orders (column 5). Transactions at the Treasury shall then be written up from the Advice List, the entries in this list being compared with those in Registers No. (M) 11 and No. (M) 13.

NOTE.—The date of granting the payment order should be entered in the repayment column in that Register of Deposit Receipts, and the date of actual payment in column 4 of the Registers of Deposits Repaid.

Registers of Receipts.

70. All items of deposit in these registers must, as directed above, be numbered in an annual consecutive series of numbers commencing on 1st April, and ending with the last day of March in each official year. Only the first eight columns shall be filled in at first, the other columns being intended for the record of subsequent repayments.

Notes of Claims, etc.

71. As it is important that the Deposit Registers in the Accountant's department should set forth in respect of each item all information necessary in order to deal at once with applications to draw money, all attachments, processes, and transfer orders relating to decrees, and all orders as to the substitution of parties which affect decretal and other moneys in deposit shall be noted at the time in the Deposit Register. The Sarishtadar, or some other specified subordinate under his supervision, shall be made responsible for this duty.

NOTE.—Whether the Sarishtadar's responsibility is or is not to end with the communication to the Accountant or Accountant's muharrir is a matter left to the discretion of each Court, but some specific order should be recorded.

Registers of Repayments.

72. The Registers of Deposit Repayments [Form No (M) 16] shall be posted from the Treasury Advice List and the Payment Order Registers, as directed above.

Closing for the month.

73. (a) The Registers of Deposit Receipts and Deposit Repayments in Courts at a Sadar station shall be totalled and closed on the last day of each month upon which the Sadar Treasury remains open, and in subdivisional stations on the day on which the accounts of the subdivisional Treasury are finally closed for the month, in such a way that the period and the transactions included in the Court's books and returns may correspond exactly with those included in the Treasury books and returns.

(b) Care must be taken to make the final remittance to the treasury in such time that it may be entered in the accounts of the treasury for the month to which it belongs.

(c) In each of the Registers of Deposit receipts prescribed by rule 68, a plus and minus memorandum must be drawn up at the end of the month's entries in the following form:—

Balance of Deposits from last month
Received during the month, as per Register

	TOTAL	...
Repayment as per Register

Responsibility.

74. Every Judge is responsible for all payments of deposits made on his certificate or under his orders. In the case of receipts and payments of petty or B Deposits no detailed check is exercised over his proceedings, the accounts which he is required to render of these showing totals only. In the case of A Deposits, however, all sums received, and not paid out during the month in which they have been received, and the balance of such of these deposits as have been partly paid out, must be reported to the District Judge, and must be included in that officer's accounts, and in his return to the Accountant-General.

NOTE.—If the District Judge thinks it absolutely necessary, he may delegate the duty of passing Chalang to the chief ministerial officer of his Court, and place any of the officers subordinate to him in charge of accounts, in the same way as a Deputy Collector is placed in charge of a Treasury, but on the distinct understanding that the District Judge will not be relieved of the responsibility for the due accounting of all money received and paid. All returns will be signed by the District Judge.—(Accountant-General's No. 141A., dated 26th April, 1891.)

Daily return to Subordinate Court.

75. Every day, after the Treasury Advice has been received, and the Deposit and other Registers have been written up and checked with it, two statements showing the transactions of the date to which it refers shall be prepared by the Judge in charge and forwarded to the District Judge. The first of these statements [Form No. * * *] shall show the total amount of the entries in the Deposit Registers and the totals of all other transactions brought on the Registers (see rule 110). The second shall be an extract from Part I of the Register of Deposits Repaid [Form No. (M) 16], giving the particulars of repayments on account of deposits received during previous months. At the foot of the first statement the Judge in charge shall certify that his Registers of B Deposits are written up to date, and are in order.

NOTE 1.—It will be observed that these returns are intended to exhibit actual receipts and payments, and that they are therefore to be compiled from the Deposit Register, and not from the Registers of Chalang and Payment Orders.

NOTE 2.—The Subordinate Courts referred to in rules 74 and 75 are those which keep their own accounts and the accounts of other Courts as well—vide Rule 43.—(Accountant-General's No. 141-A., dated 20th April, 1881.)

NOTE 3.—The advices of the payments of deposits appertaining to the Subordinate Courts at the Sadar station should be issued from the District Judge's Court—(Accountant-General's No. 141-A., dated 26th April, 1881.)

NOTE 4.—The certificate referred to in this rule is not required from Small Cause Court Judges, as they are not subordinate to District Judges in the matter of accounts.—(Accountant-General's No. 270, dated 4th June.)

76. At out-stations some delay in submitting the daily returns is unavoidable, but this delay should not exceed the time necessary for the Treasury Advice List to reach the Court. The date on which the returns are actually signed should be noted on them by the Judge in charge.

Verification by Judge in charge.

77. At the time of signing the returns, the Judge in charge should have before him the Registers of Chalang and Payment Orders, the Registers of Receipts and Payments of Deposits, and the Treasury Advice List; and, after comparison, he should attest the entries in column 8 of Registers No. (M) 11 and No. (M) 13 by placing his initials in column 9, and the entries in the Registers of Deposit Receipts and Payments by placing his initials in columns 7 and 13, respectively.

Examination by District Judge.

78. The statements furnished by the Subordinate Court shall, when received in the District Judge's office, be compared with the corresponding Advice List supplied to him by the Treasury Officers, under rule 65. In the case of out-stations, the totals for the whole month supplied by the Judge in charge must agree with the totals for the whole month supplied by the Treasury Officer, if the rules regarding periodical remittances have been correctly followed. In the course of the month the former totals will ordinarily exceed the latter, and the difference must be taken to represent cash transactions advised by the Court, but not yet brought on the Treasury books. In the case of Courts near Treasuries no such discrepancies should occur if the rules are properly observed. When any such are noticed, immediate steps must be taken under the District Judge's orders, to reconcile them.

Judge's Register of Totals.

79. After examination, the totals of Deposits received and paid shall be posted into a Register to be kept by the District Judge in Form No. * * *. This Register contains two sets of columns, one set relating to A Deposits and the other to B Deposits. Separate portions of the Register for the month must be allotted to each Subordinate Court, that is, for each Subordinate Court a number of pages, according to the probable work, must be assigned in the leaves devoted to that particular month. The entries in respect of each Subordinate Court will thus come continuously and in order of date and they must be totalled at the end of the month.

80. In the portion of the Register which relates to B Deposits, a column has been provided for a daily balance which must be struck by adding together the preceding day's balance and receipts, and deducting the payments. The object of the daily balance is to afford the District Judge a ready means of controlling Subordinate Courts in the receipt and payment of small Deposits, as any excess of payments over receipts will be at once detected.

Posting repayments of A Deposits.

81. (a) Taking up next the detailed Daily Register of Deposits Repaid [Form No. (M) 16], the repayments must be posted against the corresponding entries in the Judge's Daily Register of Deposits received [Form No. (M) 15], and must be initialled by the District Judge, or, under his orders, by the chief ministerial officer of his Court, in the same manner as repayments authorized by himself. They must also, at the same time, be copied into his Register of Deposit Repayments [Form No. (M) 16].
(b) As each payment is noted in the Judge's Register, the district number (Rule 85) against which the payment is charged must be noted in the Subordinate Court's return.

NOTE.—In noting the repayments, care should be taken to see that the amounts thus reported as repaid are actually repayable, and that amounts which should be credited to Government are not repaid to individuals.

Monthly Return.

82. (a) At the end of the month there shall be furnished by the Subordinate Courts to the District Judge a statement of all A Deposits received, but not wholly repaid during the month. This statement will be an extract from the Register of Deposit Receipts [Form No. (M) 15], omitting the items which have been wholly repaid during the same month. Of Deposits received and partially repaid in the same month the unpaid balance only is to be shown in this statement. The dates of despatch from the Subordinate Court and of receipt by the District Court shall be noted on this statement.

Explanation.—An A Deposit, the balance of which has been reduced below Rs. 5 by a payment made in the same month, is to be included among the A, and not among the B Deposits.

(b) On the 31st March of each year the Subordinate Courts shall, in addition submit to the District Court a certificate that all uncashed orders to be cancelled under rule 44(c) have been marked off in their Registers.

Plus and minus Memorandum.

83. There shall be appended to the monthly statement of Deposit receipts a plus and minus memorandum in the following form :—

Rule No. 4 of 193, (Civil).

		Rs. a. p.

CERTIFICATE.

Certified that, on a comparison of Treasury Advances with postings therefrom in the Registers of Chalcans, of Payment Orders, of Deposit Receipts, and of Repayments the amounts entered above as received and paid are correct.

NOTE I.—The repayments of B Deposits received in the year of account, and in the year next preceding, should be shown separately.

Examination by District Judge.

84. On receipt of the monthly statement and the plus and minus memorandum, the Register [Form No.] shall be compared therewith. First, as regards A Deposits, the total of the column headed "Repaid on account of current month" should agree with the amount shown in the the plus and minus memorandum; and when this amount is deducted from the total of the column headed "Total amount received," the balance ought to agree exactly with the total of the Statement of outstanding A Deposits received from the Court to which the figures relate. Second, as regards B Deposits, the balance itself can be tested in detail only once a year, when the yearly statement under rule 94 is received; but every month the difference between the opening and the closing balance should be equal to the difference between the receipts and payments reported in the plus and minus memorandum.

Posting Receipts of A Deposits.

use No. 12 of 1st
and 1885.

85 The Subordinate Courts' monthly detailed statement of A Deposits received shall be attached by the District Judge to his own Register of Deposits received, after he has closed the accounts of the Civil Courts at the Sadar station. The District Judge will also number the deposits in the Subordinate Courts' return in continuation of his own series.

NOTE.—The Judge should examine the receipts, so as to see that no item has been improperly held in deposit, and if he finds amounts so held which should be credited to Government, he should direct the Subordinate Court accordingly.

86. The District Judge's Registers of Deposits exceeding Rs. 5 received and repaid thus include each month not only those of his own Court, but also of all Subordinate Courts, excepting only the sums received and repaid in such Courts during the same month.

SECTION VIII.—DISTRICT MONTHLY RETURNS OF DEPOSITS.

			RULES.
Deposits received	...	87	Plus and minus memorandum
Deposits repaid	...	88	89

Returns of Deposits Received.

amended by Rule
No. 2 of 24th
January 1902

87. On the 12th of each month an Extract Register of Deposit Receipts exceeding Rs. 5 shall be prepared by the District Judge in Form No. (M) 10, and forwarded to the Treasury Officer for transmission, after a comparison with his cash accounts, to the Accountant-General. This Extract Register will be a copy of the entries made during the month in his Register [Form No. (M) 15] and will contain all such items of more than Rs. 5 each as were deposited in his own Court and in Courts subordinate to him, omitting all those which were wholly repaid during the month, and showing, in the case of those partially repaid during the month, the unpaid balance only. The Sadar Court entries should appear first, then,—after a line or break,—the entries of each Subordinate Court separately headed by the name of the Subordinate Court. At the foot of this Register, deposits received and repaid during the month and deposits received for sums of Rs. 5 each and less, are to be shown in separate totals for each Court without details. This Extract Register should be despatched punctually on the 12th of the month, unless in the case of the larger districts a later date is fixed. The whole of the entries for each Court should be consecutive and separated from those of the other Courts by a space and heading.

Returns of Deposits Repaid.

88. A monthly extract from his Register of Deposit Payments [Form No. (M) 16] of sums above Rs 5 shall be forwarded in the same form by the Judge to the Treasury Officer for transmission, after comparison with his lists of payments, to the Accountant-General. The District Judge shall include in this extract (1) the details of repayments on account of deposits of previous months, whether made in his own Court or entered by him from the statements of Subordinate Courts (rule 81); (2) a single total for each Court of the repayments of the current month's deposits, whether made at the District or Subordinate Courts, which must agree with the total of receipts on the same account; (3) the totals for each Court of the repayments on account of deposits of Rs. 5 and less received during the year of account and the year next preceding.

Amended by Rules No. 4 of 11th August 1898, and No 2 of 24th January 1902.

Like the Extract Register of Receipts, this return will keep each Court's entries in separate series. The extract will be prepared on the same printed form as the Register, and should be posted as shown below:—

Plus and Minus Memorandum.

89. (a) A plus and minus memorandum in the form prescribed in rule 83, but including the figures of the Subordinate Courts, as well as those of the District Judge's own Court, shall be appended to the Statement of Deposit Receipts.

(b) This plus and minus memorandum is to show as repayments the actual repayments at the Treasury and is further to show the Treasury balance outstanding.

NOTE.—It will be found convenient to keep, in a separate register a copy of this plus and minus memorandum, with further memoranda of the details from which the figures have been arrived at. It is important that there should be no difficulty at any time in reconciling the figures of the Court with those of the Treasury.

SECTION IX.—ANNUAL CLEARANCE REGISTER OF DEPOSITS.¹

(Rules 90—96.)

		RULES.		RULES.
Clearance Register	...	90, 91	District Judge	93
Subordinate Courts	...	92	Verification of Petty Deposit Balance	94—96

Clearance Register.

90. (a) At the end of each year the Registers of A Deposits received in the next preceding year shall be closed by transcribing into the last column, headed "Transferred to Clearance Register," every balance which exceeds Rs. 5. An annual Clearance Register shall then be drawn up in Form No. (M) 17 these balances against their original numbers—showing, in other words, all the unpaid balances of A Deposits of the preceding account year next but one. For example, the Clearance Register of April 1923 will show all unpaid balances of A Deposits received in 1921-22.

(b) Of balances which do not exceed Rs. 5, a separate list shall be made out under rule 97 below.

91. The items in this account having been carefully compared with the corresponding balances in the original Register of Deposits received [Form No. (M) 15], the last-named document shall be laid aside, and future repayments recorded only in the Clearance Register.

NOTE.— If against any of the items transferred to the Clearance Register, a repayment order has been issued and cancelled under rule 44 (c), a note to that effect must be made in the Clearance Register, so that, if application for repayment is again made, an order may not be issued without recalling the original cancelled one.

Return by Subordinate Courts.

92. A copy of the Clearance Register shall be sent by the Subordinate Courts to the District Judge, and by him carefully compared with the entries in his Register of Receipts. Any discrepancies found must be investigated and corrected.

Return by District Judge.

93. The Clearance Register of the District Judge necessarily includes the items in the several Clearance Registers of the Subordinate Courts, and a copy of it shall be sent to the Accountant-General. The due date for its despatch shall be the 30th April, by which time the Judge should have received and compared the Clearance Registers of his Subordinate Courts.

Verification of petty Deposit Balance.

94. In order to verify the Balance of B Deposits, each Court shall make a list of the unpaid balances of receipts of the past twelve months, and, by actual summation of these balances, find the total amount outstanding on account of the past year's deposits. Each Court is required to submit, along with the Clearance Register of A Deposits, a certificate that the balance of B Deposits of the past year has been found by actual summation to be Rs.

95. The balance found under the last rule, together with the total of the list prepared under rule 97 (2), must equal the total balance of petty deposits on March 31st, and must be so verified—

- (1) by each Court with the forward balance in the plus and minus memorandum;
- (2) by the District Judge with the balances of the Subordinate Court brought forward in the Register No. * * *

96. The District Judge, having verified the balance certificates of the Subordinate Courts, shall endorse each with the certificate "Examined and found correct," and shall certify the fact of having done so upon the Statements of Lapsed Deposits sent to the Accountant-General under rule 98.

¹The words "Clearance Register," wherever they occur in these rules, were substituted for the original words "Account Particulars" by H. C. Progn., February 1893, No. 407, Civil.

X.—LAPSE OF DEPOSITS.

(Rules 97—101).

RULES.				RULES.
Lapse of Deposits	97	Correction of balance	99
Statements	98	Refunds	100, 101

Lapse of Deposits.

97. On 31st March of each year, the following unpaid balances of Deposits lapse to Government, and are to be so written off in the Clearance Register and Registers of Receipts, respectively :—

- (1) of A Deposits, first, all balances of Deposits of the last account year but one which do not exceed Rs. 5, and are therefore not carried forward under rule 90 into the Clearance Register; these balances should be marked "Lapsed" in the Register of Receipts: secondly, all balances of Deposits outstanding over three complete years,—that is, all balances in the Clearance Register prepared two years before; these are to be marked off in the last column of the Clearance Register;
- (2) of B Deposits, the balances of all Deposits outstanding over one complete year,—that is, the balances which, in the case of deposits over Rs. 5, are transferred to Clearance Register under rule 90; these are to be marked off in the last column of the Registers of Receipts.

Example.—The balances which lapse on 31st March 1922 are—

- (a) all balances not exceeding Rs. 5 of A Deposits received in 1920-21.
- (b) all balances of A Deposits received in 1818-19.
- (c) all balances of B Deposits received in 1920-21.

Statements of Lapsed Deposits.

98. (a) Three statements of the balances to be written off shall be prepared in Form No. (M) 9, one for each of the three classes (a), (b) and (c), specified in the Example under rule 97. These statements shall be submitted along with the Clearance Register. Those of the Subordinate Court must be compared by the District Judge with his own Registers, and discrepancies, if found, must be reconciled. Those of the District Judge must include, under the District Judge's numbers, the lapsed balances of A Deposits of the Subordinate Courts.

(b) As regards B Deposits, the statements received from the Subordinate Courts must be copied into the District Judge's statement, with a separate total for each Court, the originals being filed for future reference.

NOTE.—The note under rule 91 applies to these Statements of Lapsed Deposits also.

Correction of Balance.

99. These statements must all be submitted during April, and the totals thereof must be deducted by a separate entry from the plus and minus memorandum, drawn up at the end of April so that the plus and minus memorandum may show only the balance actually outstanding upon the Registers of the Court concerned.

Refund of Lapsed Deposits.

100. When payment of a Deposit lapsed under rule 94 is required by a person entitled thereto, application shall be made through the District Judge, who shall examine the claim, and, if he find it correct, shall forward an application in Form No. (M) 3 to the Accountant-General. Several deposit numbers may be included in a single application, if they are payable to the same person. The Accountant-General's letter of authority, when received, shall be noted against the items in the Clearance Register (or original Register in the case of B Deposits), so as to prevent a second application

This letter shall then be passed for payment at the Treasury, as prescribed in the Form. No other records of these refunds is necessary; and such payments are not to be shown in the plus and minus memorandum.

101. If the letter of authority received from the Accountant-General is not claimed by the payee within twelve months from the date thereof, it shall be returned to the office of origin.

SECTION XI.—SUPPLEMENTARY RULES AS TO RECEIPTS UNDER HEADS (b) TO (h) OF RULE 5.

(Rules 102—111).

			RULES.			RULES.
Fines	102, 103	Receipts under heads (c) to (h)	...	106—109
Registers	104	Control of Subordinate Courts	...	110
Credits to Government	105	Monthly Return	...	111

NOTE.—For rules as to refunds under heads (b) to (h) of rule 5, see rules 46 to 48.

Fines under head (b) of rule 5.

102. The procedure for Magistrates' Courts, in respect of the realization of fines, is prescribed by the orders of the Bengal Government published in 1896 and produced in Appendices IV and VI annexed to these rules. The rules of the Account Code, which prescribe a monthly statement to be sent by subordinate Magistrates to the District Magistrate and by the District Magistrate to the Accountant-General, are reproduced in Appendix VII.

NOTE.—The monthly statement should continue to be sent in the form now in use. (Accountant-General's No. 122A., dated the 22nd April 1881.)

103. When a fine is paid into a Civil Court, the receipt shall be dealt with under the next following rule.

Registers.

104. Every Judge in charge shall maintain (1) a Register of Judicial Fines in Form No.  (2) a Register of Stamp Duty and Penalties Form No. (M) 18, (3) a Register of the Refund of the value of Court-fee Stamps in Form No. (M) 19; and (4) a Register of Miscellaneous Receipts in Form No. (M) 20. In the first, second, and fourth of these Registers, all receipts are to be posted which do not come under head (a) (Deposits) or head (i) (Peremptory Receipts) of rule 5. The entries shall be made and checked in the same way as the entries in the Register of Deposit Receipts of the Subordinate Courts.

NOTE.—It is not necessary to maintain in Magistrates' Courts the Fine Register here prescribed, as another register is prescribed by the order referred to in rule 102.

Credits to Government.

105. It is the duty of every Judge to see that sums which are in deposit, but which under any rule or law are forfeited, or become the property of Government (e.g., earnest-money forfeited, or intestate property unclaimed), are duly credited to Government. In every such case there shall be prepared simultaneously (1) a Payment Order addressed to the Cashier and directing payment of the deposit "by transfer as per Chalan No. of this date," and (2) a Chalan crediting it to the proper head. Such Payment Order and Chalan shall be registered and dealt with in every way as if cash were paid out of and received into Court.

Receipts under heads (c) to (h) of rule 5.

106. With regard to stamp duty and penalties, attention should be given to sections 39, 45, and the other sections in Chapter IV of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. The duty and the penalty must always be separately credited.

107. With regard to unclaimed property of intestates or others, it will be seen from the form that Register No. (M) 20 deals only with receipts under this head which have remained in deposit for the prescribed period. A register showing the property in detail must be kept in Civil Courts in form No. * * * and in Criminal Courts in the form prescribed in the rules for Court Inspectors.

NOTE 1.—Any cash belonging to an intestate's estate which may be received in Court from whatever source derived, must be paid into the Treasury at once, and no such cash must be allowed to remain in the hands of the Nazir. G. O. No. 11 of 6th March 1878.

NOTE 2.—On the receipt of unclaimed property of persons dying intestate, the Nazir must make the requisite entries in the Register in Form No (M) * * * and these entries must be compared with the Police Chalan by the Sarihtadar and the Accountant. If cash forms part of the property or if part of the property, being perishable, is sold before the expiry of the year prescribed by law, such cash or sale-proceeds must, after entry in the Register just mentioned, be put in deposit till the time arrives for paying them over to claimants or crediting them to Government.

NOTE 3.—When any property in the custody of the Court is sold, the sale account must invariably be checked with the Register by the Sarihtadar and the Accountant, and the Judge must, from time to time, test the work of his subordinates by personally examining the sale accounts, in some cases taken at random.

NOTE 4.—The Judge should pay the expense of conveying intestate property to the sadar station from his Permanent Advance, and charge the same in his Contingent Bill, subject to reimbursement from the eventual proceeds of the sale of the property, or, in cases where a claim to heirship is established, either by payment by the heir before the property is delivered to him, or by the sale of such portion of the property as may cover the expense. G. O. No. 128 of 16th May 1881.

108. Under head (e) (Other general fees, fines and forfeitures) of rule 5 shall be comprised all receipts not falling within any of the other principal heads of receipts, e.g., forfeiture of earnest money. Amended in 1908.

109. Receipts under the head of account, mentioned in rule 108, are at once credited at the Treasury to Government. They are not to be retained immediately in deposit either at the Court or at the Treasury.

Control of Subordinate Courts.

110. The receipts of Subordinate Courts under heads (b) to (h) of rule 5 are included in the Daily Statement sent to the District Judge under rule 75, and are also included in the Daily Advice from the Treasury received by the District Judge under rule 65. The Judge must effect a comparison between these two, and see that in each month the total amount advised as paid into the Treasury agrees with the total amount realised by the Subordinate Courts.

Monthly Returns.

111. At the close of the month, every Judge in charge shall prepare Lists in Forms Nos. (M) 18 and (M) 20, of all the receipts, forfeitures or duty, under heads (b) to (h) of Rule 5, paid by him into the Treasury. Subordinate Courts shall forward their Lists in duplicate to the District Judge, and the District Judge shall add the totals of these Lists at the foot of his own List, and, appending one of the copies received by him from each Subordinate Court, shall forward the whole to the Accountant-General for check against the Treasury Accounts.

NOTE.—So far as regards fines in Magistrates' Courts, this is done under a separate set of rules.

SECTION XII.—MISCELLANEOUS RULES.

[Rules 112—115.]

RULES.			RULES.
Accountant and Cashier	... 112	Forms	... 114
Language of Accounts	... 113	Daily Examination of Accounts	... 115

Accountant and Cashier.

112. In carrying out these rules, care must be taken by all Judicial Officers that in respect of cash transactions in Court, distinct officers are employed as Accountant and Cashier. In other words, the same officer shall not keep the Registers of Chalans and Payment Orders, Deposit Registers, etc., and also receive and pay the money.

NOTE.—In District Magistrates' Courts, the Registers should, under the orders of the Local Government, be maintained by the District Magistrate's staff and not by the Court Sub Inspector (Rule No. 5 of 2nd June 1892).

Language of Accounts.

Modified 1910.

113. Every Judicial officer shall, save with the express permission of the Sessions Judge or the District Magistrate, as the case may be, keep his accounts in English; and it must be distinctly recorded by him whether the Sarishtadar or Superintendent is, or is not, responsible for a general control and supervision over the Accountant.

Forms.

Modified 1910

114. The whole of the necessary forms and account books are to be obtained through the Forms Department, and each Court is responsible for maintaining a proper printed stock of all the forms herein prescribed, and for submitting timely indents according to the rules in force from time to time. Should there be any offices in which the accounts are not kept in English, the necessary forms for use therein shall be printed in biglot form, and be provided with headings in English and the Vernacular. Manuscript forms are prohibited.

G. L. No. 7 of 6th
August, 1896

NOTE.—All Account Books should be paged before they are brought into use.

Daily Examination of Accounts

115. The Accounts and Registers, of which a list is given in Appendices I and II annexed to these rules, must be compared daily by the Judge in charge; and this rule is on no account to be neglected, as its observance is essential to the integrity of the transactions and the correctness of the books. The notes at foot of the forms indicate how the verification is to be made.
